ACT FAST, SALE ENDS 12/1/2023

Darkness and despair are a breeding ground for creativity in the right hands. Since their inception in 2017, Atlanta-based band ALLUVIAL have embraced the grim and gloom that the world has to offer through an intricately balanced blend of rapid-fire polyrhythms, haunting, sludgy atmospheres and tightly wound grooves. The band – consisting of Kevin Muller [vocals], Wes Hauch [guitar, vocals], Tim Walker [bass], and Zach Dean [drums] – take a stab at creating an even more sinister sound than their previous album, Sarcoma, with their upcoming 2024 EP, Death Is But a Door [Nuclear Blast].

OVERVIEW

Eramus Hall's 1980 debut album "Your Love Is My Desire" is among the most sought-after records of the modern soul era, coveted by DJs and record collectors alike, with rare copies of the original pressing selling for up to $900. The soul/funk group only recorded the one album for Detroit's Westbound Records, home of funk heavyweights Funkadelic and Ohio Players, before moving to Capitol for their second and final LP in 1984. This long overdue reissue marks the third release in Westbound's remaster series with Org Music. Working from the original master tapes at the iconic 54 Sound studio in Detroit, the recordings have been restored and remastered with care for the essential version of this masterpiece.

FOR FANS OF: ASIA, URIAH HEPP, NAZARETH, GOTTHARD, SAGA, THUNDER, PINK CREAM 69

There are few great bands on our planet that you can infallibly identify within the first few bars of one of their songs. Their unique melodic skill, their tasteful instrumentation, the right balance of depth and catchiness, and then of course that charismatic voice: Magnum are Magnum! The same can be said of their latest studio album 'Here Comes The Rain', which will be out on Steamhammer/SPV from 12 January 2024 on CD + DVD, double vinyl LP, as a box set and for digital download, proving once again that classic rock music could hardly sound more atmospheric. The band surrounding frontman Bob Catley and guitarist/songwriter Tony Clarkin are also set to release two lead singles on 22 November 2023 and 3 January 2024 and a tour has been scheduled to kick off in early April 2024 (see tour dates).

The album's highly inspired artwork again is designed by the great Rodney Matthews, who has already created a number of Magnum sleeves to support the band's atmospherically dense music. There can be no doubt about it: 'Here Comes The Rain' sees the Magnum line-up consisting of Catley, Clarkin, keyboardist Rick Benton, Dennis Ward and drummer Lee Morris once again succeed in creating an outstanding album

A group of tried-and-true musicians got together and found the sort of camaraderie and kinship you typically only find once in a lifetime. They didn't overthink it. They didn't waste a second. They simply left their blood, sweat, and tears on tape—like they've always done. For as much as BETTER LOVERS represents the union of former EVERY TIME I DIE members Jordan Buckley [guitar], Steve Micciche [bass], and Clayton "Goose" Holyoak [drums] with THE DILLINGER ESCAPE PLAN and KILLER BE KILLED frontman Greg Puciato [vocals], and musician (FIT FOR AN AUTOPSY / END) and GRAMMY® Award-winning producer, Will Putney [guitar], it really cements the bond of five friends around a shared vision. That vision is as uncompromising, unapologetic, and undeniable as anything they've individually done, yet it's refined by experience and a commitment to a future together.

In the annals of rock music, there are few singers who have such an expressive voice as Dan McCafferty. As the charismatic frontman of the Scottish band Nazareth, McCafferty has been involved in more than 25 albums, released hits such as 'Love Hurts', 'Dream On', 'This Flight Tonight' and 'Morning Dew' and toured all over the world. After a unique career of 50 years, Dan McCafferty passed away on November 8, 2022 at the age of 76. His name will be remembered, his great songs will continue to be played on countless rock radio stations around the world. Undiscovered musical treasures were kept in McCafferty's private home archives. Some of them can now be found on the posthumous homage: 'No Turning Back - In Memory of Dan McCafferty'. The previously unreleased songs "Occident" and "No Turning Back" are original recordings from the late 1990s that McCafferty recorded with German director, composer and music producer Christoph Busse. The previously unreleased track 'Children's Eyes' is the result of a collaboration with composer and producer Detlef Wiedeke. All three tracks show the stylistically enormous range of his rough rock voice. With 'Into the Ring', 'Starry Eyes' and 'Sunny Island', three pieces from a particularly eventful career phase of the Scottish musician follow. The songs were released in 1987 on his now long out-of-print solo album "Into the Ring". The album was created between the two Nazareth classics "Cinema" (1986) and "Snakes'n'Ladders" (1989). "In Memory of Dan McCafferty" is rounded off with "Going Home" from 1993 and from the eponymous album of the short-lived project Seasons, with original Scottish bagpipes, fiddles, flutes and percussion instruments. The song is based on the piece "Largo" from the 9th Symphony "From the New World" by Antonín Dvořák. There are also two recent cover versions of the Nazareth evergreens 'Love Hurts' and 'Dream On' as bonus tracks, sung by Greek singer Panos Kalifis, whose vocal colour is strikingly similar to McCafferty's. Last but not least, the album cover features a photo of a young Dan McCafferty, while the booklet contains twelve pencil and charcoal illustrations. "No Turning Back - In Memory of Dan McCafferty" is a musical must-have for every McCafferty/Nazareth and hard rock fan.

HARRISON STORM Wonder, Won't You?

HARRISON STORM'S HAUNTING DEBUT ALBUM
ON COKE BOTTLE GREEN VINYL

"'Warm A Cold Heart' is a tender and heartfelt confessional full of sweet indie folk sound and unadulterated vulnerability." – Atwood Magazine

"Defined by poignant lyrics, haunting melodies, and an expansive arrangement, the listener instantly feels an innate honesty in Harrison..." – Ones To Watch

"...ripe with carefree energy. A relaxed tempo, soft dynamics, and the delicate layering of Storm's gently comforting voice." – American Songwriter

For Australian indie folk singer/songwriter Harrison Storm, Wonder, Won't You? is the beginning to a wondrous journey of unbridled introspection into the deepest crevices of his own heart and mind. The debut album is an invitation to join Storm on this adventure – to break down walls and open up.

Storm discovered music's therapeutic powers at an early age. Growing up in a culture of toxic masculinity, he would listen to artists like City and Colour, Angus Stone, and Jeff Buckley and feel less isolated. Those musicians inspired Storm to pursue his own music career, and in 2015 he took to the streets in Melbourne to busk, where he made enough money to finance his debut EP Sense of Home. A record deal with Nettwerk soon followed, and over the course of the next seven years, Storm released four EPs: Change It All (2017), Falling Down (2019), Be Slow (2020), and Under Dusk (2022) – the latter a collaboration with Enna Blake. Storm's songs have since racked up hundreds of millions of streams, with radio plays on Australia's triple j and the UK's BBC Radio 2. The song "Sense of Home" was certified Gold in Canada in 2020.

On Wonder, Won't You?, his vision comes to life through ten songs aching with raw emotion. Intimate and unabridged, the album sees Storm at his most vulnerable, his most sensitive, and his most human. These songs helped him work through his own struggles, and now he hopes they help others do the same.

With their new heavy rock album "2024", RAVENSTINE go one step further and present themselves musically even more mature and cohesive than on their self-titled debut. This time, John took over the main duties as composer, but all the band members contributed to the big picture. RAVENSTINE have remained true to their own style, the lyrics deal with topics that occupy them in their everyday lives, such as depression ("Black Is The Brightest Color"); about a lost homeland and the feeling that home no longer exists ("A Long Way Home"); the prospect of one's own demise ("When I'm Dead And Gone") or the possible connection between social media and mass shootings ("Killing Spree"). The band has also composed a flawless gem with their song "Fly Eagle Fly" that offers everything a hit needs: a good riff, a groove that grabs you and a killer chorus! Fans of ballads will also rejoice: While "Signs By The Roadside" thrives on its atmosphere, "When I'm Dead And Gone" comes along with a chorus that makes the listener hold up a lighter and move it from left to right.

Big Sigh

About the album

Big Sigh brings together the best of Marika's previous works as an indie musician and adds a new layer of epic sounds and full-bodied production.

Big Sigh is the "hardest record" Marika has ever made. As the title suggests, it is a relief of sorts - of sadness, of stress and lust, but mostly relief.

Co-produced with Sam Petts Davies (Frank Ocean, Radiohead, Red Hot Chilli Peppers) & Charlie Andrew (Alt J, Wolf Alice, London Grammar). Lyrically there's always romance alongside grief, with elements of vulnerability and feeling trapped.

"This album took a long time to make. It was not easy, and by the time I got to the end of it I was quiet. I wanted to be away from it and let it sit in its own space. Now the dust has settled and I've got to re-enter the world of Big Sigh, and I'm excited." Stepping into a new world, moving forward, chipping away. Breathe in, breathe out. Big sigh."

Mickey O'Brien Orebody

About Mickey O'Brien

Over the past two decades, Nickel City MC Mickey O'Brien has been an inspired voice in the Canadian rap scene with his boundary-defying, concept-heavy music. Even prior to his emergence as a solo artist in 2019, while still a member of rap-rock outfit Kill the Autocrat, O'Brien proved himself a powerful voice of the north for hip-hop. Now, whether he's expressing his failures and triumphs in love (Twin Flame) or taking a deep dive into his experience with addiction (Shift Change), O'Brien's effortless vulnerability is a key component in the cultivation of a new wave in honest, emotional hip-hop. On his first independently-propelled Canadian tour, his uplifting message of recovery was delivered from coast to coast. Mickey O'Brien prides himself on pushing his own personal boundaries in his relentless pursuit to make art that is both impactful and as real as possible.

About Orebody

For Orebody, his fifth project in five years, Mickey O'Brien takes the listener even deeper into his soul and psyche as he explores his own inner workings with each song representing a specific emotion. His process to prepare for the writing of these songs involved sitting with a psychotherapist to discuss what triggers that emotion within himself. And listening to the album, one can actually hear and feel how this blue collar MC perceives the world, like standing in his shoes for a moment in time. To provide the musical backdrop for this emotional rollercoaster, O'Brien once again taps the talents of long-time collaborator, MPC button-masher, and Juno-nominated producer Fresh Kils who crushes it on the pads and production. And as co-producer, O'Brien adds further depth to the music with live instrumentation, enlisting the assistance of Zachary Clement (keys), Geoff McCausland (violin), Anthony Rinaldi (sax), Matt Saroka (guitar), and DJ Versatile (turntables), in various combinations. The result is an album to inspire Canadian youth and the working class like that mental health matters and healing is within reach.

Luzmila Carpio

Inti Watana - El Regreso del Sol

About the Album

The iconic voice of Luzmila Carpio rings out from the Andes, spreading messages of indigenous struggle, female empowerment and unceasing love for both the people and planet around us. An undeniable icon of Bolivian Andean culture whose career spans multiple decades, Luzmila has released more than 25 albums (there's a reason that Rolling Stone described her as "one of the most prolific indigenous singers of South America"), inspiring millions while singing in both her native Aymara-Quechua language and Spanish.

Yet Luzmila Carpio isn't someone who's content to simply rest on her laurels; she continues to take risks—and push her music into vibrant new soundworlds. On new album Inti Watana: El Retorno del Sol (her first LP in a decade), she's teamed up with Argentinian producer Leonardo Martinelli (a.k.a. Tremor), a ZZK veteran who's spent the bulk of his career finding the common ground between Latin American folk rhythms and modern electronics. Building off the momentum created by 2015's Luzmila Carpio Meets ZZK collection—in which her music was reworked by not only Tremor, but standout electronic artists like Nicola Cruz, Chancha Via Circuito and El Búho—this new album is meant to stretch across genres, generations and continents, with Luzmila's sonorous, occasionally birdsong-inspired vocalizations gracefully gliding amongst ambient textures, programmed beats and (of course) a bevy of traditional instrumentation from around the globe. Over the course of the LP, Bolivian charangos and quenenas sit comfortably alongside the sounds of harmonium, violin, acoustic and electric guitar, Argentinian bombo leguero and sacha guitar, Armenian duduk and a litany of Asian percussion.

Inti Watana: El Retorno del Sol—which will be accompanied by a full length documentary—might not sound like previous Luzmila Carpio releases, but on a spiritual, political and lyrical level, her core values remain unchanged. A native of Bolivia's Potosí region, she's long been a beacon for indigenous communities in not just her home country, but throughout Latin America, her voice inspiring joy and pride amongst ancient peoples whose culture and inherent beauty are often overlooked. Her pursuit of music—a field traditionally dominated by men in Andean communities—long ago made her a pillar of women's empowerment, but Carpio has also been a vocal proponent for social change, using her influence to advocate not just for the rights of women, but for the protection and increased visibility of all indigenous people. Yet it's the planet itself that Carpio is most passionate about, and she's devoted much of her new album to conversations with Mother Earth and Father Sun, whom she refers to as Pachamama and Tata Inti. In a time of acute environmental turmoil, it's more important than ever to find harmony with our surroundings, and Carpio has purposely planned for the unveiling of her new LP to coincide with the June 21 solstice, while the record's release date falls on September 21—the date of the September equinox.

Through it all, Carpio exudes a palpable sense of wonder, her optimism (and reverence for all that exists beyond the everyday) undimmed by even the most seemingly insurmountable challenges. Pachamama and Tata Inti may be the central characters of Inti Watana: El Retorno del Sol, but it's Carpio herself who emerges as the album's most inspiring figure.

Selling Points

The iconic voice of Luzmila Carpio rings out from the Andes, spreading messages of indigenous struggle, female empowerment and unceasing love for both the people and planet around us. Luzmila Carpio's Inti Watana: El Retorno del Sol is Luzmila Carpio's 1st album in over 10 years. The album is the fruits of labor of 4 years of production and dates back to when Luzmila and ZZK's teams collaborated on one of Rolling Stone's best Latin albums of 2015: Luzmila Carpio Meets ZZK. Electronic and timeless, Luzmila's new album cements her place as "One of Latin America's "one of the most prolific indigenous singers of South America." (Rolling Stone)

The magic of Blossom Toes' whimsical third single, "Postcard," is revitalized in this limited edition 7" reissue. With fresh new art by Piper Gates Design and remastering by Prof. Stoned, this popsiike masterpiece has simply never sounded better. Released during their pivotal 1968 transition and the golden age of psychedelia, this single bridges the vibrant sound of "We Are Ever So Clean" with the groundbreaking hard rock intensity of "If Only For A Moment." Featuring then-newcomer Poli Palmer (later of Family), who not only graced the drums but also penned and sang the jazzy B-side track "Everybody's Leaving Me Now." It's reminiscent of the contemporary sounds of Giles, Giles & Fripp—who would later evolve into the legendary King Crimson.

Artist: Zero Hour Title: The Towers Of Avarice

A futuristic concept album that reads almost like a Marxist allegory...weaving intricately wrought progressive passages into a crushingly heavy framework that owes as much to Meshuggah as Dream Theater. - Metal Maniacs

Long hailed as a masterpiece of progressive/technical metal, Zero Hour's The Towers Of Avarice has been the cornerstone of prog collections since its 2001 release.

Sensory is pleased to make it available on vinyl for the first time. The album was cut for vinyl from the original pre-mastered recording for maximum dynamics.

Zero Hour's influences range from the dark brooding power of Fates Warning to the intricate technicality of Spiral Architect and Meshuggah. The band features twin brothers Jasun and Troy Tipton on guitars and bass, drummer Mike Guy, and vocalist Erik Rosvold.

The Towers Of Avarice is a bleak futuristic conceptual work reminiscent of Blade Runner. The story tells the tale of two societies – one above ground obsessed with consumption and the restless slaves living underground that are under their control. Guitar and bass interlock seamlessly only to be interrupted by a staccato assault of crushing guitar riffs and soaring vocals. Rosvold is a truly gifted singer, often compared to Ronnie James Dio and John Arch. He grabs the spotlight with his angst ridden vocals, conveying all the drama that unfolds in the tale. This truly is a complex masterpiece of epic progressive metal.

The album features surrealist artwork and graphic design by Travis Smith who has worked with Nevermore, Opeth, Katatonia, Sadus, and others.

Poptones from beyond the bedroom laptop underground. fish narc's hybridizing of post punk with modern sound packs a well-seasoned punch to the contemporary palette. Production on this album by keyblayde808 only makes it all the more epic. A collaboration with 8485 "heart filled with rage" has us all in a tizzy, a post-traumatic love anthem. fruiting body is thirteen songs good.

The breaking news: fruiting body has been melded into a long playing (LP) phonograph record and cassette tape from K, available wherever you spike the jive. Get down on it.

fish narc and GothBoiClique - - - WHAT WE KNOW

If you have grazed the cheek of the GothBoiClique (GBC) you're aware it's the modern day Mouse Pack of folk-hearted rappers with an emotional boiling point. fish narc joined the GBC snap fray as producer and guitar slashing action mag who has since collaborated production-wise with Lil Peep (Goth Angel Sinner EP), Mackned x Horse Head ("Too Hard"), Lil Tracy ("Drunk Punx"), Yung Bruh ("laced/neurotic"), Cold Hart ("Get Dressed") - - - it's all too vital.

Since 2019, fish narc has written and toured his own graphemic songs, influenced by rap, punk and underground sounds. He released the albums WiLDFiRE in 2020, Camouflage in 2022 and now fruiting body [KLP295].

KARTEL

'This Is What I Want To Say'..is the product of a 40 year musical journey. Highs and lows, anger and joy, belief and doubt reflected in raw and honest observations of Martyn Joseph's sojourn and the state of play today. A stripped back acoustic render reflects his weapon of choice that has provided hope and solace and a commentary of companionship to a worldwide army of ardent fans for decades through his passionate commitment to social justice, mystery, and love.

'From a vast goodbye to a small hello' he writes in 'Folding', the opening song of surrender and resilience, and where else would you find an album calling for the elimination of a tyrant alongside a call for greater love and empathy. Embracing the contradictions and beauty with a fearless pen, Joseph continues to cut an impressive path. If you're looking for truth, these songs will anchor you to a horizon of hope.

Cedric Tiberghien

Beethoven: Complete Variations for Piano, Vol.2

After a formidable first volume, Cédric Tiberghien continues his exploration of Beethoven's corpus of variations. At the heart of this new album are the famous Thirty-two Variations in C minor and their tangy reminiscences of Bach – the Ciaccona from Partita No.2 for violin solo, presented here in Brahms's masterly transcription. He also takes the opportunity to show us what a certain school of American composers (Crumb, Cage, Feldman) has made of this tradition of variation form.

Quatuor Modigliani

Grieg - Smetana

Between 1876 and 1878, two masterpieces were created in the midst of a wave of nationalism sweeping Europe. Distressed by tragic events, Grieg and Smetana turned to the string quartet, a form hitherto rare in their output, as a means of expressing their turbulent emotions. Through the communion of sixteen strings, the composers retrace the story of their lives, producing two quartets with an infinitely personal dimension and unprecedented emotional power.

Jayson Green and the Jerk

Local Jerk / I Need Love

The DFA debut from longtime family member Jayson Green also marks the return of the classic DFA twelve-inch. Maybe it actually stands for Dying Formats Always?

Jay's sung in a lot of bands. Like, a lot. Panthers, Violent Bullshit, Cheeseburger, and the legendary hardcore band Orchid. There are probably more. He's always been smart and hilarious, never quite cynical though always quick to point out the absurd.

Now in a bandleader role, he's delivered us a classic a-side in "Local Jerk," which sounds like a party because it was actually recorded during one: tight disco drums, big claps, a neck-rolling baseline, horns, and group vocals. You can literally hear the bottles clinking.

The head trip is the b-side, "I Need Love," which is a most terrifying, ridiculous piece of nightlife satire.

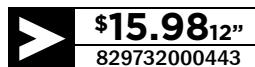

Produced by W. Andrew Raposo and James Murphy. Mixed by James Murphy for the DFA. Mastered and cut by Robert "Sparklebear" Weston at Chicago Masering Service. Pressed at Furnace Recording Pressing.

Flyte

"[Flyte's] third album welcomes new sounds, a slew of collaborators who are trailblazing their way through the industry right now, and a new intimacy never seen before from the band's storytelling." - Atwood Magazine

"À la Neil Young, Simon & Garfunkel, and Crosby, Stills & Nash, Flyte's songs are self-reflections through lenses of the past. Flyte's self-titled output is a classic folk-rock showcase of beautiful music pieces cultivated from tranquillity and introspection." - The Line of Best Fit

"With their self-titled third album Flyte have delivered a love letter. An intimate world of adoration and the rush of falling, Flyte is written with crystalline vocals and stunningly intricate guitars. It's the soundtrack to your laziest Sunday morning, hunkering down with everything that brings you comfort." - DORK Magazine

"The dark heart at the core of Flyte's alt-folk meets its match in one of music's edgiest operators." - The Sunday Times

Flyte is the third album from London duo of the same name, and their first efforts as an independent artist. The record is centered around poetry, love and was greatly inspired by vocalist Will Taylor's relationship with fellow musician, Billie Marten. # ELAN MEHLER

TROUBLE IN MIND

"Mehler's touch is as nuanced as Bill Evans's, and his phrasing draws on both jazz and classical music without directly importing licks from either."

— John Fordham, The Guardian (UK)

There is music that can only be created under certain conditions. As much preparation and work that goes into studio recordings for a crafted, perfected sound, there are recordings that resonate because of their spontaneity and natural feeling. On his new solo recording, Trouble In Mind, pianist Elan Mehler presents an extraordinary collection of music full of pathos that could only be caught at that moment in time at a recording studio in New Orleans.

The Boston-born, New York City based Mehler has become well known for his fluid touch on piano and his skilled bandleading. He is also well known for his record label, Newvelle Records, that caters to vinyl lovers with series of recordings covering a wide range of jazz and creative music. It happened to be during the culmination of Mehler's work on a series of recordings by New Orleanian artists that Trouble In Mind was born.

Having already recorded albums by soul singer Irma Thomas and blues legend Little Freddie King in New Orleans, Mehler was returning to the Crescent City in order to capture the late, great pianist Ellis Marsalis on tape at Esplanade Studios. It was on Mehler's descent into New Orleans that his plane was diverted to Austin, Texas, where he spent nine hours before he could arrive in New Orleans. After a sleepless night and a day of recording, Mehler found the studio empty, except for his engineer and co-producer Ben Chace and a lone piano. It was Chace who prompted Mehler to take a seat and let the tape roll to capture the performance presented here.

Incident At a Free Festival is a tribute to the mid-afternoon slots at Deeply Vale, Bickershaw, Krumlin, Weeley, and Plumpton - early 70s festivals that don't get the column inches afforded the Isle of Wight or Glastonbury Fayre, but which would have been rites of passage for thousands of kids. Bands lower down the bill would have been charged with waking up the gentle hippies and appealing to both the greasy bikers and the girls in knee-high boots who wanted to wiggle their hips. And the best way to do that was with volume, riffs and percussion. Compiled by the venerated Bob Stanley and Pete Wiggs of Saint Etienne, this is the heavier side of the early 70s they summarised on the acclaimed "English Weather" collection. There's an air of menace and illicit thrills among tracks by Andwella, Stack Waddy and Leaf Hound (whose "Growers of Mushroom" album is worth well over £1,000). Bigger names include the rabble-rousing Edgar Broughton Band and kings of the festival freakout, Hawkwind. They are represented by their rare version of 'Ejection' For every mystical Tyrannosaurus Rex performance there was something like Atomic Rooster's Tomorrow Night or Curved Air's Back Street Luv to capture the spirit of the day and stir the loins of festival goers; the tracks on "Incident At a Free Festival" were inspired by both Chicago's percussive wig-outs and the Pink Fairies' anarchic spirit. The sounds were heavy and frequently funky, with a definite scent of danger. Their message was clear and simple: clap your hands, stamp your feet, hold on to your mind.

Howesound

2023 solo release from YES guitar maestro, Steve Howe - Steve explains the concept of the Motif series of releases - "The MOTIF idea pulls together my solo guitar writing and performances combining new tunes and refreshed and revisited studio performances of other tunes. My solo guitar tunes combine country picking with classical guitar pieces that have broader influences, jazz, rock, flamenco and folk, they've all been absorbed in my approach to writing and playing. It's 15 years since Volume 1 was released so it's delightful to announce the release of MOTIF Volume Two. Again I present some new tunes and further explore pulling the selection together to present a clear focus on all things 'solo guitar'. I record these myself onto a hard drive and then work on selecting takes and giving the sound some due consideration. Assembling the running order and then the final mastering means it's on to the sleeve information and design. Soon it's a 'wrap' and you're holding it in your hand!"

Limited 10 CD box set. The first-ever CD box set gathering the entire 10 album collection released by Brian Eno's Obscure Records. Originally issued between 1975 and 1978, nearly 50 years on the output of Obscure remains radically forward-thinking - offering glimpses of a future yet to be fully seen - and amounts to one of the most important, influential, and creatively accomplished album series ever conceived. Curated by Eno and the composers Gavin Bryars and Michael Nyman - issuing the recording debuts of Bryars, Nyman, John Adams, Christopher Hobbs, David Toop, Max Eastley, Jan Steele, Simon Jeffes / The Penguin Café Orchestra, and Harold Budd, in addition to important works by John Cage, Tom Phillips, and John White - Obscure's collective output is a groundbreaking landmark in the histories of Minimalism, modern composition, and Experimental music, and laid much of the groundwork for the soon to emerge movement of Ambient music. Illuminating the remarkable, and largely otherwise undocumented, creative ferment within and between the British and American scenes of experimental music during the mid to late 1970s. Offering each of Obscure's albums, completely remastered and housed in faithful replicas of their original covers and liner notes, as well as a booklet filled with rare photos, archival material and texts by - among others - Gavin Bryars, Bradford Bailey, David Toop, Max Eastley, Richard Bernas, and Tom Recchion, this historic collection marks the first time this seminal series has received a complete reissue..

With their first two albums, "Business as Usual" and "Cargo," Men at Work had taken on the world by storm and had become one of the most popular bands in the early 1980's. The songs on "Two Hearts" are more grown-up and much more serious than on their first two albums. Colin Hay's songs, such as Man with Two Hearts, Everything I Need, Maria, Children on Parade and Hard Luck Story show a side of Hay that wasn't seen on the first two albums; his seriously sentimental and grown-up side. Greg Ham really comes to the fore as a songwriter this time around with Giving Up, Stay At Home, Snakes and Ladders and Still Life. Last but not least, Sail to You, which was written by all three of them sensing that there was still a little creative magic between them despite their differences. Overall, Two Hearts is a pretty good and much underrated album by Men at Work. It should also be a part of any fan's and music lover's music library.

E	Carpio, Luzmila__Inti Watana - El Retorno Del Sol	Zzk	758358993856	$14.98	50	Int'l & World Music
The iconic voice of Luzmila Carpio rings out from the Andes, spreading messages of indigenous struggle, female empowerment and unceasing love for both the people and planet around us. An undeniable icon of Bolivian Andean culture whose career spans multiple decades, Luzmila has released more than 25 albums (there's a reason that Rolling Stone described her as one of the most prolific indigenous singers of South America), inspiring millions while singing in both her native Aymara-Quechua language and Spanish. Yet Luzmila Carpio isn't someone who's content to simply rest on her laurels; she continues to take risks and push her music into vibrant new soundworlds. On new album Inti Watana: El Retorno del Sol (her first LP in a decade), she's teamed up with Argentinian producer Leonardo Martinelli (a.k.a. Tremor), a ZZK veteran who's spent the bulk of his career finding the common ground between Latin American folk rhythms and modern electronics. Building off the momentum created by 2015's Luzmila Carpio Meets ZZK collection-in which her music was reworked by not only Tremor, but standout electronic artists like Nicola Cruz, Chancha Vía Circuito and El Búho-this new album is meant to stretch across genres, generations and continents, with Luzmila's sonorous, occasionally birdsong-inspired vocalizations gracefully gliding amongst ambient textures, programmed beats and (of course) a bevy of traditional instrumentation from around the globe. Over the course of the LP, Bolivian charangos and quenás sit comfortably alongside the sounds of harmonium, violin, acoustic and electric guitar, Argentinian bombo leguero and sacha guitar, Armenian duduk and a litany of Asian percussion. Inti Watana: El Retorno del Sol-which will be accompanied by a full length documentary-might not sound like previous Luzmila Carpio releases, but on a spiritual, political and lyrical level, her core values remain unchanged. A native of Bolivia's Potosí region, she's long been a beacon for indigenous communities in not just her home country, but throughout Latin America, her voice inspiring joy and pride amongst ancient peoples whose culture and inherent beauty are often overlooked. Her pursuit of music-a field traditionally dominated by men in Andean communities-long ago made her a pillar of women's empowerment, but Carpio has also been a vocal proponent for social change, using her influence to advocate not just for the rights of women, but for the protection and increased visibility of all indigenous people. Yet it's the planet itself that Carpio is most passionate about, and she's devoted much of her new album to conversations with Mother Earth and Father Sun, whom she refers to as Pachamama and Tata Inti. In a time of acute environmental turmoil, it's more important than ever to find harmony with our surroundings, and Carpio has purposely planned for the unveiling of her new LP to coincide with the June 21 solstice, while the record's release date falls on September 21-the date of the September equinox. There 's an ancient magic flowing through Carpio's music, one forged through millennia of ceremony, ritual and communion with nature. On Inti Watana: El Retorno del Sol, that magic feels more vibrant than ever before, whether she's joyously referencing sacred traditions (Kacharpayita), pondering loss and regret (Requiem para un Ego), talking to birds (Ofrenda de los Pájaros) or paying tribute to the divinity of the natural world (La Alegría del Gran Venado). Through it all, Carpio exudes a palpable sense of wonder, her optimism (and reverence for all that exists beyond the everyday) undimmed by even the most seemingly insurmountable challenges. Pachamama and Tata Inti may be the central characters of Inti Watana: El Retorno del Sol, but it 's Carpio herself who emerges as the album 's most inspiring figure.

E	East Village__Drop Out	Heavenly	5400863119911	$20.98	25	Rock
Remastered 30th Anniversary Deluxe Edition. An autumnal treasure, East Village's Drop Out has spent the past thirty years finding new ears to bewitch and new hearts to melt. The only album from this British four-piece, recorded and released in the early nineties, it's long been considered one of the hidden jewels of it's time, and is talked of with hushed reverence by people who know. Bob Stanley of Saint Etienne once called it an elegy for a particular brand of eighties guitar music, sweet minor chords and Dylanesque lyrics, which captures what makes it so special; in summarising it's era, though, it also effortlessly transcends it. The 30th anniversary edition is available in an LP with tip-on style jacket and four-page insert and a double CD, featuring an extra disc compiling the group's early singles and alternative versions. This CD edition, previously only been available in Japan, now features a new, superior mix of their second single, Back Between Places. Both feature new, typically eloquent liner notes from writer Jon Savage.

Eramus Hall's 1980 debut album Your Love Is My Desire is among the most sought-after records of the modern soul era, coveted by DJs and record collectors alike, with rare copies of the original pressing selling for up to $900. The soul/funk group only recorded the one album for Detroit's Westbound Records, home of funk heavyweights Funkadelic and Ohio Players, before moving to Capitol for their second and final LP in 1984. This long overdue reissue marks the third release in Westbound's remaster series with Org Music. Working from the original master tapes at the iconic 54 Sound studio in Detroit, the recordings have been restored and remastered with care for the essential version of this masterpiece.

E	Hackman,Marika__Big Sigh	Chrysalis	810098505741	$14.98	100	Rock
Big Sigh brings together the best of Marika's previous works as an indie artist and adds a new layer of indie-rock production. The 10-track album was produced entirely by Marika with contributions from Sam Potts Davies (Frank Ocean, Radiohead, Red Hot Chili Peppers) & Charlie Andrew (Alt J, Wolf Alice, London Grammar). Focus Track: The Yellow Mile. Lyrically, Marika pairs romance alongside grief, vulnerability and feelings of being trapped. Visually the record combines bold and violent concepts (as seen in music videos for No Caffeine and Slime) and minimal sketch work on the album artwork. US/UK radio (They-Do & Planetary) and press (Practise Music & Grandstand) teams, along with TV (Your Army) and international promo. Such was the case with Big Sigh - the hardest record Marika has ever made. As it's title suggests, it is a release of sorts - of sadness, of stress and lust, but mostly relief.
D	Harvester__Hemat	Arcangelo	4988044094963	$31.98		Rock
2001 CD reissue of this psychedelic underground masterpiece from 1970, with a 12-page booklet, including English liner notes and photos. Includes one bonus track not found on the original LP. Recorded 1968-69, digitally remastered in 2001. The lone album by this post-International Harvester group, originally issued in 1970, once again led by the academic tape-composer turned radical folkie psychedelicist Bo Anders Persson. Accompanied by an able body of co-conspirators including Thomas Gartz (drummer/glue of the Mecki Mark Men, whose LPs on the Limelight label are not to be missed), Torbjörn Abelli, and let's not forget Ulla on small cymbals. Thunder-plod of magnificent tidal proportions, recalling the burnt splendor of the Träd Gräs och Stenar Live Gardet 1970 set - TGOS in fact were nothing more than a stripped down quartet version of Harvester! Another piece to the incestuous little jigsaw that was the 1967-1972 Swedish druggist music school dropout sector. Completely burnt, devoid of restraint, massive (some of the best sounding drums this side of Zeppelin, to boot). Blown through and through and through.

E	McCafferty,Dan__In Memory Of Dan Mccafferty - No Turning Back	Roar! Rock Of Angels	5200123664591	$18.98	150	Rock
In the annals of rock music, there are few singers who have such an expressive voice as Dan McCafferty. As the charismatic frontman of the Scottish band Nazareth, McCafferty has been involved in more than 25 albums, released hits such as 'Love Hurts', 'Dream On', 'this Flight Tonight' and 'morning Dew' and toured all over the world. After a unique career of 50 years, Dan McCafferty passed away on November 8, 2022 at the age of 76. His name will be remembered, his great songs will continue to be played on countless rock radio stations around the world. Undiscovered musical treasures were kept in McCafferty's private home archives. Some of them can now be found on the posthumous homage: 'No Turning Back - In Memory of Dan McCafferty'. The previously unreleased songs Occident and No Turning Back are original recordings from the late 1990s that McCafferty recorded with German director, composer and music producer Christoph Busse. The previously unreleased track 'Children's Eyes' is the result of a collaboration with composer and producer Detlef Wiedeke. All three tracks show the stylistically enormous range of his rough rock voice. With 'Into the Ring', 'starry Eyes' and 'sunny Island', three pieces from a particularly eventful career phase of the Scottish musician follow. The songs were released in 1987 on his now long out-of-print solo album Into the Ring. The album was created between the two Nazareth classics Cinema (1986) and Snakes'n'Ladders (1989). In Memory of Dan McCafferty is rounded off with Going Home from 1993 and from the eponymous album of the short-lived project Seasons, with original Scottish bagpipes, fiddles, flutes and percussion instruments. The song is based on the piece Largo from the 9th Symphony From the New World by Antonín Dvoák. There are also two recent cover versions of the Nazareth evergreens 'Love Hurts' and 'Dream On' as bonus tracks, sung by Greek singer Panos Kalifis, whose vocal colour is strikingly similar to McCafferty's. Last but not least, the album cover features a photo of a young Dan McCafferty, while the booklet contains twelve pencil and charcoal illustrations. No Turning Back - In Memory of Dan McCafferty is a musical must-have for every McCafferty/Nazareth and hard rock fan. Artist Origin: UK/ ScotlandTracklist: 1. Childrens Eyes (previously unreleased)2. There is music that can only be created under certain conditions. As much preparation and work that goes into studio recordings for a crafted, perfected sound, there are recordings that resonate because of their spontaneity and natural feeling. On his new solo recording, Trouble In Mind, pianist Elan Mehler presents an extraordinary collection of music full of pathos that could only be caught at that moment in time at a recording studio in New Orleans. The Boston-born, New York City based Mehler has become well known for his fluid touch on piano and his skilled bandleading. He is also well known for his record label, Newvelle Records, that caters to vinyl lovers with series of recordings covering a wide range of jazz and creative music. After a formidable first volume, Cédric Tiberghien continues his exploration of Beethoven's corpus of variations. At the heart of this new album are the famous Thirty-two Variations in C minor and their tangy reminiscences of Bach - the Ciaccona from Partita No.2 for violin solo, presented here in Brahms's masterly transcription. He also takes the opportunity to show us what a certain school of American composers (Crumb, Cage, Feldman) has made of this tradition of variation form.

The Flash, directed by Andy Muschietti, is the DC Super Hero's first-ever standalone feature film. Worlds collide when Barry Allen uses his superpowers to travel back in time in order to change the events of the past. But when his attempt to save his family inadvertently alters the future, Barry becomes trapped in a reality in which General Zod has returned, threatening annihilation, and there are no Super Heroes to turn to. That is, unless Barry can coax a very different Batman out of retirement and rescue an imprisoned Kryptonian... albeit not the one he's looking for. Ultimately, to save the world that he is in and return to the future that he knows, Barry's only hope is to race for his life. But will making the ultimate sacrifice be enough to reset the universe? The film's score was composed by lauded two-time GRAMMY- and BAFTA-nominated composer Benjamin Wallfisch. The Soundtrack features 42 tracks with over 80 minutes of music.

Darkness and despair are a breeding ground for creativity in the right hands. Since their inception in 2017, Atlanta-based band Alluvial have embraced the grim and gloom that the world has to offer through an intricately balanced blend of rapid-fire polyrhythms, haunting, sludgy atmospheres and tightly wound grooves. The band - consisting of Kevin Muller [vocals], Wes Hauch [guitar, vocals], Tim Walker [bass], and Zach Dean [drums] - take a stab at creating an even more sinister sound than their previous album, Sarcoma, with their upcoming 2024 EP, Death Is But a Door [Nuclear Blast]. E	Better Lovers__God Made Me An Animal - Clear W/ Silver Pink &	Sharptone Records	4065629713539	$24.98	200	Rock
A group of tried-and-true musicians got together and found the sort of camaraderie and kinship you typically only find once in a lifetime. They didn't overthink it. They didn't waste a second. They simply left their blood, sweat, and tears on tape-like they've always done. For as much as Better Lovers represents the union of former Every Time I Die members Jordan Buckley [guitar], Steve Micciche [bass], and Clayton Goose Holyoak [drums] with The Dillinger Escape Plan and Killer Be Killed frontman Greg Puciato [vocals], and musician (Fit For An Autopsy/END) and GRAMMY® Award-winning producer, Will Putney [guitar], it really cements the bond of five friends around a shared vision. That vision is as uncompromising, unapologetic, and undeniable as anything they've individually done, yet it's refined by experience and a commitment to a future together. E	East Village__Drop Out	Heavenly	5400863119904	$36.98	50	Rock
Remastered 30th Anniversary Deluxe Edition. An autumnal treasure, East Village's Drop Out has spent the past thirty years finding new ears to bewitch and new hearts to melt. The only album from this British four-piece, recorded and released in the early nineties, it's long been considered one of the hidden jewels of it's time, and is talked of with hushed reverence by people who know. Bob Stanley of Saint Etienne once called it an elegy for a particular brand of eighties guitar music, sweet minor chords and Dylanesque lyrics, which captures what makes it so special; in summarising it's era, though, it also effortlessly transcends it. The 30th anniversary edition is available in an LP with tip-on style jacket and four-page insert and a double CD, featuring an extra disc compiling the group's early singles and alternative versions. This CD edition, previously only been available in Japan, now features a new, superior mix of their second single, Back Between Places. Both feature new, typically eloquent liner notes from writer Jon Savage.

This long overdue reissue marks the third release in Westbound's remaster series with Org Music.
E	Fish Narc__Fruiting Body	K. Records	789856129515	$24.98	30	Rock
The era of fish narc has dawned - - - cool fire and warm passion and bad af. Decades in the making, fruiting body [KLP295] is fish narc's third solo album in as many years. A high-security prism of emotional drive bys and jam beats that gel. Poptones from beyond the bedroom laptop underground. Fish narc's hybridizing of post punk with modern sound packs a well-seasoned punch to the contemporary palette. Production on this album by keyblayde808 only makes it all the more epic. A collaboration with 8485 heart filled with rage has us all in a tizzy, a post-traumatic love anthem. Fruiting body is thirteen songs good. The breaking news: fruiting body has been melded into a long playing (LP) phonograph record and cassette tape from K, available wherever you spike the jive. Get down on it.fish narc and GothBoiClique - - - WHAT WE KNOWIf you have grazed the cheek of the GothBoiClique (GBC) you're aware it's the modern day Mouse Pack of folk-hearted rappers with an emotional boiling point. Fish narc joined the GBC snap fray as producer and guitar slashing action mag who has since collaborated production-wise with Lil Peep (Goth Angel Sinner EP), Mackned x Horse Head (Too Hard), Lil Tracy (Drunk Punx), Yung Bruh (laced/neurotic), Cold Hart (Get Dressed) - - - it's all too vital.Since 2019, fish narc has written and toured his own graphemic songs, influenced by rap, punk and underground sounds. He released the albums WILDFIRE in 2020, Camouflage in 2022 and now fruiting body [KLP295].

D	Fukui,Ryo__Live At Vidro '77	Lawson Ent	826853001984	$58.98		Jazz
Double vinyl LP pressing. This is a completely unreleased live recording from June 8, 1977. The recording was made at the Sapporo live house 'vidro' by Masataka Ito, the producer of Fukui's 'scenery' and 'mellow Dream'. This is the performance of the Fukui Trio at that time, but at the same time, it has an overwhelming amount of heat and freshness that you don't find in studio recordings, and it is very exciting. Not to mention the brilliant 16-minute 'mellow Dream', the dynamic 'speak Low', the lustrous 'Body & Soul', the galloping 'Love For Sale', the profound 'mr. P. C.', and the spilling 'my Foolish Heart'. It was an amazing performance.
E	Hackman,Marika__Big Sigh	Chrysalis	810098505734	$24.98	75	Rock
Big Sigh brings together the best of Marika's previous works as an indie artist and adds a new layer of indie-rock production. The 10-track album was produced entirely by Marika with contributions from Sam Petts Davies (Frank Ocean, Radiohead, Red Hot Chili Peppers) & Charlie Andrew (Alt J, Wolf Alice, London Grammar). Focus Track: The Yellow Mile. Lyrically, Marika pairs romance alongside grief, vulnerability and feelings of being trapped. Visually the record combines bold and violent concepts (as seen in music videos for No Caffeine and Slime) and minimal sketch work on the album artwork. US/UK radio (They-Do & Planetary) and press (Practise Music & Grandstand) teams, along with TV (Your Army) and international promo. Such was the case with Big Sigh - the hardest record Marika has ever made. As it's title suggests, it is a release of sorts - of sadness, of stress and lust, but mostly relief.

'this 20-song, 30-minute album, left as a movie soundtrack, has a certain charm that invites repeated listening. It's similar to the music on Rei Harakami's original album, but it's much more... It feels like music that casually exists there. Even though it's supposed to be music that goes along with movies, it resonates as personal music. Taken from Abdullah Ibrahim's summer 2023 sold-out headline date at London's Barbican Centre, the new album 3 follows suit and is spread across two performances - the first is recorded without an audience ahead of the concert straight to analogue on a 1 Scully tape machine, which had previously been used by Elvis at the famous Memphis-based Sun Studios. The second recording is taken from the evening's performance itself with Ibrahim performing in a unique trio which includes Cleave Guyton (flute, piccolo, saxophone) who has performed alongside the likes of Aretha Franklin, Dizzy Gillespie, and Joe Henderson, as well as lauded bassist and cellist Noah Jackson, both of which are members of Ekaya and featured on Ibrahim's top 3 Billboard Jazz album The Balance. 3-LP, gatefold, 140g

'this Is What I Want To Say'..is the product of a 40 year musical journey. Highs and lows, anger and joy, belief and doubt reflected in raw and honest observations of Martyn Joseph's sojourn and the state of play today. A stripped back acoustic render reflects his weapon of choice that has provided hope and solace and a commentary of companionship to a worldwide army of ardent fans for decades through his passionate commitment to social justice, mystery, and love. 'From a vast goodbye to a small hello' he writes in 'Folding', the opening song of surrender and resilience, and where else would you find an album calling for the elimination of a tyrant alongside a call for greater love and empathy. Embracing the contradictions and beauty with a fearless pen, Joseph continues to cut an impressive path. If you're looking for truth, these songs will anchor you to a horizon of hope.

D Lakatos, Robert__Never Let Me Go Jazz Shinsekai 4988044092464 $76.98 Jazz
Aesthetics and power in competition. A profound pianism that you will discover anew in the standard tunes. This Lakatos will move you. Hungarian pianist Robert Lakatos' one of the finest work is now available on analog vinyl. A lustrous beauty. The deep sound of the delicately chosen notes gives a sense of space in this superb recording. The realism of the sound, where you can even hear the breath of the musicians, is the real pleasure of jazz. * Robert Lakatos: piano* Fabian Gisler: bass* Dominic Egli: drums

D Lang, Walter__Moonlight Echoes Jazz Shinsekai 4988044092501 $76.98 Jazz
There is fun and nostalgia, warmth and sadness... Beautiful moonlit night scenes are woven into this album. A dream world depicted by pianist Walter Lang. In the evening when a thin moon floats softly in the sky, the fluttering tones bring a hint of night. The drums that churn out stardust are accompanied by low strings, and the melody spun from the piano weaves moon shadows throughout the entire piece. This is a passionate European jazz story that is a counterpart to the previous work 'starlight Reflections'. * Walter Lang: piano* Thomas Markusson: bass* Sebastian Merk: drums

D Lang, Walter__Starlight Reflections Jazz Shinsekai 4988044092495 $76.98 Jazz
Countless stars flutter in the clear stillness. A romantic love song painted on canvas. The clear tone is gentle, and the afterglow of the night lingers like some secret. Walter Lang painted this scene of a starry night sky. This love song on canvas is transformed by their hands into a fairy tale read on a night long ago. The dainty piano, light rhythm, and performance that knows how to make you listen to it. This is a romantic European jazz story that will be paired with the next album 'moonlight Echoes'. * Walter Lang: piano* Thomas Markusson: bass* Sebastian Merk: drums

FOR FANS OF: ASIA, URIAH HEPP, NAZARETH, GOTTHARD, SAGA, THUNDER, PINK CREAM 69 There are few great bands on our planet that you can infallibly identify within the first few bars of one of their songs. Their unique melodic skill, their tasteful instrumentation, the right balance of depth and catchiness, and then of course that charismatic voice: Magnum are Magnum! The same can be said of their latest studio album 'Here Comes The Rain', which will be out on Steamhammer/SPV from 12 January 2024 on CD + DVD, double vinyl LP, as a box set and for digital download, proving once again that classic rock music could hardly sound more atmospheric. The band surrounding frontman Bob Catley and guitarist/songwriter Tony Clarkin are also set to release two lead singles on 22 November 2023 and 3 January 2024 and a tour has been scheduled to kick off in early April 2024 (see tour dates). The album's highly inspired artwork again is designed by the great Rodney Matthews, who has already created a number of Magnum sleeves to support the band's atmospherically dense music. There can be no doubt about it: 'Here Comes The Rain' sees the Magnum line-up consisting of Catley, Clarkin, keyboardist Rick Benton, Dennis Ward and drummer Lee Morris once again succeed in creating an outstanding album

E	McCafferty,Dan__In Memory Of Dan Mccafferty - No Turning Back Ltd. Gold LP - In the annals of rock music, there are few singers who have such an expressive voice as Dan McCafferty. As the charismatic frontman of the Scottish band Nazareth, McCafferty has been involved in more than 25 albums, released hits such as 'Love Hurts', 'Dream On', 'this Flight Tonight' and 'morning Dew' and toured all over the world. After a unique career of 50 years, Dan McCafferty passed away on November 8, 2022 at the age of 76. His name will be remembered, his great songs will continue to be played on countless rock radio stations around the world. Undiscovered musical treasures were kept in McCafferty's private home archives. Some of them can now be found on the posthumous homage: 'No Turning Back - In Memory of Dan McCafferty'. The previously unreleased songs Occident and No Turning Back are original recordings from the late 1990s that McCafferty recorded with German director, composer and music producer Christoph Busse. The previously unreleased track 'Children's Eyes' is the result of a collaboration with composer and producer Detlef Wiedeke. All three tracks show the stylistically enormous range of his rough rock voice. With 'Into the Ring', 'starry Eyes' and 'sunny Island', three pieces from a particularly eventful career phase of the Scottish musician follow. The songs were released in 1987 on his now long out-of-print solo album Into the Ring. The album was created between the two Nazareth classics Cinema (1986) and Snakes'n'Ladders (1989). In Memory of Dan McCafferty is rounded off with Going Home from 1993 and from the eponymous album of the short-lived project Seasons, with original Scottish bagpipes, fiddles, flutes and percussion instruments. The song is based on the piece Largo from the 9th Symphony From the New World by Antonín Dvoák. There are also two recent cover versions of the Nazareth evergreens 'Love Hurts' and 'Dream On' as bonus tracks, sung by Greek singer Panos Kalifis, whose vocal colour is strikingly similar to McCafferty's. Last but not least, the album cover features a photo of a young Dan McCafferty, while the booklet contains twelve pencil and charcoal illustrations. No Turning Back - In Memory of Dan McCafferty is a musical must-have for every McCafferty/Nazareth and hard rock fan. Artist Origin: UK/ ScotlandTracklist:1. Childrens Eyes (previously unreleased)2. This work was recorded with a different approach from the band's musicality and the song 'Kawano Nagareno Yuni' provided to Misora Hibari, and when 'mono (object)', which seems to be about Japanese beauty, is replaced with 'Oto (sound)'. In his all too brief involvement in the Jamaican music business Justin Yap left his mark producing some of the best ska ever made, and SKA-BOO-DA-BA is perhaps the most coherent LP in that genre. Derived from a single 18 hour session at Studio One in November 1964, Justin and brother Ivan laid on food, drink and ganja: as Justin tells it This was a monster session and it turned out the greatest recording for me. The highlights were the five original compositions by Don Drummond - Marcus Junior, The Reburial, Confucious, Chinatown and Smiling along some well-chosen cover versions. Two from the Duke Ellington book: Ska-Ra-Van a take on the classic Caravan and Surftide Seven, Ellington's In A Mellotone. Title track Ska-Boo-Da-Ba is a version of Bill Doggett's 1958 King US 45 Boo-Da-Ba. China Clipper and Ringo (titled Ringo Oiwake) are taken from Arthur Lyman's Taboo LP. The last track on this fine LP, Lawless Street, is a feature for Roland Alphonso.

Coke bottle green Vinyl. 'For Australian indie folk singer/songwriter Harrison Storm, Wonder, Won't You? is the beginning to a wondrous journey of unbridled introspection into the deepest crevices of his own heart and mind. The debut album is an invitation to join Storm on this adventure - to break down walls and open up. Storm discovered music's therapeutic powers at an early age. Growing up in a culture of toxic masculinity, hewould listen to artists like City and Colour, Angus Stone, and Jeff Buckley and feel a less isolated. Those musicians inspired Storm to pursue his own music career, and in 2015 he took to the streets in Melbourne tobusk, where he made enough money to finance his debut EP Sense of Home. A record deal with Nettwerk soon followed, and over the course of the next seven years, Storm released four EPs: Change It All (2017),Falling Down (2019), Be Slow (2020), and Under Dusk (2022) - the latter a collaboration with Enna Blake. Storm's songs have since racked up hundreds of millions of streams, with radio plays on Australia's triple j andthe UK's BBC Radio 2. The song 'sense of Home' was certified Gold in Canada in 2020. On Wonder, Won't You?, his vision comes to life through ten songs aching with raw emotion. Intimate andunabridged, the album sees Storm at his most vulnerable, his most sensitive, and his most human. E	Wallfisch,Benjamin__Flash - O.S.T.	Diggers Factory	794043216046	$39.98	50	Soundtrack
The Flash, directed by Andy Muschietti, is the DC Super Hero's first-ever standalone feature film. Worlds collide when Barry Allen uses his superpowers to travel back in time in order to change the events of the past. But when his attempt to save his family inadvertently alters the future, Barry becomes trapped in a reality in which General Zod has returned, threatening annihilation, and there are no Super Heroes to turn to. That is, unless Barry can coax a very different Batman out of retirement and rescue an imprisoned Kryptonian... albeit not the one he's looking for. Ultimately, to save the world that he is in and return to the future that he knows, Barry's only hope is to race for his life. But will making the ultimate sacrifice be enough to reset the universe? The film's score was composed by lauded two-time GRAMMY- and BAFTA-nominated composer Benjamin Wallfisch. The Soundtrack features 42 tracks with over 80 minutes of music.
A futuristic concept album that reads almost like a Marxist allegory... weaving intricately wrought progressive passages into a crushingly heavy framework that owes as much to Meshuggah as Dream Theater. Metal Maniacs. Long hailed as a masterpiece of progressive/technical metal, Zero Hour's The Towers Of Avarice has been the cornerstone of prog collections since it's 2001 release. Sensory is pleased to make it available on vinyl for the first time. The album was cut for vinyl from the original pre-mastered recording for maximum dynamics. Zero Hour's influences range from the dark brooding power of Fates Warning to the intricate technicality of Spiral Architect and Meshuggah. The band features twin brothers Jasun and Troy Tipton on guitars and bass, drummer Mike Guy, and vocalist Erik Rosvold. The Towers Of Avarice is a bleak futuristic conceptual work reminiscent of Blade Runner. The story tells the tale of two societies - one above ground obsessed with consumption and the restl.

The magic of Blossom Toes' whimsical third single, Postcard, is revitalized in this limited edition 7 reissue. With fresh new art by Piper Gates Design and remastering by Prof. Stoned, this popsike masterpiece has simply never sounded better. Released during their pivotal 1968 transition and the golden age of psychedelia, this single bridges the vibrant sound of We Are Ever So Clean with the groundbreaking hard rock intensity of If Only For A Moment. Featuring then-newcomer Poli Palmer (later of Family), who not only graced the drums but also penned and sang the jazzy B-side track Everybody's Leaving Me Now.
