OVERVIEW

2023 marks the 20th anniversary of Switchfoot's seminal album, The Beautiful Letdown. The triple-platinum record included the chart topping hits, Meant To Live & Dare You To Move, and changed the lives of the band members and a generation the world over. The underdog success story of The Beautiful Letdown exemplifies Switchfoot's iconoclast, grassroots approach- defying the odds of major labels and mainstream media. In fact, just before the album was released, Switchfoot was dropped from Columbia Records. It was only after millions of albums had been sold that the label was forced to support the band that had proved them wrong. To celebrate 20 years of the The Beautiful Letdown, Switchfoot is releasing "their version", a new re-recorded edition of the album, on both CD and LP. The vinyl comes in a deluxe triple gatefold package, including a fold-out poster, available on a variety of vinyl colors.

FEAR FACTORY

"It's classic FEAR FACTORY sound, the sound that fans have always expected, but I think because we are taking our time, the songs are really well crafted... without losing the edge or the angst, without losing the essence of Fear Factory."
— Burton C. Bell (vocalist)

Recorded in part at NRG Studios in North Hollywood, CA with longtime collaborator Rhys Fulber (FRONTLINE ASSEMBLY, DELERIUM) and Mike Plotnikoff (RED, KELLY CLARKSON), Fear Factory's 9th studio album is entitled "Genexus". Mixed by the legendary Andy Sneap (EXODUS, TESTAMENT, MACHINE HEAD), "Genexus" is the band's debut on Nuclear Blast and a powerful return to form for one of the originators of "cyber-metal".

When it was first released in 2015 "Genexus" debuted at #37 on the Billboard Top 200 chart

LARRY FLEET EARNED IT

About The Artist:

Tennessee-born troubadour Larry Fleet grew up on a stack of records spanning Merle Haggard, Otis Redding, Willie Nelson, and Marvin Gaye. A thoughtful songwriter with a knack for a one-liner, an ear for a sturdy hook, and a powerhouse voice that strikes like a match, Fleet was working blue-collar jobs to make ends meet long before landing his recording contract with Big Loud Records. Six years in, the devout family man is turning heads among fans and critics with albums full of soon-to-be-classics; 2021's tribute to the music that raised him, Stack of Records, his aptly titled 2019 debut, Workin' Hard, and his to-be-released third effort, Earned It, out September 1. Saving Country Music puts it simply: "If you're looking for the future of traditional country music, then look no further than...Larry Fleet." A road-tested live show standout, Fleet wrapped 2022 with his first-ever headline One For The Road Tour, following up crowd-winning opening slots supporting Darius Rucker, Willie Nelson, Jamey Johnson, Jon Pardi, and many more. He just extended his current headlining run, Larry Fleet Live, including a sold-out night at Nashville's Ryman Auditorium, and will open dates for Parker McCollum all summer long.

"One of the brightest rising stars in the business right now"

AUTUMN CROSSING

About the EP

Autumn Crossing, the newest release from Goose, is a three-song EP that showcases the band's incredible creative synergy, technical proficiency, and spellbinding vocals. The project is an auditory peregrination through the ups and downs of life. A testament to Goose's continued evolution, the work wanders through pensive optimism on "Travelers I" and epic instrumentation on "Travelers II," arriving at an epic conclusion, "Elmeg the Wise."

With Autumn Crossing, Goose continues to push the boundaries of their creative output, with a work that speaks to the mind, body, and spirit. Available digitally everywhere, and on 180g limited edition etched vinyl.

OVERVIEW

"Give me something sweet so I can make it through the week/Don't care if I end up with cavities." This is the plea that opens Sweet Tooth, the upcoming third LP from Berkeley's Mom Jeans. It's the introduction to a quasi-concept record, a structural departure for the emo punk quartet. Before any of the record's 13 songs had been written and recorded, the band knew what Sweet Tooth would sound like: late '90s and early 2000s pop rock and pop punk bliss. The result of this expedition into the Golden Age of snotty pop punk and cheeky radio rock is a 13-track hit of musical ecstasy, crammed with delicious guitar crunch and infectious melodies beneath boyish romance, teen-to-young adult angst, and gleeful abandon.

KEY SELLING POINTS

Sweet Tooth is the most recent full-length release from popular alt rock / pop punk band Mom Jeans.

The album has been widely popular amongst Mom Jeans. fans - digitally almost every track has 1M+ streams, with focus track "What's Up?" surpassing 14M streams

You don't hear MONO INC., you feel MONO INC. with all your senses - and that's best LIVE! That's why the quartet around mastermind Martin Engler recorded their concert in the legendary Sporthalle in Hamburg, which they gave as part of their „The Book Of Fire 2022 Tour“. On 24th November 2023 this unforgettable concert experience will finally be released.

„Live in Hamburg“ is a true firework of emotions. MONO INC. transformed the Sporthalle into a witches' cauldron within seconds with their incomparable dark rock, massive pyro effects and an elaborate light show in May 2022. Evergreens like „Gothic Queen“, „Children of the Dark“ and „Voices of Doom“ were sung along fervently by the fans, fan favorites like „Louder Than Hell“, „Boatman“ and „Symphony of Pain“ were celebrated frenetically. At the latest when the band sang the very moving „An klaren Tagen“ in an intimate acoustic setting, one or two tears flowed down the cheeks of most fans. What a rollercoaster of emotions MONO INC. sent their „ravens“, as they affectionately call their followers, on there.

If you want to get this unique live experience home, you can pre-order „Live in Hamburg“ now as a mediabook (consisting of 2 CDs and a DVD).

OVERVIEW

When Nashville-based singer-songwriter Mali Velasquez traded her Texas panhandle home for the verdant foothills of Tennessee, she did so with a newfound perspective that mirrored her environment, culminating in the lushly raw edge of her folk-rooted indie rock. Wistfully openhearted and incisive, Velasquez tips the fulcrum between reflection and remedy with melody-forward uncton and lyrical tenderness. Her forthcoming debut, I'm Green, is a perennial introspection into the wild animal of young adulthood and the renewing realization that the person we're most often seeking permission from, crucially, is ourselves. Her outward frustrations often turn inward as a mirror and as a chance to reflect on her longest relationship to date: the relationship she has with herself. I'm Green is the result of these reflections becoming meditations on the transformative power of both loss and shame and what emerges when we allow ourselves to surrender to their potential.

With their fifteenth full-length “The Nature Out There”, KINIT HER have reached a culminating and breath-taking height in their organic growth. Transcending all artificial limitations such as genre or instrumentation, the symbolist post-folk collective present a beautiful kaleidoscope of bursting musical colours and spiritual journeys into the wonders of nature with lush soundscapes that amazes and thrills with every note. Ever since their founding in the heart of Wisconsin in 2005 by vocalist and man of strings Troy Schafer and electronic sound designer and lyricist Nathaniel Ritter, KINIT HER have been relentlessly pushing to expand the aesthetic and stylistic range of neofolk into unique new shapes under the banner of what the band calls “symbolist post-folk music”. Channeling such diverse influences as neoclassical, early music, folk, industrial, avant-garde rock, black metal, ambient, pop, and many others, KINIT HER have sounded organic tone-mantras from shofar horns, bent sweetened notes on beaten guitars, intoned harmonised enumeration of spells and dreams, and backed it all by string and brass arrangements, acoustic ephemera, and twinkling electronic sound designs. KINIT HER emerge from a heavenly vault of related projects and shared collaborations of contributors as one of the brightest stars in this celestial sound constellation. “The Nature Out There” is the guiding light for a generation of folk and neofolk related music trying to reach new sonic dimensions.

B. Cool-Aid Leather Blvd.

Welcome to Leather Blvd. A Black utopia conceived by B. Cool-Aid—the duo of vocalist Pink Siifu and producer Ahwlee—populated by an ensemble cast of characters and collaborators, including Ladybug Mecca (Digable Planets), Big Rube (Dungeon Family), Fousheé, Mndsgn, Quelle Chris, Denmark Vessey & Liv.e, with extensive instrumentation by DJ Harrison and Butcher Brown.

Picture Black co-op-owned beauty shops, health food stores, weed spots, nightclubs, bookstores, bars, etc., on either side of a wide and impossibly long street. Now picture people of every size and shape and shade of brown hustling and bustling up and down the street, just living their lives. There is such a place, even if it's not technically real.

Pink Siifu linked up with LA-based producer Ahwlee to release BRWN, their debut project as B. Cool-Aid, in 2017. He's previously collaborated with The Avalanches, Kenny Beats & Madlib, and seen praise on his solo projects from Pitchfork (Best Rap Albums of 2018), the New York Times & FADER, who named him "one of the most intriguing musicians in Black music". He's toured with BADBADNOTGOOD & Freddie Gibbs.

COTTON JONES

THE RIVER STRUMMING

The American singer-songwriter tradition has always been tethered to a rustic austerity, the sort of front-porch authenticity that suggests an age where home electronics are still considered luxury items. But there's also the ongoing influence of Bob Dylan and The Band's Basement Tapes—that strange and beloved document of the magic that happens when private experiments with the folk template flourish into layered and lush songs—and its genesis through informal recording sessions. In our modern age, these kinds of casual DIY constructions are perhaps the more honest contribution to the Americana lineage—the true homespun artform.

When Michael Nau and Whitney McGraw struck out on their own in the wake of the dissolution of their beloved indie-folk outfit Page France, they continued their songwriting practice with a new project called Cotton Jones Basket Ride. As legend has it, Nau and McGraw were working on the material for their debut full-length Paranoid Cocoon (2009) when they realized they had an entire album's worth of odds-and-ends from various recording sessions. The resultant album—The River Strumming—was released in 2008 on St. Ives in a batch of 300 unique hand-packaged LPs. As the label advertised it back in the day, the band "initially set out to make a cohesive record, and made just the opposite." Like The Basement Tapes, The River Strumming is a document of a band exploring possibilities without the weight of expectation. The band would eventually condense their name to Cotton Jones and make a name for themselves in the indie world for their fusion of dreamy folk and psychedelic baroque pop. But in the beginning, there was this weird and wonderful collection of songs made by musicians who were enjoying the private process of finding their path.

Suicide Squeeze is proud to present a 15th-anniversary vinyl reissue of this long out-of-print classic with updated artwork by Kayleigh Montgomery-Morris.

Benét Can I go again?

Catalog Number: BR-053 release date: 12/15/23 genre: Indie Pop
formats: COLOR VINYL, CASSETTE, CD hometown: Richmond, VA

recommended if you like: Estelle, Mamalarkey, Crumb, Men I Trust, Faye Webster, Clairo, Taphari, Childish Major, Samia, McKinley Dixon, Arlo Parks, Anjimile press quotes selling points:

"Benét does a great job of using the instrumentals in their music to better capture the feeling they want to convey." - Flood Mag

'Can I go again?', the debut full-length album by Richmond, VA-based singer-songwriter Benét (Benét Nutall, pronouns He/Him) is a diverse collection of contemplative, tightly-crafted indie-pop, rock, and soul tracks as emotionally resonant as they are immediate and infectious. These tracks are equally worthy of processing heart break, gaming with your friends, or finding strength in solitude—growth in time requires an embrace of seriousness as well as unbridled, shameless joy.

Benét's debut EP, 'Game Over' (2021), was an honest effort at self-reflection through electronic dance and disco atmospheres—the titular question of his debut album serves as a reset on the arcade game with more knowledge, maturity, and assurance as Benét moves into more organic instrumental accompaniment and refined songwriting. The ebullient and sharp guitar riffs and driving bassline of "Insensitive" lift Benét's vocals as they sing about feelings of nervousness, desire, and ultimately overcoming both with assuredness. Benét gets to flaunt satisfying personal growth in "Overpowering" over a smooth bassline and strutting beat. "No Alarm" offers another look at Benét's lyrical vulnerability, moving back and forth between self-consciousness in the verses and a shimmering string emphasized certainty in the chorus.

Benét's music has always been influenced by the environments around him and the people who he chooses to create with. The album is a result of roughly three years of writing and recording at various times with different groups of friends and musical partners—in Richmond, VA with Jacob Grissom, Christian Lewis, Neal Perrine, and John Trainum, in Philadelphia with Kyle Pulley and Danny Murillo, and in New York with Carlos Truly.

'Can I go again?' is about taking and recognizing time, growing deliberately, and expressing delight and nervousness with confidence. Benét uses Can I go again? to work through his own place amidst inspiring, confusing, difficult, and beautiful human connectivity and present these unforgettable, catchy, emotional songs with the hope the audience can listen and do the same.

Ben Edwards, better known by his pseudonym Benge, has been exploring the sonic possibilities of electronic instruments since he was a young boy, in the 1970s. After graduating from art school in 1990 he set up his own music studio and started recording his unique blend of experimental electronica, culminating in his debut album "Electro-Organic Music" and the formation of Expanding Records in 1995. Since then he has released dozens of albums as Benge, as well as collaborating with various luminaries from the electronic music world on many other album projects. He has formed several notable and ongoing bands such as John Foxx & The Maths, Wrangler (with Stephen Mallinder / Cabaret Voltaire and Phil Winter / Tunng), Fader (with Neil Arthur / Blancmange), and his most recent project Creep Show (Wrangler + John Grant). Benge's creative output now centres around his Memetune Studio Complex, located in one of the UK's remotest moorland locations, writing and producing his various music projects as well as making video art and TV programmes about his activities.

"The View From Vega", his debut solo album on the DiN imprint, is primarily an ambient suite of tracks inspired by the space-music typically produced in the late 1970s and early 1980s. It uses a selection of vintage synthesizers, sequencers and FX units to provide a fertile sonic landscape to explore. The idea was to use simple sequences (using both analogue and digital units), sustained synthesiser pads and electronic piano improvisations, alongside various ancient delay, flange and reverb units. The beautiful, warm quality of the tones that exude from such instruments are very evident on the six tracks that slowly unfold their oscillations in organic, melodic soundscapes.

An unashamedly vintage sounding album in all its analogue glory, "The View From Vega" is released both as a 180g Vinyl edition and a Digipak CD with stunning artwork from Wendy Carroll that matches the music perfectly.

Introducing Wishy, a brand new band from celebrated Indiana songwriters Kevin Krauter and Nina Pitchkites. Wishy came to life as a musical partnership between the two Indianapolis musicians when Pitchkites moved back home from Philadelphia in 2021. The two bonded over their love for 90s alternative bands and soon began crafting their own brand of swirling pop-rock.

By day Krauter works as a music teacher, giving drum and guitar lessons to students, while Pitchkites is a seamstress by trade and often makes embroidered merch for the band. While Krauter spent the better part of the last decade cementing his place as a torchbearer of Midwestern dream pop with 2018's 'Toss Up' and 2020's 'Full Land', Pitchkites delved into her own indie electro-pop project Push Pop.

Across two trips to Los Angeles in late 2022 and early 2023, Krauter and Pitchkites linked up with friend and producer Ben Lumsdaine, who had some spare time between Durand Jones tours to record the pair's newly written songs. The result of their fruitful time in sunny California is the aptly named 'Paradise', a breezy and melodic EP that puts on full display the songwriter's musical fluency. Tastefully blending shoegaze, dream pop, and alt-rock into a heavenly haze, Wishy delivers a strong 5-song introduction that's dense with melodic earworms and stirring sentiment.

Throughout 'Paradise', the band laments on American loneliness and idealism as it relates to our everyday lives. Across the EP's five tracks, Pitchkites and Krauter trade bittersweet reflections on love and self-actualization over vast, scrappy guitar chords. The whole thing feels equally indebted to early aughts alt-rock and '90s jangle pop. Wishy's music is cathartic, yet underlined by a subtle brooding energy—sitting nicely alongside the work of their contemporaries like Momma or Tanukichan, both of whom Wishy will have shared the stage with.

OVERVIEW

"Canta U Populu Corsu, Corsica's best-known and most emblematic group, founded in 1973, is celebrating its 50th anniversary this year. Canta U Populu Corsu, internationally renowned, is the DNA of Corsican music, which has seen the cream of Corsican musicians and singers come and go, year after year, album after album. On Oghji, 'Aujourd'hui', you'll find the 13 best songs in the group's repertoire, taken from the 16 Canta albums. Completely re-recorded by JB Rongiconi (I Muvrini) and mixed by Cedric Pontieux. With the power of its 8 voices and the modernity of its sounds, Oghji represents the summary and the best of the Corsican Soul and a super condensed whole of the insular culture."

OVERVIEW

"Peau Neuve" is Nach's 3rd album, born under the sign of rebirth and emancipation. This new album was written and composed by Nach herself, during an initiatory journey in search of her inner self, with her computer, keyboard and microphone as her only companions, during multiple stays far from the world, between the Drôme, the Cévennes and Morocco. "Peau Neuve", to be released on October 20, consists of 9 tracks and sounds like a powerful yet delicate collection of poems, intimate yet with a universal sensibility. It evokes her rebirth, her emancipation, desire, the force of life, femininity, her new view of the planet and her relationship with time. All themes that are sure to resonate with audiences.

OVERVIEW

In 2021 the album "Footsteps" introduced listeners to the individual style of Human Fig-ures. Daniel Lewis aka The Recluse, Death Posture or Holt merged raw strings with primal percussion to forge a sound of his very own. Lewis now returns to Frigio with "Tabula Rasa". The entrancing title piece is a heady brew of intricate guitars, smoky basslines and a pulsing drum patterns. The uplifting melody indie wave of "Breaking Free" follows, with Lewis' vocals haunting from an echoing distance. The low slung "Conclusions are Nil" gives way to the eastern infused harmonies and underhand dealings of the soundtrack streaked "Military School." Distortion drenched, the short and intense "Obedience" shrouds sorrowful vocals in drum machines, strings and haze. Those pain ridden lyrics are central in the closer. A stoical snare pierces the dirge of "Disparages," a cold industrial march into the driving rain. Em-bittered brilliance from Human Figures.

2023 EP release. 7A Records are proud to release Micky Dolenz Sings R. E. M., a 4 track EP comprised of songs R. E. M. wrote throughout their career, all beautifully reimagined by Dolenz and producer

Christian Nesmith. The EP features fresh and completely new arrangements of some of R. E. M. 's most memorable and catchy songs. R. E. M. Reactions to the EP: "These songs are ABSOLUTELY INCREDIBLE. Micky Dolenz covering R. E. M. Monkees style, I have died and gone to heaven. This is really something. Shiny Happy People sounds INCREDIBLE (never thought you or I would hear me say that!!!). Give it a spin. It's wild. And produced by Christian Nesmith (son of Michael Nesmith), I am finally complete". Michael Stipe "That voice-one of the main voices of my musical awakening-singing our songs... It is beyond awesome. Let's help make this as huge as we possibly can. I am beyond thrilled. " Mike Mills. "I've been listening to Micky's singing since I was nine years old. It's unreal to hear that very voice, adding new depth to songs we've written ourselves, and inhabiting them so completely. " Peter Buck.

Eight CD boxset celebrating the career of British singer and songwriter Kirsty MacColl. This set brings together 161 tracks recorded between 1979 and 2000, and features 47 previously unreleased recordings. Included is her second album Real, recorded in 1983 but never released, presented here complete and sequenced for the first time. Alongside all of Kirsty's singles, this collection includes album favorites, extended versions, B-Sides and bonus tracks, previously unreleased demo recordings, live sets from the Glastonbury Festival in 1992, and the Jazz Café, London in 1999, plus studio sessions and live performances originally recorded for BBC radio and television. The final disc is a selection of collaborations with other artists, as either singer or songwriter, and further illustrates how in-demand and versatile Kirsty's extraordinary talents were. This collection was compiled with the full support of Kirsty's estate, and with generous input from her family, friends and fellow musicians, who contributed to the sleeve notes, and made archive recordings available for the very first time.

2023 collection. Following on from the Primal Scream frontman's brilliantly-received previous release for Ace, 'Sunday Mornin' Comin' Down' (accolades included being short-listed for Rough Trade's compilation of the year), Bobby Gillespie brings us another slice of the music that soundtracks his life. And in this case, it's his touring life. Drawing on the experience of 'the way that the noise and clamour of the road can tire you out, wear you down and frazzle your nerves to shattered fragments of jangled exhaustion', these are the records Bobby turns to for solace, for comfort, for empathy and for resourcefulness. The compilation features an introduction from the man himself, talking us through his personal choices as though he's sitting cross-legged on the carpet going through records with you in his lounge. Also long-time cohort of the band, Kris Needs has written extensive liner-notes, serving up an intensive track by track insight and analysis. Titled after and kicking off with the Willie Nelson track of the same name, 'I Still Can't Believe You're Gone' leads us through a darker and deeper exploration than it's predecessor, featuring Nick Cave's funereal version of 'By The Time I Get To Phoenix' and Ry Cooder's sparse and beautiful reworking of 'Dark End Of The Street'. And we get there via such greats as Bob Dylan, JJ Cale, Donnie Fritts, Crazy Horse, Lee Hazlewood, Al Green, Thin Lizzy and so many more.

Limited mini-LP sleeve packaging. Released in August 1970, as well as detonating hard and reaching #4 in the US R&B charts, 'Stand By Your Man' became a break-through single for Candi Staton, spending 14 weeks in the Billboard Hot 100, peaking at #24. When it came to the follow-up to 'Stand By Your Man', the formula was repeated with Candi taking on another country song 'She Called Me Baby'. This song was written by country singer Harlan Howard and appeared on "Harlan Howard Sings Harlan Howard" released in 1961. It was first drenched in strings and sung from the female perspective as 'He Called Me Baby' by Jeanne Newman in 1965 and then, in more soulful form, by Ella Washington, whose version got to #77 in the Billboard Hot 100 in 1969. As with Newman and Washington's versions, Rick Hall dressed the song in strings as well as belting brass. Staton's definitive southern soul version of 'He Called Me Baby' got to #9 in the R&B chart and #52 in the Billboard Hot 100 when released in January 1971. Both 'Stand By Your Man' and 'He Called Me Baby' - as well as their flips 'How Can I Put Out The Flame (When You Keep The Fire Burning)' and 'What Would Become Of Me' - appeared on Staton's second album "Stand By Your Man," released at the end of 1970. As with her singles and debut LP, "I'm Just A Prisoner" Capitol's promotional rodeo ran wild and one advert even included the line, "Stand by your radio. Stand by your racks. Stand by for Candi Staton, a new American singing star."

Last Night Glasgow

Limited red colored vinyl LP pressing. Last Night From Glasgow reissue and repackage It's Immaterial's 1986 debut album Life's Hard and Then You Die on vinyl. The album was released several months after the single "Driving Away from Home (Jim's Tune)" reached the Top 20 on the UK Singles Chart, and spent three weeks on the UK Albums Chart, peaking at number 62. Simon Braithwaite of Smash Hits wrote that Life's Hard and Then You Die shows that It's Immaterial "write jolly good pop songs. In fact, everything else here is just as inspired and original as their recent hit." In a retrospective review, Michael Sutton of All Music wrote, "Musically, the LP is all over the place - new wave country, blues, folk, and synth pop. Somehow the smorgasbord of styles works, because the band members aren't being eclectic just for the sake of it; they simply have a wide canvas, keeping the album fresh from beginning to end.

Gordon Lightfoot was a Canadian singer-songwriter and guitarist who achieved international success in folk and country music. He is credited with helping to define the folk-pop sound of the 60s and 70s and has been referred to as Canada's greatest songwriter. Lightfoot's songs have been recorded by some of the world's most renowned musical artists and several of his albums achieved gold and multi-platinum status internationally. He topped the US Hot 100 chart with the hits "If You Could Read My Mind" (1970), "Sundown" (1974) and "The Wreck of the Edmund Fitzgerald" (1976) all featured in this mid-price collection. Robbie Robertson of the Band described Lightfoot as "a national treasure" and Bob Dylan, also a Lightfoot fan, called him one of his favourite songwriters. Lightfoot passed away earlier this year aged 84.

"Let Me Rock You" is the third solo studio album released by American musician and former Kiss drummer Peter Criss. The album was produced by Vini Poncia, who previously produced Criss's 1978 solo album (officially released as a Kiss album). "This album features the song "Feels Like Heaven," written by Criss's former bandmate, Gene Simmons. The album cover features Peter Criss for the first time without his Kiss makeup. The track "Tears" was the only single of this album. Vinnie Cusano co-wrote the song; the same year the album was released, Cusano became known as Vinnie Vincent, replacing Kiss guitarist Ace Frehley in time for the Lick It Up album. Singer-songwriter John Waite later covered "Tears" on his album "No Brakes", turning the song into a top-40 hit in the U.S.

Limited 180gm vinyl LP pressing. For those who still believe prog is a four-letter word, Caravan remain a mystery - More fool them, for they are missing out on some of the sweetest and most tuneful melodies in 70s rock, whether it be the jazz- inflected vaudeville of the title track of If I Could Do It All Over Again, I'd Do It All Over You, the gentle celebration of Virgin On The Ridiculous from Caravan & The New Symphonia or the funky ambition of The Dabsong Conshirtoe on Cunning Stunts. Formed, like Soft Machine, from the group The Wilde Flowers, Caravan have much in common with UK 70s prog, punning titles, gatefold sleeves, many songs well over 10 minutes long, frequent line- up shifts, but they always had an innate accessibility - partly due to guitarist and lead vocalist Julian 'Pye' Hastings' easy- on-the-ear singing style. Recorded at Tollington Park Studios (Decca 4) in North London, Cunning Stunts was Caravan's final studio album for Decca; with a tweak in line- up, it produced some of the group's most mature, fluid music, especially in the 18- minute The Dabsong Conshirtoe. 'Have you heard our story, a mystery it seems, gather round come listen, see the spectacle within,' the group state on the album's opening track The Show Of Our Lives. Had the group not been called Caravan and the album Cunning Stunts, Lover could have been a Top 10 single. This re-issue faithfully replicates the original 1975 Decca Records UK release.

Joyful Jukebox Music is a compilation album by American music group The Jackson 5, released by the Motown label on October 26, 1976, after the band had left the label.[1][2] This is the third compilation released by the group, after Greatest Hits (1971) and Anthology (1976), yet the first to be entirely composed of previously unreleased material, recorded between 1972 and 1975. The compilation was released less than two weeks before the group's debut on their new label Epic Records.

| E | Wishy__Paradise | Winspear | 606638762992 | $13.98 | 15 | Rock |
| Introducing Wishy, a brand new band from celebrated Indiana songwriters Kevin Krauter and Nina Pitchkites. Wishy came to life as a musical partnership between the two Indianapolis musicians when Pitchkites moved back home from Philadelphia in 2021. The two bonded over their love for 90s alternative bands like The Sundays and My Bloody Valentine and soon began crafting their own brand of swirling pop-rock with an introspective, grungy flair. By day Krauter works as a music teacher, giving drum and guitar lessons to students, while Pitchkites is a seamstress by trade and often makes embroidered merch for the band. While Krauter spent the better part of the last decade cementing his place as a torchbearer of Midwestern dream pop with 2018's Toss Up and 2020's Full Hand, Pitchkites delved into her own indie electro-pop project Push Pop, writing songs like Spinning that would later be reworked for Wishy. To round out the live band, Pitchkites and Krauter enlisted guitarist Dimitri Morris, bassist Mitch Collins, and drummer Conner Host. Across two trips to Los Angeles in late 2022 and early 2023, Krauter and Pitchkites linked up with friend and producer Ben Lumsdaire, who had some spare time between Durand Jones tours to record the pair's newly written songs. The result of their fruitful time in sunny California is the aptly named Paradise, a breezy and melodic EP that puts on full display the songwriter's musical fluency. Tastefully blending shoegaze, dreampop, and alt-rock into a heavenly haze, Wishy delivers a strong 5-song introduction that's dense with melodic earworms and stirring sentiment. Wishy's debut single for new label home Winspear, the driving and distorted Donut, showcases Pitchkites' hypnotic vocal and Krauter's melancholic wash of guitars. Written after a period when Pitchkites was driving on a spare, Donut laments the cynical capitalism of Midwest living and the reliance on a car to get around. Of the song Pitchkites says When you've got the possibility of the open road plus the limitations of your shitty car-and you're stuck driving on a donut spare tire- it's a Catch 22. Throughout Paradise, the band laments on American loneliness and idealism as it relates to our everyday lives. Across the EP's five tracks, Pitchkites and Krauter trade bittersweet reflections on love and self actualization over vast, scrappy guitar chords. The whole thing feels equally indebted to early aughts alt-rock and '90s jangle pop. Wishy's music is cathartic, yet underlined by a subtle brooding energy-sitting nicely alongside the work of their contemporaries like Momma or Tanukichan, both of whom Wishy will have shared the stage with. Wishy will be touring this Fall supporting Tanukichan, and the band will make their first festival appearance at LEVITATION in Austin, TX. After that, they have their eyes set on finishing their debut album, slated for release via Winspear in 2024. | | | | | | |

| The View From Vega, is Ben Edwards, better known by his pseudonym Benge, debut solo album on the DiN imprint, is primarily an ambient suite of tracks inspired by the space-music typically produced in the late 1970s and early 1980s. It uses a selection of vintage synthesizers, sequencers and FX units to provide a fertile sonic landscape to explore. The idea was to use simple sequences, sustained synthesizer pads and electronic piano improvisations, alongside various ancient delay, flange and reverb units. The beautiful, warm quality of the tones that exude from such instruments are very evident on the six tracks that slowly unfold their oscillations in organic, melodic soundscapes. | | | | | | |
| E | Borgerlig Begravning__Parasit | Wild Kingdom | 5553555001244 | $20.98 | | Rock |
| This punk trio was formed around Christmas 2018 before any of the three cousins had even turned 16. The band was given the political name Borgerlig Begravning (Civil funeral) after a text in a storefront that the band saw on the way home from a punk gig. The guys quickly made a name for themselves in the Swedish punk scene and played with established bands like Asta Kask and Mimikry during their debut year. The band released a 6-track EP in 2020 and in 2021 a single with two songs. The long wait for an album is now over! The band's 12-track long debut album is ready to be released! Borgerlig Begravning was formed in boredom and the desire to play fast music that mattered. Asta Kask has been the biggest inspiration and their EP Historien dömer oss alla gave the trio the push they needed to understand how wonderful punk can be. Bands from the childhood such as Ramones and Ebba Grön has been with the band since the start and the swedes been influenced from all possible corners of the punk scene, from Bad Religion to GBH as an example. Now it's finally time for album number two. Together with Jugglo Wall, the band went into Kapsylen's studio and recorded 12 songs. The title of the new album is Parasit, and with influences from bands such as Asta Kask, Bad Religion, GBH and Ramones, the band has made a record that will make people understand how good Punk can be. Borgerlig Begravning has, during the spring of 2023 toured together with Charter 77 & Köttgrottorna, where the young guys have consolidated their position as the breath of fresh air that Punk Sweden needs! | | | | | | |

| E | Children Of Bodom__Chapter Called Children Of Bodom (Final Show In | Spinefarm | 5401148003109 | $15.98 | 500 | Rock |
| Children of Bodom was a Finnish melodic death metal band from Espoo. Formed in 1993 as Inearthed, the final line-up of the group upon their split in 2019 consisted of Alexi Laiho (lead guitar, lead vocals), Jaska Raatikainen (drums), Henkka Seppälä (bass), Janne Wirman (keyboard), and Daniel Freyberg (rhythm guitar). The band released ten studio albums, two live albums, two EPs, two compilation albums and one DVD. The band's third studio album, Follow the Reaper, was their first album to receive a gold certification in Finland, and subsequent studio albums acquired the same status. Their next four albums debuted at number one on the Finnish album charts and have also seen chart positions on the United States Billboard 200. They are one of Finland's bestselling artists of all time with more than 250,000 records sold there alone. In 2019, Children of Bodom held their last concert in Helsinki named A Chapter Called Children of Bodom, before disbanding the band. Laiho and Freyberg carried on as Bodom After Midnight in 2020. Laiho, who was one of the founding members of Children of Bodom as well as the only main songwriter, died on 29 December 2020. | | | | | | |
| D | DJ Vadim__Feel Up Vol. 2 | Diggers Factory | 3760396020125 | $20.98 | | R&B |
| It's rare to see Nassau, Covid and Grace Jones in the same sentence, but they were indeed part of the creative basis for DJ Vadim's brand new album, FEEL UP. If someone had said in 2019 that a year later the world would literally shut down due to a pandemic, very few would have believed them (well, except those who have been waiting for the apocalypse since the year 2000). But the Covid did arrive, countries closed their borders, clubs closed and people were confined to varying degrees. As a busy international DJ, all this was nothing short of armageddon for Vadim. The skies were darkened, but rather than sink into inactivity and hibernation, DJ Vadim created within himself his own tropical music festival, an alternative universe that would share some kind of kinship with the recordings made at Compass Point Studios, orchestrated by Chris Blackwell for Grace Jones (1980-1982), James Brown, AC/DC, and many others... It was a melting pot of world-class musicians, blending reggae, pop, soul and African rhythms and sounds... together creating one of the most influential albums of the period, and it was in this spirit that the inspiration and title of DJ Vadim's new album, FEEL UP (literally 'Feel good' / 'Have the strength, the courage'), was born. Forty years after those sessions at Compass Point Studios, the same quest for discovery took place in Vadim's Barcelona studio. | | | | | | |

E Kinit Her__Nature Out There Prophecy 884388868984 $12.98 75 Folk/Americana
With their fifteenth full-length The Nature Out There, Kinit Her have reached a culminating and breath-taking height in their organic growth. Transcending all artificial limitations such as genre or instrumentation, the symbolist post-folk collective present a beautiful kaleidoscope of bursting musical colours and spiritual journeys into the wonders of nature with lush soundscapes that amazes and thrills with every note. Ever since their founding in the heart of Wisconsin in 2005 by vocalist and man of strings Troy Schafer and electronic sound designer and lyricist Nathaniel Ritter, Kinit Her have been relentlessly pushing to expand the aesthetic and stylistic range of neofolk into unique new shapes under the banner of what the band calls symbolist post-folk music. Channeling such diverse influences as neoclassical, early music, folk, industrial, avant-garde rock, black metal, ambient, pop, and many others, Kinit Her have sounded organic tone-mantras from shofar horns, bent sweetened notes on beaten guitars, intoned harmonised enumeration of spells and dreams, and backed it all by string and brass arrangements, acoustic ephemera, and twinkling electronic sound designs. Kinit Her emerge from a heavenly vault of related projects and shared collaborations of contributors as one of the brightest stars in this celestial sound constellation. The Nature Out There is the guiding light for a generation of folk and neofolk related music trying to reach new sonic dimensions.

FOR FANS OF: LACRIMOSA, LORD OF THE LOST, GHOST, VNV NATION, EISBRECHER, ASP. You don't hear MONO INC., you feel MONO INC. With all your senses - and that's best LIVE! That's why the quartet around mastermind Martin Engler recorded their concert in the legendary Sporthalle in Hamburg, which they gave as part of their The Book Of Fire 2022 Tour. On 24th November 2023 this unforgettable concert experience will finally be released. Live in Hamburg is a true firework of emotions. MONO INC. #transformed the Sporthalle into a witches' cauldron within seconds with their incomparable dark rock, massive pyro effects and an elaborate light show in May 2022. Evergreens like Gothic Queen, Children of the Dark and Voices of Doom were sung along fervently by the fans, fan favourites like Louder Than Hell, Boatman and Symphony of Pain were celebrated frenetically. At the latest when the band sang the very moving An Klaren Tagen in an intimate acoustic setting, one or two tears flowed down the cheeks of most fans. What a rollercoaster of emotions MONO INC. #sent their ravens, as they affectionately call their followers, on there.

E Nach (Anna Chedid)__Peau Neuve Kuroneko 3700398729121 $18.98 10 Int'l & World Music
Peau Neuve is Nach's 3rd album, born under the sign of rebirth and emancipation. This new album was written and composed by Nach herself, during an initiatory journey in search of her inner self, with her computer, keyboard and microphone as her only companions, during multiple stays far from the world, between the Drôme, the Cévennes and Morocco. Peau Neuve, to be released on October 20, consists of 9 tracks and sounds like a powerful yet delicate collection of poems, intimate yet with a universal sensibility. It evokes her rebirth, her emancipation, desire, the force of life, femininity, her new view of the planet and her relationship with time. All themes that are sure to resonate with audiences.

Ms Strohl is a composer of genius who particularly excels in setting the loveliest poems to music. (La Nation, February 26, 1903) Rita Strohl is an atypical figure in the history of music. Attracted to both the Wagnerian universe and symbolism, she composed works of chamber music as well as grand lyrical and symphonic soundscapes. This recording featuring performances by exceptional vocalists - Elsa Dreisig, Adèle Charvet and Stéphane Degout - is the first volume of a three-part project dedicated to the music of Rita Strohl. It is entirely devoted to her songs, most of which have never been recorded until now.

| Can I go again?, the debut full-length album by Richmond, VA-based singer-songwriter Benét (Benét Nutall) is a diverse collection of contemplative, tightly-crafted indie-pop, rock, and soul tracks as emotionally resonant as they are immediate and infectious. These tracks are equally worthy of processing heart break, gaming with your friends, or finding strength in solitude-growth in time requires an embrace of seriousness as well as unbridled, shameless joy. Benét's debut EP, Game Over (2021), was an honest effort at self-reflection through electronic dance and disco atmospheres-the titular question of their debut album serves as a reset on the arcade game with more knowledge, maturity, and assurance as Benét moves into more organic instrumental accompaniment and refined songwriting. The songs on Can I go again? represent the various relationship breaks-romantic, platonic, and professional-experiences and changes that colored Benét's early 20s and the time required for them to navigate and rehabilitate from those times. The ebullient and sharp guitar riffs and driving bassline of Insensitive lift Benét's vocals as they sing about feelings of nervousness, desire, and ultimately overcoming both with assuredness. Benét gets to flaunt satisfying personal growth in Overpowering over a smooth bassline and strutting beat. No Alarm offers another look at Benét's lyrical vulnerability, moving back and forth between self-consciousness in the verses and a shimmering string emphasized certainty in the chorus.The album was written by Benét in an attempt to deal with the detachment of several connections and the collaborative effort of these tracks brings a healing nature to Can I go again?. Benét's music has always been influenced by the environments around them and the people who they choose to create with. The album is a result of roughly three years of writing and recording at various times with different groups of friends and musical partners-in Richmond, VA with Jacob Grissom, Christian Lewis, Neal Perrine, and John Trainum, in Philadelphia with Kyle Pulley and Danny Murillo, and in New York with Carlos Truly.Can I go again? is about taking and recognizing time, growing deliberately, and expressing delight and nervousness with confidence. Benét uses Can I go again? to work through their own place amidst inspiring, confusing, difficult, and beautiful human connectivity and present these unforgettable, catchy, emotional songs with the hope the audience can listen and do the same. | | | | | | |
| E | Big Crown Records Presents Crown Jewels 3 / Var__Big Crown Records Presents | Big Crown | 349223015010 | $22.98 | 100 | R&B |
| Big Crown is proud to present Crown Jewels Vol. 3. As we are approaching seven years as a label these compilations have given us an opportunity to put the different artists on the label together on the same release. These compilations are something of a calling card for the Big Crown Sound where we get to put the most well established next to the newest on the roster and through that paint a picture of the overall ethos of the label. It's been extremely satisfying for us when the fans of one Big Crown artist discover another one because they are label mates. We put out these Crown Jewels comps with the hope that it will continue that process. Even though not all BCR artists can be found in the same aisle of the record store, after listening to Crown Jewels Vol. 3, it should be clear how they all fit on the same record label. When we started Big Crown we wanted to have a label that's only boundaries were defined by our taste, not by genre. Seven years later, we can say we have been able to do that. There is a sound, but that sound stretches into a lot of different directions, but that sound is uniquely ours. Thank you to everyone who has supported us thus far and please stay tuned as we continue pushing our sound and putting out tunes we believe in. | | | | | | |
| D | Blue Peppers__Symphony | Ship To Shore | 663992251104 | $35.98 | | Rock |
| Ship to Shore is proud to announce the release of Symphony by Blue Peppers, on vinyl for the first time! Originally released in Japan in 2021 as CD only, and not distributed outside of it's home country, Symphony is a love-letter to soft rock, using City Pop and Shibuya as a strong foundation and then building from there a solid, immersive experience of rock, soul and pop that will carry you away to lands undreamed of. Imagine Piper fused with Toto in Tokyo on the doorway to Keio University! The album, mastered masterfully by Richard Dodd (mastering engineer for such artists as The Black Keys, Iron & Wine, Neil Young and Sturgill Simpson), was never pressed onto wax when originally released... until now! Available on Marine City blue vinyl, fans of unique Japanese City Pop / Rock Fusion will not want to miss out on this! | | | | | | |
| E | Borgerlig Begravning__Parasit | Wild Kingdom | 5553555401242 | $28.98 | | Rock |
| This punk trio was formed around Christmas 2018 before any of the three cousins had even turned 16. The band was given the political name Borgerlig Begravning (Civil funeral) after a text in a storefront that the band saw on the way home from a punk gig. The guys quickly made a name for themselves in the Swedish punk scene and played with established bands like Asta Kask and Mimikry during their debut year. The band released a 6-track EP in 2020 and in 2021 a single with two songs. The long wait for an album is now over! The band's 12-track long debut album is ready to be released! Borgerlig Begravning was formed in boredom and the desire to play fast music that mattered. Asta Kask has been the biggest inspiration and their EP Historien dömer oss alla gave the trio the push they needed to understand how wonderful punk can be. Bands from the childhood such as Ramones and Ebba Grön has been with the band since the start and the swedes been influenced from all possible corners of the punk scene, from Bad Religion to GBH as an example. Now it's finally time for album number two. Together with Jugglo Wall, the band went into Kapsylen's studio and recorded 12 songs. The title of the new album is Parasit, and with influences from bands such as Asta Kast, Bad Religion, GBH and Ramones, the band has made a record that will make people understand how good Punk can be. Borgerlig Begravning has, during the spring of 2023 toured together with Charter 77 & Köttgrotorna, where the young guys have consolidated their position as the breath of fresh air that Punk Sweden needs! | | | | | | |

| E | Carnage__Dark Recollections | Earache Records | 5055006923254 | $31.98 | Rock |
| Without question, Dark Recollections has stood the test of time. A pioneering death metal record which remains a staple in the collections of those who follow the genre. A bonafide must-have record. Now available in full dynamic range on exclusive white vinyl featuring iconic artwork by legendary British illustrator Dan Seagrave. Indeed, a record which helped propel Swedish death metal further out of the shadows and into the mainstream. The band followed in the steps of legendary artists Tiamat and fellow Earache stablemates Entombed in recording at the now infamous Sunlight Studios in Stockholm. From their grindcore roots, Carnage - all under 20 years old at the time - unwittingly united chainsaw riffage, melodic solos and guttural Death Metal vocals to create a genre defining record. Disbanding before the record was ever released, the members of Carnage have crept into metal folklore, with Michael Amott momentarily joining Carcass ahead of forming legendary metal band Arch Enemy | | | | | |

| In the summer of 2015, Mac DeMarco released Some Other Ones - a collection of original instrumental recordings DeMarco deemed his BBQ soundtrack - as a free digital download exclusively on Bandcamp. It was recorded in just 5 days at his home in Far Rockaway, Queens, about a year after the massive success of his third album, Salad Days, and just weeks before the release of mini-LP Another One. Originally released in conjunction with a barbecue DeMarco hosted to promote Another One and collect food bank donations, Some Other Ones soon gained cult status, now regarded amongst his fans as a key entry in his beloved catalog. Now, almost 10 years later, and following the success of his recent full-length instrumental album Five Easy Hot Dogs, Some Other Ones is finally getting the full release treatment. The album will be available digitally across all streaming platforms for the first time starting November 8th, and on limited edition yellow vinyl starting December 15th. The real heads get down to Some Other Ones! | | | | | |

| E | Fleet,Larry__Earned It | Big Loud Records | 860010537091 | $29.98 | 100 | Country |
| Tennessee-born troubadour Larry Fleet grew up on a stack of records spanning Merle Haggard, Otis Redding, Willie Nelson, and Marvin Gaye. A thoughtful songwriter with a knack for a one-liner, an ear for a sturdy hook, and a powerhouse voice that strikes like a match, Fleet was working blue-collar jobs to make ends meet long before landing his recording contract with Big Loud Records. Six years in, the devout family man is turning heads among fans and critics with albums full of soon-to-be-classics; 2021's tribute to the music that raised him, Stack of Records, his aptly titled 2019 debut, Workin' Hard, and his third effort, Earned It, out now. Saving Country Music puts it simply: If you're looking for the future of traditional country music, then look no further than... Larry Fleet. A road-tested live show standout, Fleet wrapped 2022 with his first-ever headline One For The Road Tour, following up crowd-winning opening slots supporting Darius Rucker, Willie Nelson, Jamey Johnson, Jon Pardi, and many more. He just extended his current headlining run, Larry Fleet Live, including a sold-out night at Nashville's Ryman Auditorium. | | | | | | |

| D | Hi-Fi Rush - O.S.T.__Hi-Fi Rush - O.S.T. | Laced Records | 5063176007810 | $114.98 | | Soundtrack |
| Tango Gameworks, Bethesda and Laced have teamed up to bring the pulse-pounding score for 2023's most colourful gaming surprise, Hi-Fi RUSH, to vinyl. The 4LP box set has been designed by Tango Gameworks' formidable art team. The rigid slipcase features Chai and 808, while the inner sleeves highlight Chai's Assist allies, including Peppermint, Macaron, CNMN, and Korsica. This Standard Edition features heavyweight discs in traditional black. The set includes 42 specially remastered tracks from the original soundtrack, among them the alternate boss battle tracks created for Streamer Mode. Revealed to the public in an audacious shadow-drop, Hi-Fi RUSH was a breath of fresh air, harkening back to the early 2000s with it's vibrant visuals and goofy humour. The game marries rhythm game and character action game mechanics, with the whole environment of the Vandelay Technologies campus literally bopping to the beat. As it is for protagonist Chai, music is at the heart of Hi-Fi RUSH. The game's substantial music team, including The Glass Pyramids, Shuichi Kobori, REQ, Masatoshi Yanagi and Hi-Fi RUSH Game Director John Johanas, went all out for infectiously energetic rock. Immense riffs and propulsive drumming played an essential part in maintaining the tension and excitement of the whole experience and keeping players laser focused on the pulse. And has a game developer ever sung so sweetly and earnestly to their audience as Johanas does on the credits track Secret Song (Making Things Is Hard), crooning please don't complain and just enjoy, because at the end of the day, it's all just a game. | | | | | | |
| E | Human Figures__Tabula Rasa | Kuroneko | 3700398728483 | $29.98 | 5 | Electronic |
| In 2021 the album Footsteps introduced listeners to the individual style of Human Fig-ures. Daniel Lewis aka The Recluse, Death Posture or Holt merged raw strings with primal percussion to forge a sound of his very own. Lewis now returns to Frigio with Tabula Rasa. The entrancing title piece is a heady brew of intri-cate guitars, smoky basslines and a pulsing drum patterns. The uplifting melody indie wave of Breaking Free follows, with Lewis' vocals haunting from an echoing distance. The low slung Conclusions are Nil gives way to the eastern infused harmonies and underhand dealings of the soundtrack streaked Military School. Distortion drenched, the short and intense Obedience shrouds sorrowful vocals in drum machines, strings and haze. Those pain ridden lyrics are central in the closer. A stoical snare pierces the dirge of Disparages, a cold industrial march into the driving rain. Em-bittered brilliance from Human Figures. | | | | | | |

| E | Jones,Cotton__River Strumming | Suicide Squeeze | 803238022314 | $24.98 | 30 | Rock |
| The American singer-songwriter tradition has always been tethered to a rustic austerity, the sort of front-porch authenticity that suggests an age where home electronics are still considered luxury items. But there's also the ongoing influ- ence of Bob Dylan and The Band's Basement Tapes-that strange and beloved document of the magic that happens when private experiments with the folk template flourish into layered and lush songs-and it's genesis through informal recording sessions. In our modern age, these kinds of casual DIY constructions are perhaps the more honest contribution to the Americana lineage-the true homespun artform. When Michael Nau and Whitney McGraw struck out on their own in the wake of the dissolution of their beloved indie-folk outfit Page France, they continued their songwriting practice with a new project called Cotton Jones Basket Ride. As legend has it, Nau and McGraw were working on the material for their debut full-length Paranoid Cocoon (2009) when they realized they had an entire album's worth of odds-and-ends from various recording sessions. The resultant album-The River Strumming-was released in 2008 on St. Ives in a batch of 300 unique hand-packaged LPs. As the label advertised it back in the day, the band initially set out to make a cohesive record, and made just the opposite. Like The Basement Tapes, The River Strumming is a document of a band explor- ing possibilities without the weight of expectation. The band would eventually condense their name to Cotton Jones and make a name for themselves in the indie world for their fusion of dreamy folk and psychedelic baroque pop. But in the beginning, there was this weird and wonderful collection of songs made by musicians who were enjoying the private process of finding their path. Suicide Squeeze is proud to present a 15th-anniversary vinyl reissue of this long out-of-print classic with updated artwork by Kayleigh Montgomery-Morris. | | | | | | |

| E | Mom Jeans__Sweet Tooth | Miscellaneous Record | 843563170236 | $26.98 | 225 | Rock |
| Give me something sweet so I can make it through the week/Don't care if I end up with cavities. This is the plea that opens Sweet Tooth, the upcoming third LP from Berkeley's Mom Jeans. It's the introduction to a quasi-concept record, a structural departure for the emo punk quartet. Before any of the record's 13 songs had been written and recorded, the band knew what Sweet Tooth would sound like: late '90s and early 2000s pop rock and pop punk bliss. The result of this expedition into the Golden Age of snotty pop punk and cheeky radio rock is a 13-track hit of musical ecstasy, crammed with delicious guitar crunch and infectious melodics beneath boyish romance, teen-to-young adult angst, and gleeful abandon. | | | | | | |

| D | Shankar, Ravi__Shankar Family & Friends (lex) | Mobile Fidelity | 821797152211 | $53.98 | | Folk/Americana |
| 'Out of Print for Nearly Five Decades, a Lost Classic Returns: Ravi Shankar and George Harrison's Shankar Family & Friends Weds Eastern and Western Music. Sourced from the Original Master Tapes and Limited to 3,000 Numbered Copies: Mobile Fidelity's 180g Vinyl LP of 1974 Album Features Remarkable Tonalities, Airiness, and Aura. 1/4" / 15 IPS analog master to DSD 256 to analog console to lathe. Out of print as a standalone release for decades since it's original 1974 release, and produced by George Harrison, Shankar Family & Friends is an almost-forgotten masterwork - an emotional and sonic pact on which two like-minded souls unite musical styles, cultures, and sounds in wondrous fashion. It's also the second album Harrison's Dark Horse Records released, setting the tone for the label and precedent for a friendship that lasted the remainder of Harrison's life. Sourced from the original analog tapes, pressed at RTI, and limited to 3,000 numbered copies, Mobile Fidelity's 180g LP presents the album in restored sound that illustrates the beauty of the playing, compositions, and chemistry. This reissue makes available on vinyl a title that hasn't been on LP since 1975. Yet it does so much more in the transparent way it showcases the textures, spiritualism, and breadth of compositions primarily recorded by Harrison, Shankar, and an array of distinguished guests at A&M Studios. The inviting aura, generous spaciousness, and well-defined tonalities on this pressing combine to take the music to transcendent heights. Then there's the brilliant playing itself. Memorable contributions from an A-list of American and English musicians - Ringo Starr (drums), David Bromberg (electric guitar), Billy Preston (organ), Nicky Hopkins (piano), Jim Keltner (drums), Klaus Voorman (bass), Robert Margoulef (Moog), Malcolm Cecil (Moog), Tom Scott (saxophone) included - add to the richness of a set that melds Eastern and Western traditions. These 'names' mesh with a host of Indian virtuosos - Alla Rakha, Ashish Khan, Kamala Chakravarty, Hari Prasad Chaurasia included - who turn Shankar Family & Friends into a journey laced with percussive, string, and vocal components that aren't soon forgotten. | | | | | | |
| E | Summer Salt__My Favorite Holiday | Miscellaneous Record | 061297792566 | $24.98 | 200 | Rock |
| This release features 7 original holiday songs celebrating New Year's Eve, Christmas, Valentine's Day and more, including fan favorite and focus track One Last Time. Duo Summer Salt - singer/guitarist Matthew Terry and drummer Eugene Chung - have charmed listeners for years with their dreamy jazz, bedroom pop, beachy bossa nova, and desert-night indie rock sound. The band quickly rose through the ranks of the local Austin, TX scene with their 2014 debut Driving To Hawaii, and have released 5 full length albums to great success since. My Favorite Holiday was released digitally in 2019, and features 7 original holiday songs celebrating New Year's Eve, Christmas, Valentine's Day and more, including fan favorite and focus track 'One Last Time,' which has surpassed 30 million streams on Spotify. | | | | | | |

major labels and mainstream media. In fact, just before the album was released, Switchfoot was dropped from Columbia Records. It was only after millions of albums had been sold that the label was forced to support the band that had proved them wrong. To celebrate 20 years of the The Beautiful Letdown, Switchfoot is releasing their version, a new re-recorded edition of the album, on both CD and LP. The vinyl comes in a deluxe triple gatefold package, including a fold-out poster, available on a variety of vinyl colors.

E Tsunami Bomb Ultimate Escape - Gold Cleopatra 889466493218 $27.98 200 Rock
The highly acclaimed 2002 debut album from NorCal punk rock favorites, Tsunami Bomb! The band continues to be a major player on the punk rock circuit! Now available in GOLD vinyl!

E Tzusing Green Hat Pan 756029612860 $23.98 30 Electronic
On Tzusing's sophomore album the Malaysian-born artist, who lives between Shanghai and Taipei, meditates on China's complicated history of patriarchal heteronormativity, and how these archaic double standards continue to dominate the culture in pervasive, often invisible ways. Even in progressive circles, internalized male inadequacy and its inevitable projection of possessiveness and aggression has been brushed underneath the rug, so by addressing it head-on, Tzusing attempts to question these structures using a level of aesthetic anxiety and thematic intensity that's hard to ignore.

E UFO California At The Edge 1995 - Red Cleopatra 889466470912 $39.98 400 Rock
A spectacular concert album from classic rock masters UFO documenting their historic reunion tour celebrating the album, Walk On Water! This show was the final appearance of guitarist Michael Schenker, who bowed out for the remainder of the tour, and the band is in full force cranking out classics from their early years alongside new tracks from WOW! Available in its entirety on limited edition RED vinyl!

E UFO Live In Vienna 1998 - Silver Deadline Music 889466454714 $39.98 600 Rock
An explosive double live album from classic rock icons UFO that continued the band's wildly popular reunion with guitar god Michael Schenker! The band brilliantly blend new tracks from their 1995 album Walk On Water with beloved classics like Only You Can Rock Me, Lights Out, Doctor Doctor, and more!

E Velasquez, Mali I'm Green Acrophase Records 061297792436 $25.98 80 Rock
When Nashville-based singer-songwriter Mali Velasquez traded her Texas panhandle home for the verdant foothills of Tennessee, she did so with a newfound perspective that mirrored her environment, culminating in the lushly raw edge of her folk-rooted indie rock. Wistfully openhearted and incisive, Velasquez tips the fulcrum between reflection and remedy with melody-forward uncton and lyrical tenderness. Her forthcoming debut, I'm Green, is a perennial introspection into the wild animal of young adulthood and the renewing realization that the person we're most often seeking permission from, crucially, is ourselves. Her outward frustrations often turn inward as a mirror and as a chance to reflect on her longest relationship to date: the relationship she has with herself. I'm Green is the result of these reflections becoming meditations on the transformative power of both loss and shame and what emerges when we allow ourselves to surrender to their potential.

Double 10 splatter colored vinyl pressing in hand-numbered gatefold jacket. Stay What You Are is the breakout third studio album by the American alternative rock band Saves the Day. Produced by Rob Schnapf (Elliot Smith, Beck, The Vines) in early 2001 it's a record that remains incredibly influential within the emo and rock scene to this day, showcasing the band's signature blend of upbeat catchy melodies, with dark lyrical undertones. Features the standout singles 'At Your Funeral' and 'Freakish'. Originally released on July 10th 2001, the album saw Saves the Day crack the Billboard 200 at the same time other that emo acts like Jimmy Eat World and Dashboard Confessional were enjoying mainstream success.
