10 COOKIECUTTER SHARK

The cookiecutter shark will bite anything it mistakes for whale blubber, even parts of submarines! Its bite leaves a hole, like a cookiecutter.

PELICANS COLORING

CREATURE REPORT

Pelicans:

- ✿ Pelicans have large pouches on their throats that they use to scoop up fish.
- ✿ Some pelican species are famous for "plunge feeding": diving into the water from the air after their prey.

✿ Pelicans, like other seabirds, will sometimes mistake bits of floating plastic for food, which is detrimental to their health.

- ✿ Things like beach toys, plastic cutlery, bottle tops and six-pack wrappers can hurt marine wildlife.
- ✿ We can help ocean animals by choosing items, like reusable bags and water bottles instead of disposable plastic ones.

76 HAMMERHEAD SHARK

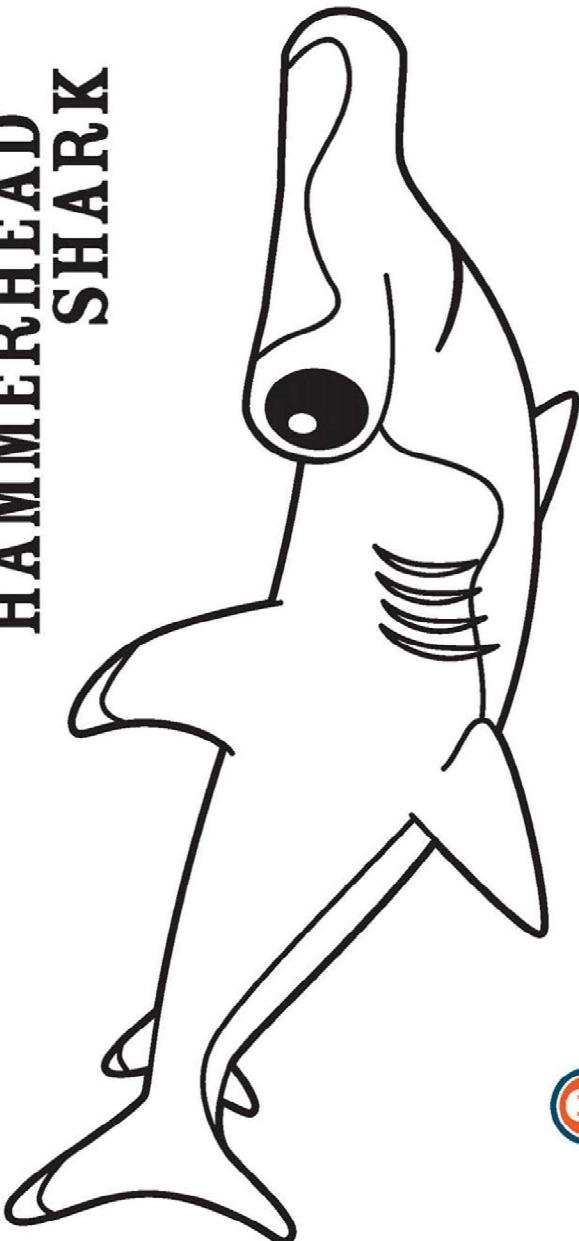

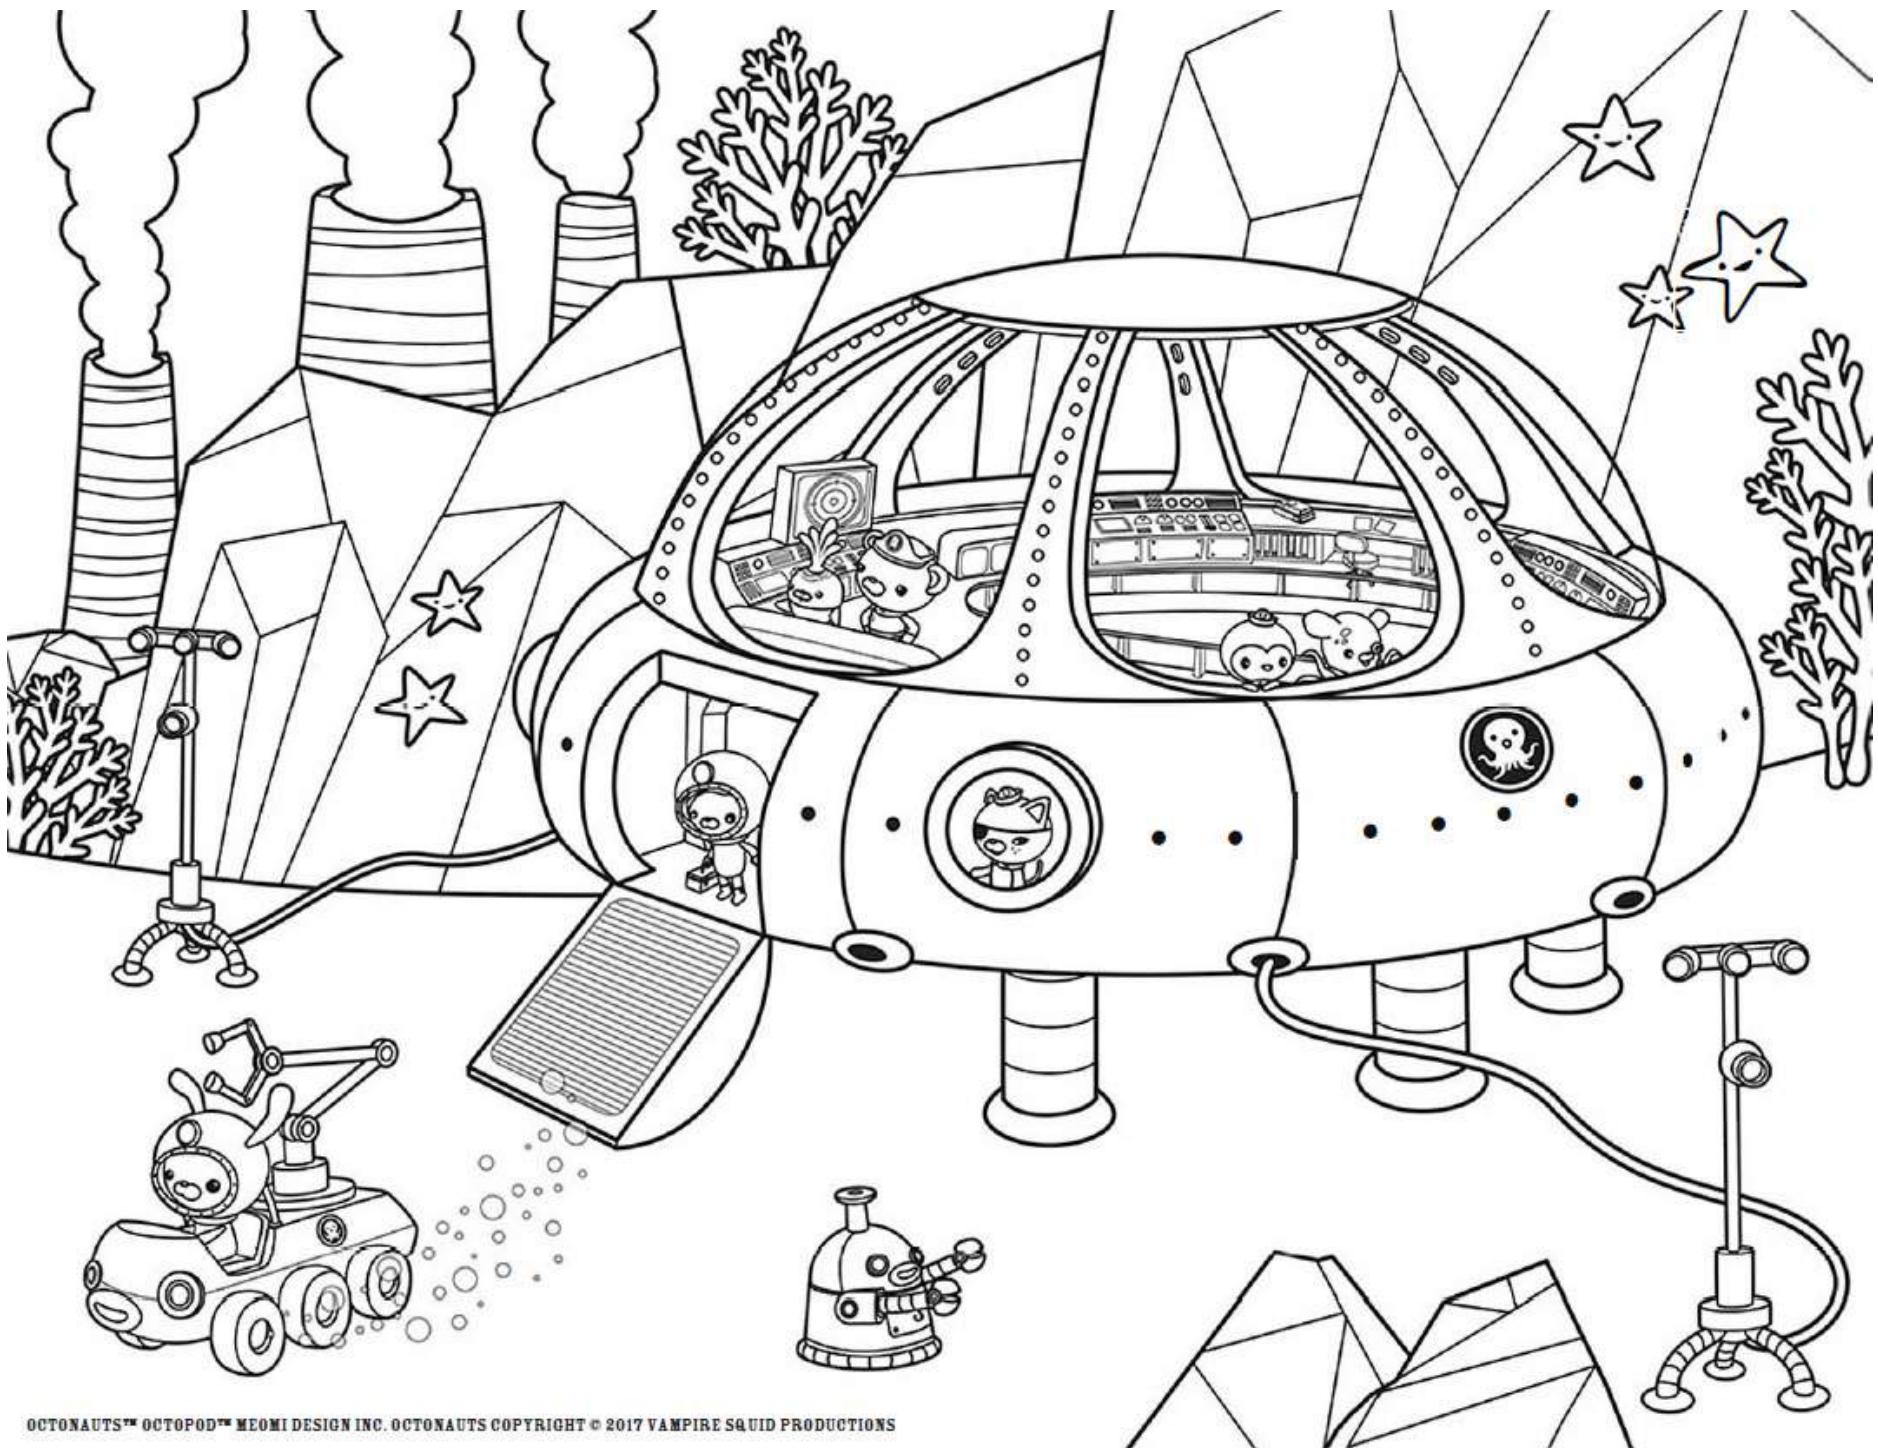

Hammerhead sharks take care of themselves from the time they are young pups.

They form schools to look after each other until they're old enough to go out on their own.
