ZAKK SABBATH are back with an even more massive dose of pure BLACK SABBATH worship! Celebrating more than 50 years of Birmingham's most famous four, the 'inventors' of heavy metal are being honoured by the preeminent tribute trio led by guitarist and singer Zakk Wylde with the double album "Doomed Forever Foverer Doomed". This loving tribute contains the Americans' brilliant take on BLACK SABBATH's second and third full-lengths, the classic heavy metal masterpieces "Paranoid" (1970) and "Master of Reality" (1971). ZAKK SABBATH were founded by BLACK LABEL SOCIETY guitarist and singer Zakk Wylde, who is widely renowned for his many years as lead guitarist for OZZY OSBOURNE and now PANTERA. After initially only performing live with rotating members, ZAKK SABBATH solidified a stable cast with the addition of OZZY OSBOURNE and ROB ZOMBIE bass player Blasko and Joey Castillo on drums (also of DANZIG and QUEENS OF THE STONE AGE). Inspired by the 50th anniversary of BLACK SABBATH's self-titled debut full-length, ZAKK SABBATH released a tribute to this monumental heavy metal milestone under the title "Vertigo" in 2020. The album was heaped with praise from critics and fans alike. The trio scored a massive global success as witnessed by impressive Billboard chart entries such as #5 on the US Hard Music chart, #7 on the Current Rock Albums chart and #27 on the Billboard Top Albums chart. Pure passion for classic metal has driven ZAKK SABBATH to erect an even more monolithic monument to BLACK SABBATH than before with the double album "Doomed Forever Foverer Doomed". Time to bang heads again to these beautifully revisited songs that easily rank among the most influential and consequential ever composed by humans!

RELEASE DATE: MARCH 1ST, 2024

When ACCEPT first launched at the end of the 70s, the metal genre didn't exist - at first the band could only be labeled with the (quality) seal "crazy loud and crazy wild". Today we know that this was (and is) metal par excellence. And we also know that ACCEPT opened the door to thrash metal, inspiring giants such as METALLICA whose guitarist Kirk Hammett recently stated in the German magazine "Gitarre & Bass" that ACCEPT's guitarist Wolf Hoffmann had a huge influence on him.

ACCEPT have been a worldwide music phenomenon for more than 40 years. They still impress with razor-sharp guitar licks and a steel-hard sound. The band created all-time metal classics like "Balls To The Wall", "Metal Heart" and many more. In addition, the band has sold millions of records, achieved gold status in the USA, top 10 chart positions worldwide and a number 1 album (Germany, Finland) for "Blind Rage" (2014).

"Too Mean To Die" is the band's fifth album featuring US vocalist and front man Mark Tornillo & was recorded in the world music capital of Nashville with British master producer Andy Sneap, who works for JUDAS PRIEST and MEGADETH among others.

MANNEQUIN PUSSY

Mannequin Pussy's music feels like a resilient and galvanizing shout that demands to be heard. Across four albums, the Philadelphia rock band that consists of Colins "Bear" Regisford (bass, vocals), Kaleen Reading (drums, percussion), Maxine Steen (guitar, synths), and Marisa Dabice (guitar, vocals) has made cathartic tunes about despairing times. "There's just so much constantly going on that feels intentionally evil that trying to make something beautiful feels like a radical act," says Dabice. "The ethos of this band has always been to bring people together."

Their new album, I Got Heaven, which is out March 1 via Epitaph Records, is the band's most fully realized recording yet. Over ten ambitious tracks which abruptly turn from searing punk to inviting alternative pop, the album is deeply concerned with desire, the power in being alone, and how to live in an unfeeling and unkind world. It's a document of a band doubling down on their unshakable bond to make something furious, thrilling, and wholly alive.

Following the 2019 release of their critically acclaimed third album Patience, Mannequin Pussy returned in 2021 for their EP Perfect. They toured that release relentlessly and added guitarist Maxine Steen to the band's official lineup. The band changed their entire creative formula, choosing to write together in the studio in Los Angeles with producer John Congleton, over slowly crafting tracks at home. "Everyone felt empowered to speak up about their own ideas to make this thing the best it could possibly be," says Regisford.

MINISTRY

HOPIUMFORTHEMASSES

Regimes rise and fall. Stars shine and fade. Trends come and go. MINISTRY lives on. The six-time GRAMMY® Award-nominated multiplatinum juggernaut founded and fronted by Al Jourgensen has seeped through the darkest corners of popular culture and infected the mainstream for over four decades, gleefully spewing sonic bile between the cracks of the system's facade. Born in the eighties, they survived the nineties, weathered the turn-of-the-century, and even held on through a goddamn pandemic. However, MINISTRY shows no signs of stopping or slowing down—even for a breath. Instead, the band cranks out another blast of anthemic industrial metal on its 2024 opus and sixteenth full-length LP, HOPIUMFORTHEMASSES.

Altan is arguably the most iconic band working in traditional Irish music today. For the past 35 years, they have been bringing the music of their native County Donegal to the world stage. Irish-language songs and dynamic twin-fiddling, the hallmarks of Altan's sound, framework the band's newest album, aptly titled DONEGAL. The album's 10 tracks pay homage to Donegal's rich musical heritage, breathtaking landscapes, and vibrant culture. The authenticity and allure of the music transports listeners to a bygone time in rural Ireland while simultaneously forging a connection between the past and modern times.

Bandleader, lead vocalist and fiddler Mairéad Ní Mhaonaigh is in fine form, lending her angelic voice to "Liostáil mé le Sáirsint" and "The Barley and the Rye" and contributing "Port Árinn Mhór/Port Kitty Rua Mooney," an outstanding set of jigs, to the project. Altan's newest member, Clare Friel, shares vocal duties with Ní Mhaonaigh, most notably on the track "Faoiseamh a Geheobhadsa" and adds her fiery twin fiddle playing to great effect. Accordionist Martin Tourish brings his formidable chops and compositional sense to the medley The House of Baoithín which pays homage to the mid 6th century Saint Baoithín. Dáithí Sproule (guitar), Mark Kelly (guitar, harmony vocals) and Ciaran Curran (bouzouki, mandolin) round out the band which is augmented by special guests Jim Higgins (Percussion), Steve Cooney (bass) and Graham Henderson (Keyboards) on select tracks. Recorded by Manus Lunny at Stiúdió na Mara ("Seafront Studio") in County Donegal, DONEGAL captures the essence of the region which has inspired Altan since the band's inception and further cements Altan's legacy as one of the great cultural treasures of Ireland.

PISSED JEANS HALF DIVORCED

SUB
POP

CD / LP | SP 1599 | RELEASE DATE: MARCH 1, 2024 | NON-EXPORTABLE OUTSIDE THE U.S.

HIGHLIGHTS:

- Punk legends Pissed Jeans return with one of their most urgent, scorching albums to date.
- Recorded by Don Godwin at Tonal Park in Takoma Park, Maryland
- On Spotify, Pissed Jeans have over 40k monthly listeners and 39k followers.
- Press and radio album campaigns begin January 8, 2024.
- Hometown: Allentown/Philadelphia, PA

DESCRIPTION:

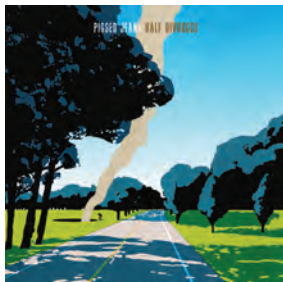

Pissed Jeans has never been a band that goes halfway—they're known for their feral vocals, biting lyrics, buzzsaw guitars, and unhinged live shows, and their sixth album, Half-Divorced is no exception. These songs skewer the tension between youthful optimism and the sobering realities of adulthood, and when viewed through frontman Matt Korvette's scowl, everything takes on a level of violent absurdity.

Pissed Jeans' notorious acerbic sense of humor remains sharper than ever as they dismember some of the joys that contemporary adult life has to offer, from helicopter parents to stolen catalytic converters to being $62,000 in debt. On "Seatbelt Alarm Silencer," Korvette growls, "Call it a death drive but that ain't fair / Drive implies I'm headed somewhere."

Korvette, Brad Fry (guitar), Randy Huth (bass), and Sean McGuinness (drums) weren't in any rush to finish Half-Divorced, which was recorded by Don Godwin at Tonal Park in Takoma Park, Maryland. "We're not the kind of band that bangs out a new record every two years," Korvette said. "Pissed Jeans is truly like an art project for us, which is what makes it so fun." This lack of restraint rages within the songs that unexpectedly veer into classic hardcore punk territory—often coming in at under two minutes long and erupting like the "butane tank explosion" Korvette sings about in "Junktime."

In the last song, "Moving On," Korvette sneers, "Cheesing into my camera phone / Pretending that I'm not alone / Life's the first thing that we all postpone." One gets the sense that Pissed Jeans refuses to "postpone" life in quite the same way—life, like art, is something that happens now, not later.

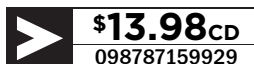

-Chelsea Hodson

In such turbulent times it's important to stand closely together as humanity instead of fighting each other. That's exactly what the new FIREWIND album 'Stand United' is about! In addition to societal problems and environmental issues, which are the main topic in ten new tracks, we are expecting the strongest masterpiece of band history. In line with the new release, the band around ex Ozzy Osbourne guitarist Gus G. and vocalist Herbie Langhans (formerly Avantasia) will spread their message of 'Stand United' all over Europe in spring 2024. Combined with MASTERPLAN they will play a big co-headliner tour, among Germany, France, Spain, Sweden and many other countries. 'Stand United' will be released on March 1st, 2024 - available as several limited splatter and marbled vinyl variations, CD digipak and digital version.

Tracklist:

1. Salvation Day
2. Stand United
3. Destiny is Calling
4. The Power Lies Within

Tommy Boy Releases Limited 7" Pressing of Queen Latifah Ladies' First ft. Monie Love Come Into My House

The third single off her seminal 1989 debut album, "Ladies' First" remains one of Queen Latifah's signature songs. Featuring Monie Love, "Ladies' First" became an anthem of women's empowerment. This 7" also includes a B-side of "Come Into My House," originally released in 1990 as the fourth single.

OVERVIEW

Live at Bonnaroo '22 captures Melbourne psych-rockers King Gizzard & the Lizard Wizard at their most freewheeling and ferocious. Taking the stage at the Tennessee festival to a captive audience as the clock struck midnight, the band ripped through this eleven-song set with intensity, letting up only to space out on certain tracks like the near ten-minute "Magenta Mountain" and a poignant rendition of fan favorite "Work This Time". This official bootlegger version of the release is spread out across two LPs, with one pressed on plutonium and the other on magma color vinyl. The release was mastered for vinyl by Dave Gardner and pressed at Furnace Record Pressing.

ROYAL TUSK | ALTRUISTIC

Individuality thrives on unpredictability. Rather than follow a well-trodden path Royal Tusk bulldoze a lane of their own. The Alberta Canada trio fuses hypnotic hooks to hard hitting riffs offset by untethered rhythms and undeniably honest lyrics. One moment they will serve up an earthquake barrage of distortion only to incite a bold stadium-sized singalong in the next breath. After amassing tens of millions of streams and earning acclaim from Billboard, Loudwire, CoS, Brave Words and many others, they elevate once more on their upcoming third full-length offering 'Altruistic'.

New Riders Of The Purple Sage Live At The Capitol Theater October 31, 1975

Essentially, NRPS were initially formed as a vehicle for the Grateful Dead to indulge their tastes for country music beyond the albums Workingman's Dead and American Beauty. Although they never remotely approached the success or longevity of the Dead, they attracted a considerable audience through their association with the band. However, they quickly developed an identity of their own and, after signing with Columbia in 1970, had recorded 6 studio albums by the time of their appearance at the Capitol Theatre. Here, they casually drop in numbers from their latest work, Oh, What A Mighty Time, but heavily intersperse it with highlights from Brujo, Panama Red and Gypsy Cowboy, even reaching back to their 1971 debut. For Lovers of '60s country rock, it needs the signature of NRPS to underline it and this is a perfect way to hear it being written. Timeline revisits a historical performance from San Francisco's iconic country rockers. Presented with a fully restored and professionally remastered original WNEW-FM radio broadcast with background notes and timeline photos.

Dave Edmunds is a Welsh singer-songwriter, guitarist and record producer. Although he is mainly associated with pub rock and new wave, having many hits in the 1970s and early 1980s, his natural leaning has always been towards 1950s-style rock and roll and rockabilly. After Love Sculpture split, Edmunds had a UK Christmas Number 1 single in 1970 with "I Hear You Knocking", a Smiley Lewis cover. The Brinsley Schwarz connection brought about a collaboration with Nick Lowe starting with this album, and in 1976 they formed the group Rockpile, with Billy Bremner and Terry Williams. Edmunds had more UK hits during this time, including Elvis Costello's "Girls Talk", Nick Lowe's "I Knew the Bride", Hank DeVito's "Queen of Hearts" (later a larger, international hit for American country-rock singer Juice Newton), Graham Parker's "Crawling from the Wreckage", and Melvin Endsley's "Singing the Blues. This recording is from his 1982 tour recorded at New Jersey's Capitol Theater in May and features two bonus tracks of "Information" and "Slipping Away".

Alcatrazz The Very Best Of Alcatrazz

Alcatrazz is a heavy metal band formed in 1983 by Graham Bonnet, Jimmy Waldo, and Gary Shea. They are best known for their songs "Island in the Sun", "Hiroshima Mon Amour", and "God Blessed Video". They are also notable for featuring a previously unknown Yngwie Malmsteen as their lead guitarist for a year, who was then replaced by Steve Vai, with whom they recorded one album.

The band's initial line-up consisted of former Rainbow singer frontman Graham Bonnet, young Swedish guitarist Yngwie Malmsteen, who had recently left the American metal band Steeler; Gary Shea and Jimmy Waldo from New England and Clive Burr of Iron Maiden fame. Burr was reportedly only in the band for a week and left upon discovering the band was going to be based in the United States, as opposed to his native England. Burr was soon replaced by former Iron Butterfly drummer Jan Uvena, who had just left Alice Cooper's backing band. Shea dubbed the group "Alcatrazz". For the first album, the bulk of the material was written by Bonnet and Malmsteen, with Waldo contributing to several tracks.

This is a compilation from the band's first four albums.

KITCHEN DWELLERS SEVEN DEVILS

About the EP

The Kitchen Dwellers continue their musical evolution as they present their highly anticipated 4th studio album, Seven Devils. Produced by Glenn Brown (Billy Strings, Greensky Bluegrass), the ascending Montana quartet continues to redefine the boundaries of bluegrass, folk, and rock.

Inspired by Dante's epic voyage through the Nine Circles of Hell, the album guides the listener through a similar exploration. The Dwellers invite the listener to treat this as a musical journey inward to the self.

Available on limited edition 2LP Gatefold 180g Splatter vinyl, including a 12-page booklet.

Mildlife

Chorus

Mildlife are Adam Halliwell, Kevin McDowell, Jim Rindfleisch and Tom Shanahan. With no designated leader, the band rolls on intuitive waves. Chorus is the band's ultimate statement of that borderline mystical unity. Chorus is Mildlife's most optimistic record, serving as a sonic testament to the band's unwavering adoration for the beguiling realms of 70s psychedelic and cosmic sounds. Delve deeper, and you'll unearth Polish jazz, Italo disco and a sprinkling of contemporary electronic sounds. Chorus is the dance of an expanding and contracting universe – its groove is forever and always, cyclical and evolving. In its most human moments, the album luxuriates in the velvety embrace of Shanahan's bass lines, Halliwell's luminous guitar riffs, McDowell's hushed and alluring vocals, Rindfleisch's intricate percussive tapestries and the spiritual rhythms of regular collaborator Craig Shanahan. Swept up in the chorus, the lines between individual and ensemble blur.

Placebo are announcing the Placebo Live box set, an extensive collection of career-spanning performances captured in Mexico, Spain and London. Remarkably, more than 25 years in their career, the set includes the first live album that band have ever released - Collapse Into Never: Placebo Live In Europe 2023.

Placebo Live also marks the first time that any live performances from the band have been made available on vinyl. Across the whole collection, vinyl, Blu-Ray and CD formats are catered to from three special live sets titled Collapse Into Never, This Is What You Wanted and Live From The White Room. Each was recorded in the last year and a half as the band toured the world in support of new album Never Let Me Go, playing to over 1.5 million fans in the process.

Collapse Into Never, recorded live at Low Festival in Spain, comes as a clear double-vinyl gatefold. This Is What You Wanted was recorded live in Mexico City and the extended set is included here on Blu-Ray. Live From The White Room, recorded at Studio 1 Twickenham Studios, brings seven songs from the band's acclaimed new album Never Let Me Go to life and is presented in a softpak gatefold CD.

The box set features songs from their eponymous debut Placebo, Black Market Music, Sleeping With Ghosts, Battle For The Sun, and Loud Like Love. Their acclaimed new album Never Let Me Go - which charted in the Top 10 in 13 countries on release last year - is also well represented here, including the album's lead single 'Beautiful James' which currently has over 35 million streams across platforms. Beloved fan-favourite covers like Kate Bush's 'Running Up That Hill' and Tears For Fears' 'Shout' also feature.

In 2023, one of the great live bands of the last 25 years finally gets the live album release they deserve. Placebo Live reasserts why their show continues to be the essential experience that it always has been.

DEVASTATOR is a four-piece Black Thrash band from the county of Derbyshire in the United Kingdom.

Formed in 2017 by drummer J. Scarlett and lead guitarist R. Amun out of the ashes of two former Extreme Metal projects and the addition of rhythm guitarist C.W. Wolfgang and lead vocalist/bassist T. Nachtghul, Devastator quickly proceed to take the underground by storm with their unrelenting take on the primitive 'Black Thrash Attack' following the release of their self-titled demo. Heavily inspired by the titans of the past such as SODOM, BATHORY, VENOM, HELLHAMMER and MOTORHEAD, the iron foundations were laid for what was to come.

In 2019 the band signed a one-album-deal with UK label Clobber Records. Later that year the band released their debut "Baptised in Blasphemy" on July 10th to critical acclaim garnering the attention of VENOM INC's Tony Dolan, ORANGE GOBLIN's Ben Ward and METAL HAMMER's Dom Lawson, the latter would play a significant role in the next chapter of DEVASTATOR's story.

In early 2023, DEVASTATOR was approached by Listenable Records. A multi-album deal was signed and the band began their next major step in their black thrashing career.

The band entered Godhand Studios in Derbyshire with producer Ben 'Audiomage' Gaines at the helm to not only begin work on their sophomore album but also to remix and remaster their seminal 'Baptised in Blasphemy' debut album adding 8 bonus tracks for a deluxe reissue on Listenable Records, the first for the label and was released on November 24th, 2023.

Expanding on the raucous Black 'n' Roll attitude of the band's debut "Baptised in Blasphemy" and turning up the Black Metal to cacophonous levels, the sophomore release by DEVASTATOR differs in many aspects without losing the spirit and power of the band's debut, harnessing other avenues in Extreme Metal and presenting a multilayered and expansive record which explores both Black Metal and Death Metal, whilst still delivering the furious Thrash Metal assault and NWOBHM drenched force that the band has become known for.

DEVASTATOR completed the recording of their new album entitled 'Conjurers of Cruelty' in the late summer of 2023, the sophomore record of young Black Thrashers DEVASTATOR is slated for a 1st of March 2024 release followed by the band's long awaited live debut in mainland Europe.

2007's 'UR', the very first release crept up from the underground slowly like a blood-heavy moon and has now become a revered cult-classic.

SATURNALIA TEMPLE has moved intently through the years and the critically acclaimed first proper album 'Aion of Drakon' (2011) took the band to numerous major festivals as well as on both a EU and a US tour.

The band released their second album 'To the Other' on Listenable Records in 2015. The album presented magical prophetic lyrics that echoed apocalyptic themes and initiatory revelations. Presenting a harsher and darker sound than ever, years of experience, tribulations and triumph was condensed into a powerful album – an offering – 'To the Other'. 'To the Other' won a Manifest Award in Sweden and took the band on two headline tours of Europe in 2015 and 2016 as well as to many international festivals.

In 2020 the third album 'Gravity' was released. The title track showed yet another petal of the black flower of SATURNALIA TEMPLE with an enigmatic major/minor guitar riff that some reviewers thought was an organ. A video by A Thousand Lost Civilizations was released for the title track. The band went out on a European headline tour supported by Wolvennest and Dread Sovereign.

During 2022 – 2023 band leader Tommie Eriksson built a new studio which is called T.O.N / Temple of Naamah Studios. The writing, recording and production of a new Saturnalia Temple album 'Paradigm Call' was completed in Fall 2023. The album title echoes the calling in of the new paradigm of the 'Aion of Drakon', prophesied already in 2011. 'Paradigm Call' is the most focused and hard hitting so far and heavier than ever.

The opening track 'Drakon' is a hypnotic invocation that sets the mood perfectly for the relentless riff of 'Revel in Dissidence' that follows, taking the doom into early 90s deathlike vibrations.

'Paradigm Call' track keeps the charismatic black hole open and calls the listener deep into the centre of the other side.

'Among the Ruins' is probably the catchiest track ever in the history of the band and features Paul Delaney from Black Anvil on guest vocals.

'Black Smoke' is another one riff epic that shows that SATURNALIA TEMPLE is one of the deadliest and most riveting when it comes smashing both your speakers and your mind.

'Ascending the Pale' is a poignant description of magical initiation that ventures into black metal territory with its harsh metal craft, born from Tubal Cain's iron in the bowels of the earth.

'Empty Chalice' follows this cold and unabating hammering of supernatural steel until your consciousness is truly levitated.

Finishing off the album is an instrumental 'Kaivalya' which is the most hypnotic piece SATURNALIA TEMPLE have ever released.

That track brings back the warmth again, albeit a midnight sun that leads you through the tundra beyondtime and into a parallel universe where the 70s never ended and the cosmos is born from wah and fuzzguitars.

'Paradigm Call' Album was mastered by Jérémie Bezier at Blackout Studio, Brussels. A new live line up is also presented with brothers Gottfrid Ahman (In Solitude, Päjä) on bass and Pelle Ahman (In Solitude, Päjä) on drums

Duruflé: Requiem
Poulenc: Lenten Motets

One of the twentieth century's best-loved choral works, Duruflé's Requiem—a magical synthesis of the old (plainsong) and the new (a harmonic language appropriate to its time and place) — continues to cast its potent spell over performers and listeners alike. This new recording from Stephen Layton and his Trinity College Choir forces fully deserves to be regarded as 'definitive'.

AMARO FREITAS Y'Y

Album Info:

With his new album Y'Y (pronounced "eey-eh, eey-eh"), Amaro Freitas steps into a new realm of musical creation. A realm rooted in magic and possibility, and tempered by a sense of stewardship for the earth's bounties.

Side A serves as an expression of connection to the earth and to the ancestors, paying homage to the forest and the rivers of Northern Brazil with both the music and the album title, Y'Y, a word written in the Sateré Mawé dialect, an ancestral indigenous code that means water or river. And by bringing to life lessons he learned in the Amazon about the incandescent power of enchanted spirits who intervene on behalf of the community in times of struggle.

On Side B, Y'Y shows the connections between the global Black avant-jazz community. Bringing together multi-instrumentalist Shabaka Hutchings, harpist Brandee Younger, bassist Aniel Someillan, guitarist Jeff Parker and drummer Hamid Drake, the music creates an artful conversation by weaving together jazz traditions from across the world, while staying rooted in the unique sounds and rituals found in Afro-Brazilian and Indigenous cultures.

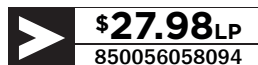

Freitas continues to intertwine ancestral knowledge into music on Y'Y by bringing his fresh, "decolonized" interpretation of Brazilian jazz and sharing music that may well shatter our preconceived notions of what jazz can be.

Master Peace

How To Make A Master Peace

Peace Okezie, the brainchild behind Master Peace, does not mince his words. He needs to get things out and embodies the phrase, "If you're going to say it, just say it." While never careless or unsympathetic with his words, the phrase is an affirmation that fuels him.

Lucky for us, his energy is on par with the idiosyncratic, effervescent and most importantly, extremely good music he makes with intention and a keen ear. Master Peace's music is about inviting people into the weird, wonderful and cacophonous world he's created. Attracting listeners who crave rebelliousness and divergence from the norm.

Master Peace's debut album How To Make A Master Peace, pushes the parameters of genre more than ever. Peace flexes his inspirations by cutting through the sonic generations of British music that have raised him. 'I Might Be Fake' has the urgency of 2005's 'Giddy Stratospheres' by the Long Blondes, mixed with the spaciness of the late noughties Klaxons catalogue. 'Shangaladang' is an ode to Peace's black music inspirations, with a nod to Skepta; here he adapts the lyrics 'I've got my hood mates and white niggas' from the rapper's 2016 song 'Man' to fit his more rugged, The Clash-like tune.

The raucous artist has been hailed as the new voice of British Indie and was a "One To Watch" nominee at the 2023 AIM Awards. The 11 track album is a pastiche of the alternative music the British artist was raised on, from Arctic Monkeys & Friendly Fires to Gorillaz. His headline tour, culminating at the iconic Scala, will see Master Peace create his own legacy in British Indie music, and this album is a statement of intent.

The Nash Ensemble

Tchaikovsky & Korngold: String Sextets

The teenage Korngold possessed a compositional fluency and maturity which belied his youth. In contrast, Tchaikovsky feared—wholly unjustifiably—his own creative powers to be on the wane when writing "Souvenir de Florence". The Nash Ensemble brings passion and conviction to both.

With over 30 years in the business and in a genre that not only refuses to die but is benefitting from a new lease on life, BENEDICTION is back with "Scriptures", arguably their best release to date. Formed in 1989 BENEDICTION was quickly picked up by German underground metal label Nuclear Blast Records, a partnership that lasts to this day. At its core "Scriptures" is death metal, a subgenre BENEDICTION helped popularize and perfect, fused with the punk rock anger and attitude. The heavy metal powertrain riffing has become a staple for the band. Aggressive monster vocals from Dave Ingram and that groove that sets them apart others in their field, that's BENEDICTION. As usual, tracks vary from slow and heavy to fast and intense, from shorter in your face numbers to epic masterpieces. BENEDICTION do not follow blueprints when it comes to the parameters of writing, but you won't doubt who you are listening to. It is clearly and intentionally BENEDICTION, that will never change.

The beautiful chrysanthemum in its humble white form is also known as the cemetery flower as it is often used to adorn graves for its longevity. For BLACK NAIL CABARET, the chrysanthemum's blossom paves the way for our own deathbed portraits. We know that the grim reaper will come to us all and bring the end, which turns us into fear-filled jars. Our jar could be filled with so many other things but fear permeates all. The eponymous "Chrysanthemum" of the Hungarian pop noire duo's sixth album symbolises an uprising against that but also acceptance. Although BLACK NAIL CABARET remain true to their marked penchant for sexually explicit provocation, the primal, subconscious fear of death that triggers emotions, anxiety, and the fear of letting go is also a red thread running through the album that is metaphorically named "Chrysanthemum". The eroticism of the Hungarians has always avoided cheap clichés. Instead the duo artistically depicts their living BDSM reality, which is framed by high aesthetic standards. Musically, BLACK NAIL CABARET have brought their outstanding songwriting abilities closer to perfection. On "Chrysanthemum", the duo is seemingly effortless blending dark electronic sounds with pop noire elements. Their talent to write songs that can stand on their own and do not rely on electronic trickery has set BLACK NAIL CABARET apart from their peers. At the latest on their self-released full-length "Pseudopop" (2018), the Hungarians had successfully fused art, pop, dark harmonies, and powerful electronics. BLACK NAIL CABARET continued to hit the international scene with their fifth album "Gods Verging on Sanity" in 2020. The duo's excellent reputation rapidly spread through word of mouth even though the global pandemic enforced severe limitations upon them. Now the stars have all aligned, and BLACK NAIL CABARET are ready to take on the world with a dark soundtrack of life's glory that is symbolised by a shiny white flower of seeming innocence that at closer inspection also carries all the eternal might of death in its scent: "Chrysanthemum".

Truth In Our Time
 Glass: Symphony No.13

The album is a musical and poetic rumination on the concept of truth. Beginning with an exercise in perception with Nicole Lizée's short "Zeiss After Dark" which "evokes the cinematographic effect of the Zeiss lens, used to film intimate scenes lit only by candles." This is followed by artist Yao's poem "Strange Absurdities," a piece which challenges the listener to cultivate our common humanity. Humanity is at the core as the album continues with Shostakovich's Symphony No.9 from 1945. Shostakovich, whose very humanity was challenged by the oppressive authorities of his time, composed his Ninth Symphony in the final year of World War II. In the same year, on the other side of the world – a composer who had fled the Europe because of the war, Erich Wolfgang Korngold, composed his Violin Concerto for Jascha Heifetz. The concept of truth, what was true for Shostakovich or Korngold, seems to be an issue of personal artistic integrity. The same is true with this world premiere recording of Philip Glass's Symphony No.13. Commissioned to honor the memory of journalist Peter Jennings, in a period of strife worldwide for journalist, Glass himself pushed back on the idea of music having the ability to express any definite ideas about truth. Glass's Thirteenth Symphony was composed in the period of 2020-22, largely during the period of lockdown according to what was happening with the worldwide pandemic. After a series of large-scale symphonic works, Glass's new symphony is one of his shortest at only 22 minutes and belies a calmness and reflection, in all three of its movements.

Pepa Niebla Renaissance

With "Renaissance", Pepa Niebla reveals her talent as a composer and lyricist: she begins a new cycle of creative and formative growth by discovering herself. To achieve this, she will be backed by a high-voltage jazz rhythm section well established on the local and international scene: Toni Mora from Madrid on guitar, Belgian pianist Maxime Moyaerts, Frenchman Alex Gilson on double bass and Dutch drummer Daniel Jonkers.

The album's music reflects the influence of contemporary New York jazz. Pepa Niebla speaks about love, family and society in a sincere and intimate way. The album's title, Renaissance, is a tribute to life and excellence. An invitation to follow the path to who you really are.

John Bromley's sole album, 1969's Sing, remains a cherished chapter in the British popscene narrative, five decades on. This fresh reissue revisits its legacy, expanded to include the original album, restored original artwork, as well as a treasure trove of associated singles and rare or previously unheard demos, all meticulously remastered by Prof. Stoned.

Bromley's enigmatic songwriting and the album's rich blend of freakbeat rhythms and sunshine pop melodies continue to resonate. The album recording sessions, backed by the talents of Les Fleur De Lys and the vocal support of Sharon Tandy, showcase Bromley's artistry, capturing a moment in time when music was as experimental as it was expressive. Whether through the chart-topping hits he penned for the likes of John Farnham and Shirley Bassey, or the cult following his own releases garnered, Bromley's work remains an integral piece of British pop music's rich tapestry. With this release, his songs are poised to charm listeners once again, ensuring that the quiet maestro of popscene's voice will continue to sing through the ages.

Press Campaign: A comprehensive press campaign targeting music publications, blogs, and podcasts.

the five members of Punchlove -- multi-instrumentalists Jillian Olesen, Ethan Williams, Y Machina, Ian Lange-McPherson, and visual artist Viz Wel--moving into a maze of a house in Brooklyn together was the transition that created the album they had been making during their whole lives. Quietly evolving from a bedroom project to a headlining live act, Punchlove has geared up a densely layered bed of emotionally serrated pain-pop songs that coalesce around a digitally-stimulated, emotional brand of modern neo-shoegaze. Released March 1st on Kanine Records, is an album of deeply prepared instrumentals, sharply honed instrumentals, and a band performing them that knows each other the way through.

While studying music technology in college, multiple members of Punchlove work in live bands at prominent NYC venues and in the studio. Using that expertise, the in-house production, mixing, and recording is a palpable highlight; mastered by 2000s shoegaze stalwart Kurt Feldman (The Depreciation Guild), the record melds DIY recording experimental sonic visions with studio quality.

Punchlove is dedicated to pushing the envelope of experimental sonic practices in live performances, where they can be seen performing with real-time audio reactive analog synths, executing real-time sampling and looping, self-mixing onstage, running radios and tape loops through effects, improvising, and playing guitar with everything from double basses to vibrators. In their home recording environment, experimentation is at the heart of their creative process, where they integrate self-programmed digital signal processing systems, psychoacoustic phenomena, tailored feedback, elements of 3D audio, immersive field recording soundscapes, early electronic instruments, and experimental recording and mixing techniques into the greater backdrop of pop songwriting.

Vivabeat was a Los Angeles based New Wave band that formed in 1978 and continued making music into the mid-80's. They were pioneers in the synthpop movement, releasing their underground dance hit Man From China in 1979. Their 1980 album Party In The War Zone was a daring combination of electronics, glam rock, alternative pop, and experimental sounds. Rubellan Remasters presents the first ever CD reissue of the 1980 album, remastered from original master tapes and doubled in size to include a further 10 tracks culled from the band's personal archive, including several never before released. The album cover has been updated by founding member Marina Muhlfriedel and comes in an eco-wallet gatefold with a booklet including rare photos and lyrics to all songs. Strictly limited to 500 copies.

Demon Records are delighted to announce the release of Haircut 100% Live! Hammersmith Odeon Spring 1982 for Record Store Day 2023, released with full co-operation of the band. Haircut 100% Live! Hammersmith Odeon Spring 1982 is an in-concert album that highlights the group at the summit of their powers - high speed funk, to-die-for pop and sweet melodies against the backdrop of Haircutmania. No overdubs and the high-octane energy of youth. The group moved from being London underground darlings to chart sensations in less than six months, and within a year had disappeared into pop's ether, leaving behind one memorable album and four Top 10 UK singles, but many have said that the real way to experience the power of the Haircuts was to see them play live. Pressed in zinging red vinyl, Haircut 100% Live! Hammersmith Odeon Spring 1982 is an absolute must for all fans of frenetic funky fabulous melodic pop. Available on LP for the first and only time, this recently unearthed recording was part of the acclaimed Pelican West 40 CD set. It includes their cover version of set opener Low Rider by War, where the group all appeared on stage one-by-one.

- Inner bag contains snapshots taken at the Hammersmith gig and after show on 1 April 1982 from guitarist Graham Jones' personal archive. Mastered by Phil Kinrade at AIR Mastering.

E	Strfkr__Parallel Realms Prolific and constantly evolving, Portland, OR's STRFKR have continued to release music that consistently connects with music lovers all over the globe. The band started out in a time when a co-sign from blogs and music outlets of note were all but mandatory for new music to be heard and accepted. STRFKR bypassed the hype machine almost completely, focusing instead on making their shows more exciting and pushing their music to new places. Their work ethic both in the studio and on the road has kept them on a steady climb, consistently playing venues on the level of legendary rooms like Terminal 5, Stubb's, and the 9:30 Club while using any available downtime to work towards the next recording. On their latest full-length album, Parallel Realms, STRFKR embrace a more pop-forward approach as heard on their recent single Running Around, while also hinting at experimentalism and the gentler textures on 2020's heralded, Future Past Life. Tracked by the band in their home studio in Portland, with additional engineering in Joshua Tree, CA, and mixed by Chris Coady (Beach House, The Drums), the new album feels exciting, cohesive, and familiar with immediate, yet diverse qualities that can only be found on STRFKR records. In addition to being streamed over 1B times around the world, STRFKR have performed at festivals including Coachella, Outside Lands, FYF Festival, Mad Decent Block Party, and others. The band has also toured consistently, playing to fans throughout North America, Europe, China, Japan, and other countries.	Polyvinyl Records	644110048745	$14.98	80	Rock
E	Zakk Sabbath__Doomed Forever Forever Doomed Cassette in clear tray with red tape shell. ZAKK SABBATH are back with an even more massive dose of pure BLACK SABBATH worship! Celebrating more than 50 years of Birmingham's most famous four, the 'inventors' of heavy metal are being honoured by the preeminent tribute trio led by guitarist and singer Zakk Wylde with the double album Doomed Forever Forever Doomed. This loving tribute contains the Americans' brilliant take on BLACK SABBATH's second and third full-lengths, the classic heavy metal masterpieces Paranoid (1970) and Master of Reality (1971). ZAKK SABBATH were founded by BLACK LABEL SOCIETY guitarist and singer Zakk Wylde, who is widely renowned for his many years as lead guitarist for OZZY OSBOURNE and now PANTERA. After initially only performing live with rotating members, ZAKK SABBATH solidified a stable cast with the addition of OZZY OSBOURNE and ROB ZOMBIE bass player Blasko and Joey Castillo on drums (also of DANZIG and QUEENS OF THE STONE AGE). Inspired by the 50th anniversary of BLACK SABBATH's self-titled debut full-length, ZAKK SABBATH released a tribute to this monumental heavy metal milestone under the title Vertigo in 2020. The album was heaped with praise from critics and fans alike. The trio scored a massive global success as witnessed by impressive Billboard chart entries such as #5 on the US Hard Music chart, #7 on the Current Rock Albums chart and #27 on the Billboard Top Albums chart alongside #1 in Metal Albums in France and #3 on the German Album chart, as well as #9 on the UK Top 40 Rock/Metal chart among others. Pure passion for classic metal has driven ZAKK SABBATH to erect an even more monolithic monument to BLACK SABBATH than before with the double album Doomed Forever Forever Doomed. E	Altan__Donegal Altan is arguably the most iconic band working in traditional Irish music today. For the past 35 years, they have been bringing the music of their native County Donegal to the world stage. Irish-language songs and dynamic twin-fiddling, the hallmarks of Altan's sound, framework the band's newest album, aptly titled DONEGAL. The album's 10 tracks pay homage to Donegal's rich musical heritage, breathtaking landscapes, and vibrant culture. The authenticity and allure of the music transports listeners to a bygone time in rural Ireland while simultaneously forging a connection between the past and modern times. E	Black Nail Cabaret__Chrysanthemum 2CD Book (36 pages, Hardcover Artbook, 18x18cm) incl. Bonus CD with 4 exclusive bonus tracks (limited edition). The beautiful chrysanthemum in its humble white form is also known as the cemetery flower as it is often used to adorn graves for its longevity. For Black Nail Cabaret, the chrysanthemum's blossom paves the way for our own deathbed portraits. We know that the grim reaper will come to us all and bring the end, which turns us into fear-filled jars. Our jar could be filled with so many other things but fear permeates all. The eponymous Chrysanthemum of the Hungarian pop/noir duo's sixth album symbolises an uprising against that but also acceptance. Although Black Nail Cabaret remain true to their marked penchant for sexually explicit provocation, the primal, subconscious fear of death that triggers emotions, anxiety, and the fear of letting go is also a red thread running through the album that is metaphorically named Chrysanthemum. The eroticism of the Hungarians has always avoided cheap clichés. Instead the duo artistically depicts their living BDSM reality, which is framed by high aesthetic standards. Musically, Black Nail Cabaret have brought their outstanding songwriting abilities closer to perfection. On Chrysanthemum, the duo is seemingly effortlessly blending dark electronic sounds with pop/noir elements. Their talent to write songs that can stand on their own and do not rely on electronic trickery has set Black Nail Cabaret apart from their peers. At the latest on their self-released full-length Pseudopop (2018), the Hungarians had successfully fused art, pop, dark harmonies, and powerful electronics. Black Nail Cabaret continued to hit the international scene with their fifth album Gods Verging on Sanity in 2020. The duo's excellent reputation rapidly spread through word of mouth even though the global pandemic enforced severe limitations upon them. Now the stars have all aligned, and Black Nail Cabaret are ready to take on the world with a dark soundtrack of life's glory that is symbolised by a shiny white flower of seeming innocence that at closer inspection also carries all the eternal might of death in its scent: Chrysanthemum. E	Canada's National Arts Centre Orchestra__Truth In Our Time - Glass: Symphony No.13 Orange Mountain The album is a musical and poetic rumination on the concept of truth. Beginning with an exercise in perception with Nicole Lizée's short Zeiss After Dark which evokes the cinematographic effect of the Zeiss lens, used to film intimate scenes lit only by candles. This is followed by artist Yao's poem Strange Absurdities, a piece which challenges the listener to cultivate our common humanity. Humanity is at the core as the album continues with Shostakovich's Symphony No.9 from 1945. Shostakovich, whose very humanity was challenged by the oppressive authorities of his time, composed his Ninth Symphony in the final year of World War II. In the same year, on the other side of the world - a composer who had fled the Europe because of the war, Erich Wolfgang Korngold, composed his Violin Concerto for Jascha Heifetz. The concept of truth, what was true for Shostakovich or Korngold, seems to be an issue of personal artistic integrity. The same is true with this world premiere recording of Philip Glass's Symphony No.13. Commissioned to honor the memory of journalist Peter Jennings, in a period of strife worldwide for journalist, Glass himself pushed back on the idea of music having the ability to express any definite ideas about truth. Glass's Thirteenth Symphony was composed in the period of 2020-22, largely during the period of lockdown according to what was happening with the worldwide pandemic. After a series of large-scale symphonic works, Glass's new symphony is one of his shortest at only 22 minutes and belies a calmness and reflection, in all		801837016628	$21.98	25	Orchestral & Symphonic

E Choir Of Trinity College Cambridge__Durufle: Requiem: Poulenc: Lenten Motets Hyperion 034571284361 $19.98 50 Orchestral & Symphonic
One of the twentieth century's best-loved choral works, Durufle's Requiem-a magical synthesis of the old (plainsong) and the new (a harmonic language appropriate to it's time and place) - continues to cast it's potent spell over performers and listeners alike. This new recording from Stephen Layton and his Trinity forces fully deserves to be regarded as 'definitive'.

E Dead Boys__Return Of The Living Dead Boys - Halloween Night Cleopatra 889466515224 $14.98 800 Rock
The reunion concert that brought New York to it's knees in 1986 - the original Dead Boys, Stiv Bators, Cheetah Chrome, Jimmy Zero, Jeff Magnum and Johnny Blitz on stage at the Ritz! The band got together for one more show in their old stomping ground, starting with an introduction from long-time supporter, Joey Ramone, to the power riff of Sonic Reducer (played twice!) to an unreal cover of The Stooges' Search & Destroy! This is the first time that the complete show has been made available on CD and the first ever cassette version!

E Devastator__Conjurers Of Cruelty Listenable Records 3760053847362 $14.98 75 Rock
DEVASTATOR is a four-piece Black Thrash band from the county of Derbyshire in the United Kingdom. Formed in 2017 by drummer J. Scarlett and lead guitarist R. Amun out of the ashes of two former Extreme Metal projects and the addition of rhythm guitarist C.W. Wolfgang and lead vocalist/bassist T. Nachtghul, Devastator quickly proceed to take the underground by storm with their unrelenting take on the primitive 'Black Thrash Attack' following the release of their self-titled demo. Heavily inspired by the titans of the past such as SODOM, BATHORY, VENOM, HELLHAMMER and MOTORHEAD, the iron foundations were laid for what was to come. In 2019 the band signed a one-album-deal with UK label Clobber Records, Later that year the band released their debut Baptised in Blasphemy on July 10th to critical acclaim garnering the attention of VENOM INC's Tony Dolan, ORANGE GOBLIN's Ben Ward and METAL HAMMER's Dom Lawson, the latter would play a significant role in next chapter of DEVASTATOR's story.

E Firewind__Stand United AFM Records 884860546027 $18.98 800 Rock
In such turbulent times it's important to stand closely together as humanity instead of fighting each other. That's exactly what the new Firewind album 'stand United' is about! In addition to societal problems and environmental issues, which are the main topic in ten new tracks, we are expecting the strongest masterpiece of band history. In line with the new release, the band around ex Ozzy Osbourne guitarist Gus G. and vocalist Herbie Langhans (formerly Avantasia) will spread their message of 'stand United' all over Europe in spring 2024. Combined with MASTERPLAN they will play a big co-headliner tour, among Germany, France, Spain, Sweden and many other countries. 'stand United' will be released on March 1st, 2024 - available as several limited splatter and marbled vinyl variations, CD digipak and digital version. Also available as Ltd. Gtf. Silver/White/Black Marbled Vinyl.

E Freitas, Amaro__YY Psychic Hotline 850056058117 $12.98 50 Jazz
With his new album YY (pronounced eey-eh, eey-eh), Amaro Freitas steps into a new realm of musical creation. A realm rooted in magic and possibility, and tempered by a sense of stewardship for the earth's bounties. Side A serves as an expression of connection to the earth and to the ancestors, paying homage to the forest and the rivers of Northern Brazil with both the music and the album title, YY, a word written in the Sateré Mawé dialect, an ancestral indigenous code that means water or river. And by bringing to life lessons he learned in the Amazon about the incandescent power of enchanted spirits who intervene on behalf of the community in times of struggle. On Side B, YY shows the connections between the global Black avant-jazz community. Bringing together multi-instrumentalist Shabaka Hutchings, harpist Brandee Younger, bassist Aniel Someillan, guitarist Jeff Parker and drummer Hamid Drake, the music creates an artful conversation by weaving together jazz traditions from across the world, while staying rooted in the unique sounds and rituals found in Afro-Brazilian and Indigenous cultures. Freitas continues to intertwine ancestral knowledge into music on YY by bringing his fresh, decolonized interpretation of Brazilian jazz and sharing music that may well shatter our preconceived notions of what jazz can be.

E Hollow Coves__Nothing To Lose Netzwerk Records 067003150323 $14.98 450 Folk/Americana
Hollow Coves are a dynamic indie-folk duo of Matt Carins and Ryan Henderson, who are brimming with their passion for travel and observing different shades of the world. The group's tender melodies and poignant lyrics have resonated with fans around the world with the band amassing over half a billion global streams to date. Hollow Coves have received acclaim from the likes of Billboard, Clash, Sunday Times, Ones To Watch, Under the Radar, and more and continue to connect with the hearts and minds of listeners across borders and time zones. On their sophomore album, the earthy acoustics and breezy rhythms provide a soundtrack to the feeling of change. The essence of shifting one's perspective is a theme Hollow Coves meditate on as they go through their own musical evolution. They invited friend and acclaimed Aussie artist Matt Corby to help co-produce and bring their new songs to life. Of the album the band says, The whole record is based on our personal experiences of trying to slow down and realize that living simply is the best for our souls. The world is in such a rush these days and with that there's a lot of stresses and anxieties. Our lifestyle from living on the Gold Coast and having such a great community made us naturally write about topics that will hopefully inspire the listener to think about what's actually important to them.

E Jordan, Alex__Queen Kerosene Andy Logan Prod. 762183898422 $15.98 60 Rock
Alex Jordan's Queen Kerosene is a melting pot of American roots music, stacked high with sharply-written songs that blur the boundaries between genre and generation. Helmed by four-time Grammy Awards winning producer (and longtime Los Lobos member) Steve Berlin, it's a colorful, kaleidoscopic record whose songs make room for soul, Tex-Mex, groove-driven R&B, Americana, jazz, honky-tonk, and heartland rock & roll.

E Jyrki 69__American Vampire Cleopatra 889466534621 $10.98 300 Rock
Goth metal icon Jyrki 69 of The 69 Eyes prepares for international dominance on this studio album, a follow-up to his widely praised solo effort, 2017's Helsinki Vampire! Mixing both cover tunes and original tracks, this album finds Jyrki teaming up with several renegade collaborators including fellow Nordic rocker Tim Skold (of the metal project Shotgun Messiah and industrial outfit Skold), Billy Idol guitarist Steve Stevens, indie experimentalists Xiu Xiu, pop music queen Tiffany and many more!

E Kaiser Chiefs__Kaiser Chiefs Easy Eighth Album V2 Records 8717931346962 $19.98 50 Rock
Formed in Leeds in 2000, Kaiser Chiefs are one of the leading bands of their generation. Fronted by the charismatic Ricky Wilson with Simon Rix on bass, Andrew 'Whitey' White on guitar, Nick 'Peanut' Baines on keyboards and drummer Vijay Mistry, the band have had a string of anthemic hits such as 'Oh My God', 'I Predict A Riot', 'Everyday I Love You Less and Less', 'Never Miss A Beat' and 'Hole In My Soul'. On March 8 2024 they will release their 8th studio album named 'Kaiser Chiefs' Easy Eighth Album', including their hit single 'How 2 Dance'. The album is co-written and produced by Amir Amor (Ed Sheeran, Sam Smith) and Nile Rodgers (Chiq). On this album, the band delves into innovative sonic avenues while preserving the iconic 'Kaiser Chiefs' essence.

E Mannequin Pussy__I Got Heaven Epitaph 045778796823 $12.98 500 Rock
Mannequin Pussy's music feels like a resilient and galvanizing shout that demands to be heard. Across four albums, the Philadelphia rock band that consists of Colins Bear Regisford (bass, vocals), Kaleen Reading (drums, percussion), Maxine Steen (guitar, synths), and Marisa Dabice (guitar, vocals) has made cathartic tunes about despairing times. There's just so much constantly going on that feels intentionally evil that trying to make something beautiful feels like a radical act, says Dabice. The ethos of this band has always been to bring people together. Their new album, I Got Heaven, which is out March 1 via Epitaph Records, is the band's most fully realized recording yet. Over ten ambitious tracks which abruptly turn from searing punk to inviting alternative pop, the album is deeply concerned with desire, the power in being alone, and how to live in an unfeeling and unkind world. It's a document of a band doubling down on their unshakable bond to make something furious, thrilling, and wholly alive. Following the 2019 release of their critically acclaimed third album Patience, Mannequin Pussy returned in 2021 for their EP Perfect. They toured that release relentlessly and added guitarist Maxine Steen to the band's official lineup. The band changed their entire creative formula, choosing to write together in the studio in Los Angeles with producer John Congleton, over slowly crafting tracks at home. Everyone felt empowered to speak up about their own ideas to make this thing the best it could possibly be, says Regisford.

E Master Peace__How To Make A Master Peace Pmr Records 617308063844 $14.98 50 Rock
My debut album, How To Make A Master Peace, is definitely the most alternative body of work I've created to date. I chose to experiment with sub-genres of Indie that I feel no one is currently exploring, and create a record people wouldn't expect from me - something versatile yet thorough. From a musical standpoint, I drew influences from Indie Sleaze & Indie Dance acts such as: Friendly Fires, Justice, LCD Soundsystem and early Calvin Harris. But beyond this, I also found inspiration in the soundtracks to some of my favourite shows: Skins, Misfits & even Waterloo Road. All of these shows touch on adolescence, love, regret, friendship, culture and character building; which also happen to be the main themes of the album. Even though I've nodded to these topics before, I've never approached them in such depth and with so much vulnerability. For this project, I wanted to explore all of this backed by a melancholic soundscape - evoking feelings of nightlife and partying, as these can be youthful yet transformational spaces. In terms of my creative process, I didn't use any old demos on the project - I started each track from scratch. I was confident because I knew what I wanted to achieve and my creativity was at an all-time high. The only continuity on the project is through it's production, being produced by the one and only Julian Bunetta and Matt Schwartz (who produced my latest EP, Peace of Mind). I feel really lucky to be able to work with these two as they both inherently understand the vision. Overall I'm just so proud of this project and it's ability to be simultaneously of the past and of the future.

E Mildlife__Chorus Heavenly 5400863143091 $14.98 25 Jazz
Mildlife are Adam Halliwell, Kevin McDowell, Jim Rindfleisch and Tom Shanahan. With no designated leader, the band rolls on intuitive waves. Chorus is the band's ultimate statement of that borderline mystical unity. Chorus is Mildlife's most optimistic record, serving as a sonic testament to the band's unwavering adoration for the beguiling realms of 70s psychedelic and cosmic sounds. Delve deeper, and you'll unearth Polish jazz, Italo disco and a sprinkling of contemporary electronic sounds. Chorus is the dance of an expanding and contracting universe - it's groove is forever and always, cyclical and evolving. In it's most human moments, the album luxuriates in the velvety embrace of Shanahan's bass lines, Halliwell's luminous guitar riffs, McDowell's hushed and alluring vocals, Rindfleisch's intricate percussive tapestries and the spiritual rhythms of regular collaborator Craig Shanahan. Swept up in the chorus, the lines between individual and ensemble blur.

E Ministry__Hopiumforthemasses Nuclear Blast 4065629701628 $14.98 1500 Rock
Regimes rise and fall. Stars shine and fade. Trends come and go. Ministry lives on. The six-time GRAMMY® Award-nominated multiplatinum juggernaut founded and fronted by Al Jourgensen has seeped through the darkest corners of popular culture and infected the mainstream for over four decades, gleefully spewing sonic bile between the cracks of the system's facade. Born in the eighties, they survived the nineties, weathered the turn-of-the-century, and even held on through a Goddamn pandemic. However, Ministry shows no signs of stopping or slowing down-even for a breath. Instead, the band cranks out another blast of anthemic industrial metal on it's 2024 opus and sixteenth full-length LP, HOPIUMFORTHEMASSES

E Morgan,Lorrie & Tillis,Pam__Come See Me & Come Lonely Cleopatra 889466534324 $10.98 300 Country
Two queens of contemporary country music join forces on this powerful album, combining voices, vision and talents! Altogether, these two artists have sold well over 10 million albums worldwide, not to mention they both come from country royalty - Pam is the daughter of icon Mel Tillis and Lorrie, the daughter of hitmaker George Morgan! Pam's grit meets Lorrie's glamour on such country classics as the title track, originally made famous by Dottie West, Billie Jo Spears' Blanket On The Ground, and Dwight Yoakam's Guitars, Cadillac PLUS early rock favorites such as Roy Orbison's It's Over and The Everly Brothers' Walk Right Back! Special guest appearances by Joe Diffie & Darryl Worley!

E Nash Ensemble__Tchaikovsky & Korngold: String Sextets Hyperion 034571284064 $19.98 50 Orchestral & Symphonic
The teenage Korngold possessed a compositional fluency and maturity which belied his youth. In contrast, Tchaikovsky feared-wholly unjustifiably-his own creative powers to be on the wane when writing Souvenir de Florence. The Nash Ensemble brings passion and conviction to both.

E Niebla,Pepa__Renaissance Hypnote Records 1950790188930 $13.98 25 Jazz
With Renaissance, Pepa Niebla reveals her talent as a composer and lyricist: she begins a new cycle of creative and formative growth by discovering herself. To achieve this, she will be backed by a high-voltage jazz rhythm section well established on the local and international scene: Toni Mora from Madrid on guitar, Belgian pianist Maxime Moyaerts, Frenchman Alex Gilson on double bass and Dutch drummer Daniel Jonkers. The album's music reflects the influence of contemporary New York jazz. Pepa Niebla speaks about love, family and society in a sincere and intimate way. The album's title, Renaissance, is a tribute to life and excellence. An invitation to follow the path to who you really are.

E Nugent,Ted & Amboy Dukes__Call Of The Wild Purple Pyramid 889466524523 $15.98 300 Rock
Fully remastered reissue of this legendary 1974 album from hard rock wild man Ted Nugent and his supremely skilled backing band, The Amboy Dukes! This was the final album Nugent released with the Dukes before embarking on his incredible solo career - and what a curtain call! The remastered audio has never sounded better and the album comes packaged with detailed liner notes by journalist Dave Thompson providing historical context to this important album!

E Pissed Jeans__Half Divorced Sub Pop 098787159929 $13.98 325 Rock
Gatefold alt-pack. Pissed Jeans has never been a band that goes halfway. They're known for their feral vocals, biting lyrics, buzz-saw guitars, and unhinged live shows, and their sixth album, Half-Divorced is no exception. These songs skewer the tension between youthful optimism and the sobering realities of adulthood, and when viewed through front-man Matt Korvette's scowl, everything takes on a level of violent absurdity. Pissed Jeans notorious acerbic sense of humor remains sharper than ever as they dismember some of the joys that contemporary adult life has to offer, from helicopter parents to stolen catalytic converters to being $62,000 in debt. In Korvette's words, Pissed Jeans is truly like an art project for us, which is what makes it so fun. This lack of restraint rages within the songs that unexpectedly veer into classic hardcore punk territory, often coming in at under two minutes long and erupting like the butane tank explosion Korvette sings about in Junktime.

E Royal Tusk__Altruistic Mnrk Heavy 634164403331 $13.98 250 Rock
Individuality thrives on unpredictability. Rather than follow a well-trodden path Royal Tusk bulldoze a lane of their own. The Alberta Canada trio fuses hypnotic hooks to hard hitting riffs offset by untethered rhythms and undeniably honest lyrics. One moment they will serve up and earthquake barrage of distortion only to incite a bold stadium-sized singalong in the next breath. After amassing tens of millions of streams and earning acclaim from Billboard, Loudwire, CoS, Brave Words and many others, they elevate once more on their upcoming third full-length offering 'Altruistic'.

E Saturnalia Temple__Paradigm Call Listenable Records 3760053847348 $14.98 75 Rock
During 2022 - 2023 band leader Tommie Eriksson built a new studio which is called T.O.N / Temple of Naamah Studios. The writing, recording and production of the new album 'Paradigm Call' was completed in Fall 2023. The album title echoes the calling in of the new paradigm of the Aion of Drakon, prophesied already in 2011.'Paradigm Call' is the most focused and hard hitting so far and heavier than ever. The opening track 'Drakon' is a hypnotic invocation that sets the mood perfectly for the relentless riff of 'revel in Dissidence' that follows, taking the doom into early 90s deathlike vibrations. 'Paradigm Call' track keeps the charismatic black hole open and calls the listener deep into the centre of the other side. 'Among the Ruins' is probably the catchiest track ever in the history of the band and features Paul Delaney from Black Anvil on guest vocals. 'Black Smoke' is another one riff epic that shows that Saturnalia Temple is one of the deadliest and most riveting.

E Strfkr__Parallel Realms Polyvinyl Records 644110048721 $14.98 400 Rock
Prolific and constantly evolving, Portland, OR's STRFKR have continued to release music that consistently connects with music lovers all over the globe. The band started out in a time when a sign from blogs and music outlets of note were all but mandatory for new music to be heard and accepted. STRFKR bypassed the hype machine almost completely, focusing instead on making their shows more exciting and pushing their music to new places. Their work ethic both in the studio and on the road has kept them on a steady climb, consistently playing venues on the level of legendary rooms like Terminal 5, Stubb's, and the 9:30 Club while using any available downtime to work towards the next recording. On their latest full-length album, Parallel Realms, STRFKR embrace a more pop-forward approach as heard on their recent single Running Around, while also hinting at experimentalism and the gentler textures on 2020's heralded, Future Past Life. Tracked by the band in their home studio in Portland, with additional engineering in Joshua Tree, CA, and mixed by Chris Coady (Beach House, The Drums), the new album feels exciting, cohesive, and familiar with immediate, yet diverse qualities that can only be found on STRFKR records. In addition to being streamed over 1B times around the world, STRFKR have performed at festivals including Coachella, Outside Lands, FYF Festival, Mad Decent Block Party, and others. The band has also toured consistently, playing to fans throughout North America, Europe, China, Japan, and other countries.

E Suicidal Angels__Profane Prayer Nuclear Blast 4065629660833 $14.98 500 Rock
A new generation of thrash metal youngsters has risen from the ashes of a club of titans like Slayer, Exodus, Kreator and many more. Greek ambassadors supreme Suicidal Angels are one of the most jaw-dropping representatives of the injection of new blood. At the dawn of Spring, this four-piece of these energetic thrashers will release their eighth studio album 'Profane Prayer' four years after their previous attack 'Years Of Aggression'. It marks their return to the Nuclear Blast family. 'It feels like homecoming' confirms composer Nick Melissourgos (vocals, guitars) who started the band in 2001 when he was 16 years old.

E Trout,Walter__Broken Provogue 8712725747017 $16.98 900 Blues
Provogue Records is proud to announce the new album from Walter Trout entitled, 'Broken'. The fabled bluesman returns with a record that chronicles the bitter schisms of modern life while reminding listeners that hope is not lost. I've always tried to write positive songs, and this album is not quite that, considers Trout. But I always hold on to hope. That's why I wrote this album. In the face of what's happening in the world, I will stubbornly hold on to my idealism and hope. 'Broken' is available everywhere on March 1st, 2024 on 2LP (Limited Edition), CD, and digital.

E Vivabeat__Party In The War Zone (Expanded Edition) Rubellan Remasters 783970001733 $16.98 25 Rock
Vivabeat was a Los Angeles based New Wave band that formed in 1978 and continued making music into the mid-80's. They were pioneers in the synthpop movement, releasing their underground dance hit Man From China in 1979. Their 1980 album Party In The War Zone was a daring combination of electronics, glam rock, alternative pop, and experimental sounds. Rubellan Remasters presents the first ever CD reissue of the 1980 album, remastered from original master tapes and doubled in size to include a further 10 tracks culled from the band's personal archive, including several never before released. The album cover has been updated by founding member Marina Muhlfriedel and comes in an eco-wallet gatefold with a booklet including rare photos and lyrics to all songs.

E Zakk Sabbath__Doomed Forever Forever Doomed Magnetic Eye 884388879065 $15.98 2000 Rock
2CD Digisleeve with red foil hit print on the sleeve. ZAKK SABBATH are back with an even more massive dose of pure BLACK SABBATH worship! Celebrating more than 50 years of Birmingham's most famous four, the 'inventors' of heavy metal are being honoured by the preeminent tribute trio led by guitarist and singer Zakk Wylde with the double album Doomed Forever Forever Doomed. This loving tribute contains the Americans' brilliant take on BLACK SABBATH's second and third full-lengths, the classic heavy metal masterpieces Paranoid (1970) and Master of Reality (1971). ZAKK SABBATH were founded by BLACK LABEL SOCIETY guitarist and singer Zakk Wylde, who is widely renowned for his many years as lead guitarist for OZZY OSBOURNE and now PANTERA. After initially only performing live with rotating members, ZAKK SABBATH solidified a stable cast with the addition of OZZY OSBOURNE and ROB ZOMBIE bass player Blasko and Joey Castillo on drums (also of DANZIG and QUEENS OF THE STONE AGE). Inspired by the 50th anniversary of BLACK SABBATH's self-titled debut full-length, ZAKK SABBATH released a tribute to this monumental heavy metal milestone under the title Vertigo in 2020. The album was heaped with praise from critics and fans alike. The trio scored a massive global success as witnessed by impressive Billboard chart entries such as #5 on the US Hard Music chart, #7 on the Current Rock Albums chart and #27 on the Billboard Top Albums chart alongside #1 in Metal Albums in France and #3 on the German Album chart, as well as #9 on the UK Top 40 Rock/Metal chart among others. Pure passion for classic metal has driven ZAKK SABBATH to erect an even more monolithic monument to BLACK SABBATH than before with the double album Doomed Forever Forever Doomed. Time to bang heads again to these beautifully revisited songs that easily rank among the most influential and consequential ever composed by humans!

Celebrating more than 50 years of Birmingham's most famous four, the 'inventors' of heavy metal are being honoured by the preeminent tribute trio led by guitarist and singer Zakk Wylde with the double album Doomed Forever Forever Doomed. This loving tribute contains the Americans' brilliant take on BLACK SABBATH's second and third full-lengths, the classic heavy metal masterpieces Paranoid (1970) and Master of Reality (1971). ZAKK SABBATH were founded by BLACK LABEL SOCIETY guitarist and singer Zakk Wylde, who is widely renowned for his many years as lead guitarist for OZZY OSBOURNE and now PANTERA. After initially only performing live with rotating members, ZAKK SABBATH solidified a stable cast with the addition of OZZY OSBOURNE and ROB ZOMBIE bass player Blasko and Joey Castillo on drums (also of DANZIG and QUEENS OF THE STONE AGE). Inspired by the 50th anniversary of BLACK SABBATH's self-titled debut full-length, ZAKK SABBATH released a tribute to this monumental heavy metal milestone under the title Vertigo in 2020. The album was heaped with praise from critics and fans alike. The trio scored a massive global success as witnessed by impressive Billboard chart entries such as #5 on the US Hard Music chart, #7 on the Current Rock Albums chart and #27 on the Billboard Top Albums chart alongside #1 in Metal Albums in France and #3 on the German Album chart, as well as #9 on the UK Top 40 Rock/Metal chart among others. Pure passion for classic metal has driven ZAKK SABBATH to erect an even more monolithic monument to BLACK SABBATH than before with the double album Doomed Forever Forever Doomed. Time to bang heads again to these beautifully revisited songs that easily rank among the most influential and consequential ever composed by humans!

E Benediction__Scriptures Nuclear Blast 727361489212 $29.98 40 Rock
With over 30 years in the business and in a genre that not only refuses to die but is benefitting from a new lease on life, Benediction is back with Scriptures, arguably their best release to date. Formed in 1989 Benediction was quickly picked up by German underground metal label Nuclear Blast Records, a partnership that lasts to this day. At it's core Scriptures is death metal, a subgenre Benediction helped popularize and perfect, fused with the punk rock anger and attitude. The heavy metal powertrain riffing has become a staple for the band. Aggressive monster vocals from Dave Ingram and that groove that sets them apart others in their field, that's Benediction. As usual, tracks vary from slow and heavy to fast and intense, from shorter in your face numbers to epic masterpieces. Benediction do not follow blueprints when it comes to the parameters of writing, but you won't doubt who you are listening to. It is clearly and intentionally Benediction, that will never change.

E Big Something__Headspace Truth Serum Records 197644157006 $39.98 50 Rock
Hailing from the North Carolina countryside, or The Middle of Nowhere, as it's proudly dubbed on their debut album, the 6 headed musical monster known as 'Big Something' has steadily become one of the most unique and exciting rock bands to emerge from the Southeast. Huge rhythms paired with soaring guitars, E.W.I (electronic wind instrument), synths, horns and soulful vocals rise to the top of their signature sound taking listeners on a journey through a myriad of musical styles. With a diverse and growing catalog of timeless songs that tell stories, and a high energy live show fusing improvisational alternative rock with funk, reggae, jazz, electronica, heavy metal and more - there's not another band quite like Big Something.

E Black Nail Cabaret__Chrysanthemum Dependent 884388877672 $32.98 30 Electronic
LP (black vinyl) incl. 1 Page insert, black padded inner sleeve and protection sleeve (Re-Vinyl = Made from recycled vinyl).The beautiful chrysanthemum in it's humble white form is also known as the cemetery flower as it is often used to adorn graves for it's longevity. For Black Nail Cabaret, the chrysanthemum's blossom paves the way for our own deathbed portraits. We know that the grim reaper will come to us all and bring the end, which turns us into fear-filled jars. Our jar could be filled with so many other things but fear permeates all. The eponymous Chrysanthemum of the Hungarian pop noire duo's sixth album symbolises an uprising against that but also acceptance. Although Black Nail Cabaret remain true to their marked penchant for sexually explicit provocation, the primal, subconscious fear of death that triggers emotions, anxiety, and the fear of letting go is also a red thread running through the album that is metaphorically named Chrysanthemum. The eroticism of the Hungarians has always avoided cheap cliches. Instead the duo artistically depicts their living BDSM reality, which is framed by high aesthetic standards. Musically, Black Nail Cabaret have brought their outstanding songwriting abilities closer to perfection. On Chrysanthemum, the duo is seemingly effortless blending dark electronic sounds with pop noire elements. Their talent to write songs that can stand on their own and do not rely on electronic trickery has set Black Nail Cabaret apart from their peers. At the latest on their self-released full-length Pseudopop (2018), the Hungarians had successfully fused art, pop, dark harmonies, and powerful electronics. Black Nail Cabaret continued to hit the international scene with their fifth album Gods Verging on Sanity in 2020. The duo's excellent reputation rapidly spread through word of mouth even though the global pandemic enforced severe limitations upon them. Now the stars have all aligned, and Black Nail Cabaret are ready to take on the world with a dark soundtrack of life's glory that is symbolised by a shiny white flower of seeming innocence that at closer inspection also carries all the eternal might of death in it's scent: Chrysanthemum.

E Freitas,Amaro__Yy Psychic Hotline 850056058094 $27.98 50 Jazz
With his new album Y'Y (pronounced eey-eh, eey-eh), Amaro Freitas steps into a new realm of musical creation. A realm rooted in magic and possibility, and tempered by a sense of stewardship for the earth's bounties. Side A serves as an expression of connection to the earth and to the ancestors, paying homage to the forest and the rivers of Northern Brazil with both the music and the album title, Y'Y, a word written in the Sateré Mawé dialect, an ancestral indigenous code that means water or river. And by bringing to life lessons he learned in the Amazon about the incandescent power of enchanted spirits who intervene on behalf of the community in times of struggle. On Side B, Y'Y shows the connections between the global Black avant-jazz community. Bringing together multi-instrumentalist Shabaka Hutchings, harpist Brandee Younger, bassist Aniel Someillan, guitarist Jeff Parker and drummer Hamid Drake, the music creates an artful conversation by weaving together jazz traditions from across the world, while staying rooted in the unique sounds and rituals found in Afro-Brazilian and Indigenous cultures. Freitas continues to intertwine ancestral knowledge into music on Y'Y by bringing his fresh, decolonized interpretation of Brazilian jazz and sharing music that may well shatter our preconceived notions of what jazz can be.

E Mannequin Pussy_I Got Heaven Epitaph 045778796816 $23.98 500 Rock
Mannequin Pussy's music feels like a resilient and galvanizing shout that demands to be heard. Across four albums, the Philadelphia rock band that consists of Colins Bear Regisford (bass, vocals), Kaleen Reading (drums, percussion), Maxine Steen (guitar, synths), and Marisa Dabice (guitar, vocals) has made cathartic tunes about despairing times. There's just so much constantly going on that feels intentionally evil that trying to make something beautiful feels like a radical act, says Dabice. The ethos of this band has always been to bring people together. Their new album, I Got Heaven, which is out March 1 via Epitaph Records, is the band's most fully realized recording yet. Over ten ambitious tracks which abruptly turn from searing punk to inviting alternative pop, the album is deeply concerned with desire, the power in being alone, and how to live in an unfeeling and unkind world. It's a document of a band doubling down on their unshakable bond to make something furious, thrilling, and wholly alive.Following the 2019 release of their critically acclaimed third album Patience, Mannequin Pussy returned in 2021 for their EP Perfect. They toured that release relentlessly and added guitarist Maxine Steen to the band's official lineup. The band changed their entire creative formula, choosing to write together in the studio in Los Angeles with producer John Congleton, over slowly crafting tracks at home. Everyone felt empowered to speak up about their own ideas to make this thing the best it could possibly be, says Regisford.

Mannequin Pussy's music feels like a resilient and galvanizing shout that demands to be heard. Across four albums, the Philadelphia rock band that consists of Colins Bear Regisford (bass, vocals), Kaleen Reading (drums, percussion), Maxine Steen (guitar, synths), and Marisa Dabice (guitar, vocals) has made cathartic tunes about despairing times. There's just so much constantly going on that feels intentionally evil that trying to make something beautiful feels like a radical act, says Dabice. The ethos of this band has always been to bring people together. Their new album, I Got Heaven, which is out March 1 via Epitaph Records, is the band's most fully realized recording yet. Over ten ambitious tracks which abruptly turn from searing punk to inviting alternative pop, the album is deeply concerned with desire, the power in being alone, and how to live in an unfeeling and unkind world. E Master Peace_How To Make A Master Peace - Yellow Pmr Records 617308063073 $25.98 50 Rock
My debut album, How To Make A Master Peace, is definitely the most alternative body of work I've created to date. I chose to experiment with sub-genres of Indie that I feel no one is currently exploring, and create a record people wouldn't expect from me - something versatile yet thorough. From a musical standpoint, I drew influences from Indie Sleaze & Indie Dance acts such as: Friendly Fires, Justice, LCD Soundsystem and early Calvin Harris. But beyond this, I also found inspiration in the soundtracks to some of my favourite shows: Skins, Misfits & even Waterloo Road. All of these shows touch on adolescence, love, regret, friendship, culture and character building; which also happen to be the main themes of the album. Even though I've nodded to these topics before, I've never approached them in such depth and with so much vulnerability. For this project, I wanted to explore all of this backed by a melancholic soundscape - evoking feelings of nightlife and partying, as these can be youthful yet transformational spaces. In terms of my creative process, I didn't use any old demos on the project - I started each track from scratch. I was confident because I knew what I wanted to achieve and my creativity was at an all-time high. The only continuity on the project is through its production, being produced by the one and only Julian Bunetta and Matt Schwartz (who produced my latest EP, Peace of Mind). I feel really lucky to be able to work with these two as they both inherently understand the vision. Overall I'm just so proud of this project and it's ability to be simultaneously of the past and of the future.

Mildlife are Adam Halliwell, Kevin McDowell, Jim Rindfleish and Tom Shanahan. With no designated leader, the band rolls on intuitive waves. Chorus is the band's ultimate statement of that borderline mystical unity. Chorus is Mildlife's most optimistic record, serving as a sonic testament to the band's unwavering adoration for the beguiling realms of 70s psychedelic and cosmic sounds. Delve deeper, and you'll unearth Polish jazz, Italo disco and a sprinkling of contemporary electronic sounds. Chorus is the dance of an expanding and contracting universe - it's groove is forever and always, cyclical and evolving. In it's most human moments, the album luxuriates in the velvety embrace of Shanahan's bass lines, Halliwell's luminous guitar riffs, McDowell's hushed and alluring vocals, Rindfleish's intricate percussive tapestries and the spiritual rhythms of regular collaborator Craig Shanahan. Swept up in the chorus, the lines between individual and ensemble blur.

E Mini Trees__Burn Out - Orange Run For Cover 810097915954 $23.98 30 Rock
Burn Out - the latest release from Mini Trees - is a defiantly euphoric EP with the sonic and emotional bandwidth of a full-length record packed neatly into five new songs from Los Angeles-based songwriter Lexi Vega. Inspired by a relentless touring schedule that followed the release of her 2021 debut album Always In Motion, the songs of Burn Out confront questions of identity, exhaustion, and how to navigate creating art in an industry fixated on commodifying it. A month away from music sparked Vega's creativity and inspired her to return with long-time friend and producer Jon Joseph. Together they determined to push the limits of Mini Trees' bedroom pop description, opening the door to a number of new collaborators - keys from Zac Rae (Death Cab for Cutie, Lana Del Rey), arrangements from James McAllister (Sufjan Stevens, Taylor Swift), and even bass from longtime family friend Jimmy Johnson (James Taylor, Phil Collins).

Regimes rise and fall. Stars shine and fade. Trends come and go. Ministry lives on. The six-time GRAMMY® Award-nominated multiplatinum juggernaut founded and fronted by Al Jourgensen has seeped through the darkest corners of popular culture and infected the mainstream for over four decades, gleefully spewing sonic bile between the cracks of the system's facade. Born in the eighties, they survived the nineties, weathered the turn-of-the-century, and even held on through a Goddamn pandemic. However, Ministry shows no signs of stopping or slowing down-even for a breath. Instead, the band cranks out another blast of anthemic industrial metal on it's 2024 opus and sixteenth full-length LP, HOPIUMFORTHEMASSES. Green & Yellow Splatter LP

Amghar: The Godfather of Tuareg Music - VOL. 1 is the first career retrospective of the legendary, late Tuareg innovator Abdallah Oumbadougou, who is considered the Godfather of the Tuareg / Desert Blues genre and was a primary influence of current artists Bombino and Mdou Moctar. It features 14 tracks, newly remastered by 5 time GRAMMY winning engineer Michael Graves, and includes 6 unreleased, never before heard tracks. The gorgeous Double Vinyl package also includes extensive historical liner notes from Tuareg expert and historian Andy Morgan and lyric translations in Tamashek, French and English. The cover portrait of the artist was created by Nigerian born illustrator Diana Ejaita who is notable for her extensive cover work with the New Yorker magazine. 'He was like a father to us. E Pissed Jeans__Half Divorced - Spotify Green Sub Pop 098787159905 $24.98 1000 Rock
Loser Edition on lime Spotify green vinyl. Pissed Jeans has never been a band that goes halfway. They're known for their feral vocals, biting lyrics, buzz-saw guitars, and unhinged live shows, and their sixth album, Half-Divorced is no exception. These songs skewer the tension between youthful optimism and the sobering realities of adulthood, and when viewed through front-man Matt Korvette's scowl, everything takes on a level of violent absurdity. Pissed Jeans notorious acerbic sense of humor remains sharper than ever as they dismember some of the joys that contemporary adult life has to offer, from helicopter parents to stolen catalytic converters to being $62,000 in debt. In Korvette's words, Pissed Jeans is truly like an art project for us, which is what makes it so fun. This lack of restraint rages within the songs that unexpectedly veer into classic hardcore punk territory, often coming in at under two minutes long and erupting like the butane tank explosion Korvette sings about in Junktime.

E Placebo__Placebo Live So Recordings 738572325916 $103.98 90 Rock
Placebo are announcing the Placebo Live box set, an extensive collection of career-spanning performances captured in Mexico, Spain and London. Remarkably, more than 25 years in their career, the set includes the first live album that band have ever released - Collapse Into Never: Placebo Live In Europe 2023. Placebo Live also marks the first time that any live performances from the band have been made available on vinyl. Across the whole collection, vinyl, Blu-Ray and CD formats are catered to from three special live sets titled Collapse Into Never, This Is What You Wanted and Live From The White Room. Each was recorded in the last year and a half as the band toured the world in support of new album Never Let Me Go, playing to over 1.5 million fans in the process. Collapse Into Never, recorded live at Low Festival in Spain, comes as a clear double-vinyl gatefold. This Is What You Wanted was recorded live in Mexico City and the extended set is included here on Blu-Ray. Live From The White Room, recorded at Studio 1 Twickenham Studios, brings seven songs from the band's acclaimed new album Never Let Me Go to life and is presented in a softpak gatefold CD. The box set features songs from their eponymous debut Placebo, Black Market Music, Sleeping With Ghosts, Battle For The Sun, and Loud Like Love. Their acclaimed new album Never Let Me Go - which charted in the Top 10 in 13 countries on release last year - is also well represented here, including the album's lead single 'Beautiful James' which currently has over 35 million streams across platforms. Beloved fan-favourite covers like Kate Bush's 'running Up That Hill' and Tears For Fears' 'shout' also feature. In 2023, one of the great live bands of the last 25 years finally gets the live album release they deserve. Placebo Live reasserts why their show continues to be the essential experience that it always has been. TRAILER: [E Punchlove__Channels Kanine Records 827175034018 \$26.98 20 Rock

During 2022 - 2023 band leader Tommie Eriksson built a new studio which is called T.O.N / Temple of Naamah Studios. The writing, recording and production of the new album 'Paradigm Call' was completed in Fall 2023. The album title echoes the calling in of the new paradigm of the 'Aion of Drakon', prophesied already in 2011. 'Paradigm Call' is the most focused and hard hitting so far and heavier than ever. The opening track 'Drakon' is a hypnotic invocation that sets the mood perfectly for the relentless riff of 'revel in Dissidence' that follows, taking the doom into early 90s deathlike vibrations. 'Paradigm Call' track keeps the charismatic black hole open and calls the listener deep into the centre of the other side. 'Among the Ruins' is probably the catchiest track ever in the history of the band and features Paul Delaney from Black Anvil on guest vocals. 'Black Smoke' is another one riff epic that shows that Saturnalia Temple is one of the deadliest and most riveting.

Violet & Cobalt Blue vinyl in a gatefold jacket w/ spot gloss and die-cut printed euro sleeves. Includes download code. . Prolific and constantly evolving, Portland, OR's STRFKR have continued to release music that consistently connects with music lovers all over the globe. The band started out in a time when a co-sign from blogs and music outlets of note were all but mandatory for new music to be heard and accepted. STRFKR bypassed the hype machine almost completely, focusing instead on making their shows more exciting and pushing their music to new places. Their work ethic both in the studio and on the road has kept them on a steady climb, consistently playing venues on the level of legendary rooms like Terminal 5, Stubb's, and the 9:30 Club while using any available downtime to work towards the next recording. On their latest full-length album, Parallel Realms, STRFKR embrace a more pop-forward approach as heard on their recent single Running Around, while also hinting at experimentalism and the gentler textures on 2020's heralded, Future Past Life. Tracked by the band in their home studio in Portland, with additional engineering in Joshua Tree, CA, and mixed by Chris Coady (Beach House, The Drums), the new album feels exciting, cohesive, and familiar with immediate, yet diverse qualities that can only be found on STRFKR records. In addition to being streamed over 1B times around the world, STRFKR have performed at festivals including Coachella, Outside Lands, FYF Festival, Mad Decent Block Party, and others. The band has also toured consistently, playing to fans throughout North America, Europe, China, Japan, and other countries.

ZAKK SABBATH are back with an even more massive dose of pure BLACK SABBATH worship! Celebrating more than 50 years of Birmingham's most famous four, the 'inventors' of heavy metal are being honoured by the preeminent tribute trio led by guitarist and singer Zakk Wylde with the double album Doomed Forever Forever Doomed. This loving tribute contains the Americans' brilliant take on BLACK SABBATH's second and third full-lengths, the classic heavy metal masterpieces Paranoid (1970) and Master of Reality (1971). ZAKK SABBATH were founded by BLACK LABEL SOCIETY guitarist and singer Zakk Wylde, who is widely renowned for his many years as lead guitarist for OZZY OSBOURNE and now PANTERA. After initially only performing live with rotating members, ZAKK SABBATH solidified a stable cast with the addition of OZZY OSBOURNE and ROB ZOMBIE bass player Blasko and Joey Castillo on drums (also of DANZIG and QUEENS OF THE STONE AGE). Inspired by the 50th anniversary of BLACK SABBATH's self-titled debut full-length, ZAKK SABBATH released a tribute to this monumental heavy metal milestone under the title Vertigo in 2020. The album was heaped with praise from critics and fans alike. The trio scored a massive global success as witnessed by impressive Billboard chart entries such as #5 on the US Hard Music chart, #7 on the Current Rock Albums chart and #27 on the Billboard Top Albums chart alongside #1 in Metal Albums in France and #3 on the German Album chart, as well as #9 on the UK Top 40 Rock/Metal chart among others. Pure passion for classic metal has driven ZAKK SABBATH to erect an even more monolithic monument to BLACK SABBATH than before with the double album Doomed Forever Forever Doomed. Time to bang heads again to these beautifully revisited songs that easily rank among the most influential and consequential ever composed by humans!

Inspired by the 50th anniversary of BLACK SABBATH's self-titled debut full-length, ZAKK SABBATH released a tribute to this monumental heavy metal milestone under the title Vertigo in 2020. The album was heaped with praise from critics and fans alike. The trio scored a massive global success as witnessed by impressive Billboard chart entries such as #5 on the US Hard Music chart, #7 on the Current Rock Albums chart and #27 on the Billboard Top Albums chart alongside #1 in Metal Albums in France and #3 on the German Album chart, as well as #9 on the UK Top 40 Rock/Metal chart among others. Pure passion for classic metal has driven ZAKK SABBATH to erect an even more monolithic monument to BLACK SABBATH than before with the double album Doomed Forever Forever Doomed. Time to bang heads again to these beautifully revisited songs that easily rank among the most influential and consequential ever composed by humans!
E	Zakk Sabbath__Doomed Forever Forever Doomed - Red Transparent	Magnetic Eye	884388879072	$32.98	600 Rock
Gatefold 2LP Red transparent vinyl. ZAKK SABBATH are back with an even more massive dose of pure BLACK SABBATH worship! Celebrating more than 50 years of Birmingham's most famous four, the 'inventors' of heavy metal are being honoured by the preeminent tribute trio led by guitarist and singer Zakk Wylde with the double album Doomed Forever Forever Doomed. This loving tribute contains the Americans' brilliant take on BLACK SABBATH's second and third full-lengths, the classic heavy metal masterpieces Paranoid (1970) and Master of Reality (1971). ZAKK SABBATH were founded by BLACK LABEL SOCIETY guitarist and singer Zakk Wylde, who is widely renowned for his many years as lead guitarist for OZZY OSBOURNE and now PANTERA. After initially only performing live with rotating members, ZAKK SABBATH solidified a stable cast with the addition of OZZY OSBOURNE and ROB ZOMBIE bass player Blasko and Joey Castillo on drums (also of DANZIG and QUEENS OF THE STONE AGE). Inspired by the 50th anniversary of BLACK SABBATH's self-titled debut full-length, ZAKK SABBATH released a tribute to this monumental heavy metal milestone under the title Vertigo in 2020. The album was heaped with praise from critics and fans alike. E	Davis,Marc__Chi Taló Ep Vol. 2	Mr Bongo	7119691293561	$20.98	50	Dance Music
Record label boss, producer / DJ, and revered collector Marc Davis returns to his Chi-Talo series with the much-anticipated second volume. A concept of a split EP, taking one ultra-rare Chicago gem and the other a scarce Italian disco record and re-interpreting them for the modern dancefloor aesthetic. With the first volume, released on Marc's own Black Pegasus label, now trading hands for considerable amounts of money, round two sees him impart another double dose of digging sorcery for this Mr Bongo 12. Marc began his illustrious career in the Windy City in the '80s and was one of the first out of Chicago to be recognised for his eclectic approach to DJing. Presenting a global sound palette that took in choice cuts from Brazil, Africa, jazz fusion, house, soul and disco, whilst mixing it together Chicago style. Decades of knowledge and experience that is now distilled down into the Chi-Talo series.

The first 7-inch single from Dogadoga, a new band consisting of Enuma fumiya (ex. Plenty), Okayama kenji (ex. #andymori), Fujiwara hiroshi (ex. #andymori), Furuichi kenta, and Watanabe kyouichi. By mixing elements of PUNK, DUB, REGGAE, FUNK, LATIN, JAZZ, FUNKA LATINA, AFRO BEAT, etc. , we are planning to stimulate the sensibilities and right brain of all generations. PYG is a post-punk song with saxophone and parkas that runs everywhere, distributed first on each subscription in the fall of 2023. Coupling is a summer dubby Japanese rare song, preparation for summer. Tracklist:Side A1. PYGSide B1. Natsu no shitaku
D	Echoes Of A New Dawn Orchestra__Substream (DJ Kawasaki 45Edit) / This Feeling	Lawson Ent	4573471822670	$23.98		Dance Music
Side A is a cover of a famous Kyoto Jazz Massive song by Echoes of a New Dawn Orchestra, a pseudonym of Jeroboam, known for his releases on Danillo Plessow's label Space Grapes, also known as MCDE. In Europe, the Echoes of a New Dawn Orchestra, which joined Shuya Okino and supports Kyoto Jazz Massive's live activities, actually performs at each performance, so it is essentially a studio recording of the Kyoto Jazz Massive Live Set. It is no exaggeration to say so. Recorded by Danilo Plessow in his own studio. Kenny Dope was also a huge fan, creating a sound unique to Space Grapes that sold out every time a vinyl release was released. DJ KAWASAKI edited the boogie and funky 'substream' created by this gorgeous combination into a 7-inch size. This version is only available on vinyl. Side B is a remix of Kyoto Jazz Massive's 'this Feeling' by Mochi Men, a duo made up of Paris' new generation house DJ/producer Young Pulse and ATN, a DJ producer and manager of Jeroboam/Echoes of a New Dawn Orchestra. It is also a 7-inch cut from 'tokyo Crossover Night 2023', a compilation CD linked to the popular radio program Tokyo Crossover Radio. Furthermore, Young Pulse is also in charge of the mixdown of 'substream'. Both Side and AB are Kyoto Jazz Massive songs, and in addition to the interaction of personal connections, the relationship in terms of sound is also very strong. Kyoto Jazz Massive cover and remix EP by two up-and-coming French artists. LISTEN:This Feeling (Mochi Men Remix by Young Pulse and ATN) https://youtu.be/qc4SVJugQkE Tracklist:Side A01. E	Guy,Dave__Footwork / Morning Glory	Big Crown	349223014013	$10.98	30	Jazz
Dave is member of The Roots, The Dap Kings, and The Budos Band, he has lent his talents to the music of everyone from Amy Winehouse & Lizzo to Lee Fields & Charles Bradley. Now Dave steps to the front of the stage with a debut record that could have only come from a seasoned veteran. Teaming up in the studio with fellow long time collaborators Homer Steinweiss & Nick Movshon. The set of songs on this 7 are telling of what's to come. Side A, Footwork is a Latin inspired tune that gets you up from the intro drum fill and is sure to soundtrack many a dancefloor from Soho to Harlem and far beyond the city that inspired it. The choruses are moving, the verses are gorgeous, the backing band couldn't be sharper as they push the tune down the tracks making this an instant classic. Side B, Morning Glory is drenched in swag. The trumpet line repeats to great effect over the walking beat and the arrangement takes you through all the changes while staying entirely in the groove.
D	Jazztronik__Evoke / Beat Hopper (The 3Rd Session)	Lawson Ent	4573471822687	$23.98		Jazz
Ryota Nozaki, also known as Jazztronik, has decided to make a long-awaited 7" record from his distribution single Excursions series, in which he releases a wide variety of music individually, without being bound by a sense of unity or concept. Side A is the first song 'EVOKE' that decorates the opening of the Excursions series. A mid-tempo instrumental song that opens with the nostalgic sound of a tape deck button. The song is composed of a minimal composition centered on the keyboard and rhythm section, with a somewhat nostalgic melody, a muffled piano sound, and a rhythm with an impressive solid and rough feel that continues the nostalgic mood at the beginning. You can enjoy the lingering feeling as if you were looking back on your travel memories in a snapshot. Side B is the third installment of the Excursions series, 'Beat Hopper (The 3rd Session)'. A funky dance track that is completely different from Side A, with inspiration from techno and house everywhere. This work, which was created in a virtual session that was made possible by overcoming the various restrictions of the coronavirus pandemic, changes the flavor from the previous mid-tempo songs and adds a new dimension to the Excursions series with an uplifting arrangement. . E	Queen Latifah__Ladies First (Feat. Monie Love)/Come Into My House	Tommy Boy Music	016998555118	$14.98	700	Rap & Hip-Hop
Opaque Red. The third single off her seminal 1989 debut album, Ladies' First remains one of Queen Latifah's signature songs. Featuring Monie Love, Ladies' First became an anthem of women's empowerment. This 7 also includes a B-side of Come Into My House, originally released in 1990 as the fourth single. Limited pressing of 700 units.
D	Takara,Tomoko__Coffee Roomba (DJ Yoshizawa Dynamite.Jp Retouch)	Lawson Ent	4988002936397	$23.98		Jazz
The third retouch project by DJ Yoshizawa dynamite. Jp is a Japanese cover of a double-sided standard song that reinforces the acoustic bass and plays it with 'STEREO' sound quality/sound pressure without sacrificing the atmosphere of the original song!Side A 'Coffee Rumba' is a rare version with lyrics in Spanish in the second half. The performance is also nice, with a stylish arrangement similar to Latin jazz! On the other hand, the B-side 'Otenba Kiki', which also has a Latin touch, was originally released by French singer Jacqueline Francois as 'Les lavandieres du Portugal', and was released under the English name 'Portuguese Washerwomen' (also known as KIKI) in the 1950s and 1960s. This is a Japanese cover of a standard song that has been covered by many artists. (DJ Yoshizawa dynamite. Jp)Tracklist:Side A1. Coffee Roomba (DJ Yoshizawa dynamite. Jp Retouch)Side B1. Originally released in 1978 as a two LP set by A&M Records. This live set features their two US Top 30 hits 'Jackie Blue' and 'If You Want To Get To Heaven'. The Ozarks are still gigging and recording with founder members John Dillon and Mike Granda still in the band. Digitally remastered and slipcased
I	Ponty,Jean Luc__Gift Of Time / Storytelling / Tchokola	Beat Goes On	5017261215086	$16.99		Jazz
Three albums from electric violinist maestro Jean Luc Ponty, dating from 1987, 1989 and 1991. Frenchman Ponty first came to wider commercial recognition with his 1969 'King Kong' album which featured Frank Zappa compositions. Ponty has been a member of the Mahavishnu Orchestra and, in recent years, as part of Return To Forever. His solo recordings are many and varied, all receiving critical acclaim and jazz chart success. Digitally remastered and slipcased
I	Spooky Tooth__You Broke My Hearts So I Busted Your Jaw / Witness	Beat Goes On	5017261215161	$15.99		Rock
Two Spooky Tooth albums dating from 1973 and released on Island Records and both making the US Top 100. 'You Broke My Heart...' featured a new lineup with guitarist Mick Jones replacing Luther Grosvenor but still with Mike Harrison and Gary Wright. On 'Witness', Mike Patto replaced Harrison and original drummer Mike Kellie returned; however, the album's commercial failure led to Gary Wright leaving for a successful solo career and the band dissolving. In the 2000s there were brief reformations of the band but, by then, the magic had long gone. Digitally remastered and slipcased, and with new notes

I	Morta Skuld__Creation Undone - Green Vinyl	Peaceville	801056810014	$32.99		Rock
Scaling new heights of brutality for the longstanding US death metal veterans, 'Creation Undone' is the latest work of inspired extremity from frontman and mastermind Dave Gregor and co. In a time when the band's iconic and celebrated debut 'Dying Remains' reaches its thirty year milestone, and with recent live activity on both sides of the Atlantic seeing the quartet performing to a ravenous fanbase of metalheads both old and new, Morta Skuld now returns with a ten track opus of pure death metal in their unrelenting and unwavering pursuit of heaviness, still going strong after three decades, as the band unleashes their successor to 2020's 'suffer For Nothing'. With themes exploring an increasingly savage, corrupt and destructive state of the world in present times, and executed with a razor-sharp precision, with ferocious and hook-laden compositions to match and even exceed any of their highly regarded early output, 'Creation Undone' was recorded and mixed at Belle City Sound Studios by Chris DJuricic, with mastering work conducted at Flatline Audio with Dave Otero. Morta Skuld formed in Milwaukee in 1990, quickly producing two demos before going on to release three albums on Peaceville Records (initially via legendary sub-label Deaf Records) in the early-mid 90's. Many years later, and with a new line-up, founder and main-man David Gregor then reunited with Peaceville for the opuses 'Wounds Deeper Than Time', and 'suffer For Nothing', showing that none of the brutal & inspired magic of the band's former years had been lost. This edition of 'Creation Undone' is presented on limited edition dark green vinyl, including a printed inner sleeve with full lyrics
I	Ocean Colour Scene__Days Like These: Live 1998-2015	Demon	5014797910379	$124.99		Rock
All beginnings start with a name. And so, in October 1989, Simon Fowler, Steve Cradock, Damon Minchella and Oscar Harrison sat down together, chose their three favourite words, arranged them in a satisfactory order and became Ocean Colour Scene. Thirty-five years on, and Ocean Colour Scene are still together: making music and regularly selling out huge concert halls across the country. They have the support of an extraordinarily dedicated and loyal fan base who cherish their music and hold close to their hearts a lifetime of memories supporting the group. This latest boxset continues Demon Records' ongoing celebration of one of Britain's finest bands and for this edition the spotlight focuses on the bands magnificent live material. Widely regarded as one of the finest live bands to come out of the UK this 4LP boxset illustrates the bands live prowess and expert musicianship. Within this boxset you'll find three magnificent live recordings that span the decades. These include Travellers Tunes: Live From Sterling Castle 1998, Live Acoustic At The Jam House 2006 and Live at The Bridgewater Hall With Q Strings 2015. Travellers Tunes: Live From Sterling Castle was recorded in 1998, it followed the release of their chart-topping third album Marchin' Already, and the band supporting Oasis at the legendary Knebworth Park gig. OCS had embarked on their own headline arena tour and played three sold-out nights at Stirling Castle - gigs that have gone down in legend amongst OCS fans. Previously only available as a VHS, Demon Records are delighted to make this album available for the first time on vinyl. Live From The Jam House 2006 is a good reflection on a band who have not only been able to turn it on live but use the opportunity to flesh out their songs into more rounded shapes. Many rare gems from their back catalogue make an appearance here and unlike previous acoustic sets Live From The Jam House features the full band line up plus numerous guest spots. Now also available for the first time on vinyl. Finishing off this magnificent set is the spectacular live recording taken from the bands tour in 2015, the band celebrated their 25th anniversary by playing a very special UK tour in concert halls accompanied by Q Strings. Originally released for RSD2014 in very limited quantities it's nearly impossible to get hold of a copy today. Put together in full coordination with the band, all of these albums have been remastered by Phil Kinrade at Alchemy Mastering and now pressed on limited edition 140g colour vinyl.
