Formed in 1981, SLAYER are one of the most respected and well-known metal bands on the planet. With a dozen proper full-lengths under their belt, including 2015's Nuclear Blast debut "Repentless", SLAYER's catalog remains an unfathomably important installment in music's history.

The album "The Repentless Killology (Live at The Forum in Inglewood, CA)" is a 21-track live release spanning the band's catalog. Made up of early tracks like "Hell Awaits" and "Chemical Warfare", recent tracks like "Repentless" and "When the Stillness Comes", as well as crowd favorites like "Raining Blood", "Angel of Death", "War Ensemble" and more, this album comes in at a total running time of over an hour and a half.

Revenge, murder, bloodshed, and retribution, the SLAYER *Repentless Killology is a perfectly packaged story reflecting these values that most look down upon. This is the story of Wyatt who used to run with the wrong crowd. Wyatt is a former Neo Nazi associated with a gang known as "The Hand Brotherhood" whose signature mark is a bloody handprint left after a murder had taken place. Wyatt left his gang after he fell in love with Gina, a woman who saved his life after a brush with death from those who wanted revenge on him and his gang. Wyatt and Gina go into hiding to start a family and escape his tarnished past. The Hand Brotherhood are not going to let this happen.

The Repentless Killology Short Film is the combination of music videos from SLAYER's last full-length release "Repentless", threaded through a film narrative that ends with SLAYER performing a sold-out show at Los Angeles' iconic Forum. The 2-CD & vinyl formats "The Repentless Killology (Live at The Forum in Inglewood, CA)" contain the entirety of the concert, consisting of 21 tracks.

MARKETING HIGHLIGHTS

- Formed in 1981, SLAYER are one of the most respected and well-known metal bands on the planet. With a dozen proper full lengths under their belt, including 2015's Nuclear Blast debut "Repentless", SLAYER's catalog remains an unfathomably important installment in music's history
- "The Repentless Killology" Blu-Ray is made up of a 45-60 min film that consists of 3 music videos plus additional narrative/story line that marries the three videos together with intros, interludes and conclusion including Danny Trejo, Jessica Pimentel, etc. (about 45 min long). The Blu-Ray also contains a full live show from The Forum during SLAYER's Repentless tour in 2017 with tracks spanning the bands career

For nearly four decades, SLAYER's onslaught has proven the band to be the supreme thrash-metal band on the planet. The two-time Grammy-winning band has also accumulated an abundance of Certified Gold Albums along with “Best...” awards from media outlets all over the world, including Kerrang!, SPIN, Metal Hammer, Revolver, and Esquire. Throughout SLAYER's history, the band has never faltered in unleashing its extreme and focused sonic assault, and, unlike many of its contemporaries who “commercialized” their sound, SLAYER has remained crushing and brutal, steadfastly refusing to cater to the mainstream.

SABATON's breakthrough album "Heroes" was originally released in 2014. Musically the album struck the metal scene like a fighter aircraft from the clear sky. After serving some ultra-catchy, more traditional SABATON epics, this Falun-quintet dives into more unprecedented territory with songs such as powerful "The Ballad Of Bull", Western-movie themed "To Hell And Back" and guitar-driven "Resist And Bite" - the latter one being some of the most up-to-date performances on the endlessly vibrant album.

As a whole, "Heroes" serves compelling mixture of epic metal anthems, carried out by ultra-powerful guitar riffs, pounding drums, catchy choruses, "rough-meets-melody" kind of vocals and incomparable solos - not forgetting the totally new level of intensity and bombastic sound quality, thanks to a world-famous producer and SABATON's long-time guardian angel Peter Tägtgren. "Heroes" definitely introduced SABATON more varied and dynamically wider than ever before, but at the same time, the fresh-sounding record still possess every imaginable element that you may expect from these heroic northmen.

Tommy Boy Releases Limited 7" Pressing of Everlast

What It's Like Ends

"What It's Like" was the lead single off Everlast's sophomore album, Whitey Ford Sings the Blues. It tells the story of three different people and their everyday struggles, urging empathy from the audience, all over a genre-bending mix of rock, hip-hop and blues. Arguably his most successful song as solo artist, the single reached number one on both the US Billboard Mainstream Rock and Modern Rock Tracks charts and peaked at number 13 on the Billboard Hot 100. This 7" single also features "Ends," the second single from the same album.

Release Information:

“Mozart is the reason why I became a musician,” says flautist Emmanuel Pahud, who – like Mozart – was born on January 27th. He first became captivated by the composer’s music when he was just five years old. In the words of the Baltimore Sun he plays it “with an astonishing array of subtly moulded sounds, superb breath control, flawless articulation and, above all, consistently eloquent phrasing.” With pianist Éric Le Sage, Pahud performs several Sonatas, which Mozart originally composed for violin and piano.

Release Information:

For five decades Wolfgang Sawallisch (1923-2013) held a central position in the musical world. That centrality was reflected in a series of top orchestral and operatic posts and in his interpretations, free of self-regarding eccentricities. His modest but highly effective conducting technique also made him the ideal recording artist. Sawallisch was a Bavarian born in Munich, city of orchestras and a great opera company, which he headed for 21 years. He started his career as an outstanding pianist and remained a sought-after accompanist to great Lieder singers and instrumentalists. Volume 1 of a complete conspectus of his Warner Classics recordings (made for Electrola and EMI Classics between 1954 to 1997) includes wonderful Lieder and song collaborations, as well as famous concerto accompaniments for eminent soloists and a heartwarming traversal of Schubert's secular vocal and sacred choral music with Bavarian Radio colleagues. But the main focus among the 65 discs is on his symphonic achievements: Beethoven, Schumann, Mendelssohn, Brahms, Bruckner and Dvořák – the latter's Eighth Symphony was his first published recording, from 1954. Richard Strauss, an early influence, is strongly represented. This 65CD-box brings together all the non-operatic recordings that the German conductor and pianist Wolfgang Sawallisch (1923-2013) made in the years from 1954 to 1997 for EMI Classics and Electrola (now Warner Classics).

NEA Jazz Master Louis Hayes certainly personifies the term “living history.” Born in Detroit, Hayes packed up his drum set and caught a train east, arriving in New York City in 1956 to join the Horace Silver Quintet. In 1959 he joined the Cannonball Adderley band, finding himself, in his early 20s, at the nerve center of the jazz world. He would visit John Coltrane in his apartment and was to make several justly famous recordings with him. Over the next 60 years Hayes amassed a impressively great body of work, playing and recording with Oscar Peterson, Dexter Gordon, Grant Green, Kenny Burrell, Cedar Walton, Sonny Rollins, Woody Shaw and many more of the giants of modern music. His latest recording on Savant, Artform Revisited, may fondly recall some of Hayes' old friends, but it also stands on the summit of today's finest post bebop sessions. Surrounded by his recording band of choice, Hayes' vibrant and colorful drumming supports a carefully chosen set list. Two new compositions by Hayes are featured along with some Charlie Parker tunes, the John Lewis version of “Milestones” and the beautiful but seldom-heard Bobby Troup ballad, “You're Looking at Me.” Through it all, Hayes proves himself to not just a great drummer, but also a gifted and charismatic leader, inspiring his players to give their best and delivering performances born of his vast experience and the mutual respect of all those concerned.

ALEX KAUTZ WHERE WE BEGIN

Across eight tracks, Kautz and company paint a colorful picture of a bridge between contemporary jazz and Brazilian pop and folk styles.

As drummer Alex Kautz sees it, there are two parts to his musical brain: the Brazilian side, developed while growing up in São Paulo, and the jazz side, which came later, opening his ears to a wide world of musical possibilities. Those two approaches developed separately for Kautz and were initially fueled by different inspirations. Upon moving to New York City in 2007, though, he found a musical community that encouraged both, soon pushing him to new heights. “New York makes you find your uniqueness as a musician,” Kautz explains. “You really need to find a voice to fit. There are so many people playing so well and so many artists with their own ideas.”

Kautz’s approach to drumming now manifests his popular and traditional Brazilian influences and his jazz experience—steeped in foundational greats like Roy Haynes, Elvin Jones, and Tony Williams—as well as the intrepid melding of those worlds found in the music of Airto Moreira. His work as a side musician reflects his varied interests, and since embedding himself in the New York scene, Kautz has landed gigs drumming alongside artists including Tim Ries, Magos Herrera, Nilson Matta, Chico Pinheiro, Lenny Andrade, Fabio Gouvea, Steve Wilson and Michael Rodrigues among others.

As Kautz’s debut recording as a leader, the title of Where We Begin can be taken literally. But the album far exceeds that limitation. Across eight tracks, Kautz and company paint a colorful picture of a bridge between contemporary jazz and Brazilian pop and folk styles. On Where We Begin, Kautz presents a musical voice developed over his lifelong musical journey and promises there’s much more to come. —from the liner notes by Nick Millevoi Universe was founded in Sweden in 1982. After leaving the band Moon, lead guitarist Michael Kling was one of the founding members, bassist Hasse Hagman, who played together with drummer Anders Wetterström and guitarist Per Nilsson in Joey Tempest's first band, all came from the band Twilight. Keyboarder Fredrik Kriström and singer Kjell Wallen completed the band. The band disbanded at the beginning of 1988, the band members appeared here and there in different musical contexts. In 2002, all members met for the first time in 14 years. At first UNIVERSE lacked a vocalist, but suddenly one day Andreas Eklund (ex-House Of Shakira) was there. His narrative lyrics and tasteful melodies opened the door to another musical dimension. In 2018 they return with "Rock Is Alive". Now finally the 3rd album and the band is eager to play the new songs and the old classics at the concerts.

Behind the new multinational band Atlantis Drive is the German guitarist Markus Pfeffer (Barnabas Sky, Lazarus Dream). With the aim of celebrating and reviving the melodic rock sound of the 80s, he embarks on a musical journey together with vocal legend Mark Boals (Ring Of Fire, Shining Black, ex-Yngwie Malmsteen's Rising Force), French keyboardist Jorris Guilbaud (Devoid, Heart Line) and drummer Markus Kullmann (Glenn Hughes, Sinner, Voodoo Circle). Beyond short-lived trends, Atlantis Drive stylistically celebrates the spirit of the 80s with thick keyboards full of hooklines, groovy guitar riffs, filigree solos, catchy choruses and bombastic vocal arrangements. Mark Boals hasn't been heard in such a melodic context for a long time and those who know him mainly from neoclassical bands and projects will be very positively surprised by the incredibly catchy hooklines and choruses that he conjures out of the hat with Atlantis Drive. In terms of content, the lyrics, which are really worth listening to, cover a wide range of topics, ranging from nostalgic retrospectives ("Way Back When"), belief in oneself ("Faith"), one's own finiteness ("Time", "Curtain Falls") and betrayal ("Medusa Smile") to the missing of our musical heroes in the eight-and-a-half-minute final epic "Heroes".

Release Information:

CAGE² is the title of Bertrand Chamayou's new album - he calls it the twin brother of his most recent Letter(s) to Erik Satie - both recorded at the Miraval studios. CAGE² is also the title of a performance Bertrand Chamayou conceived with dancer and choreographer Élodie Sicard, featuring 12 pieces composed by John Cage for prepared piano, in the period between 1940 and 1945. John Cage wrote all the pieces of this album for dance solos: for the American dancer Syvilla Fort, for dancers and choreographers such as Valérie Bettis, Wilson Williams, Pearl Primus, Jean Erdman, but also for the terrific Merce Cunningham. Bertrand has also delivered brilliant booklet notes on Cage, the genesis of the prepared piano and the pieces themselves.

KOKOKO! BUTU

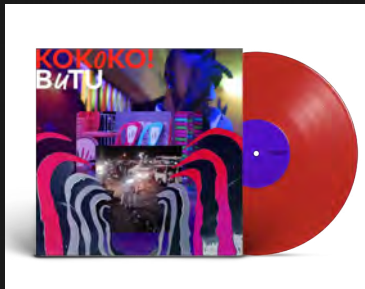

Pioneers of Kinshasa's sonic revolution, KOKOKO! have captivated global audiences with their striking sonics and energetic performances since 2017. Their accolades include best live band award by AIF, NPR Tiny Desk and Boiler Room slots, appearances at festivals including All Points East, SXSW, Green Man and Pitchfork Festival, and a placement on the Grand Theft Auto and FIFA soundtracks. Their critically acclaimed debut album Fongola achieved global praise, with DJ Mag labelling it "quite unlike anything else you'll hear", while The Guardian called the group a "commanding new voice". The Congolese city of Kinshasa's after-dark buzz was the inspiration behind their sophomore album, BUTU, which means 'the night' in Lingala. The experimental record dives deep into the heart of the chaotic place, celebrating the joyful and creative spirit of its inhabitants. With vocalist Makara Bianco at the helm and production from Xavier Thomas, AKA Débruit, this follow-up to Fongola finds the group channelling a more electronic, upbeat sound. BUTU is a replication of the frenetic feel of that dynamic nightlife – equipment being pushed to its limit, via saturated and distorted speakers, or the sonic push and pull of sounds after dark. Featured on NPR Tiny Desk, The New Yorker, Billboard, Flaunt Magazine.

Memories on Morgan Street: Scott Joplin Reimagined by Royce Martin

Rivermont BSW-2265 (CD) / BLV-2265 (Clear Vinyl LP)

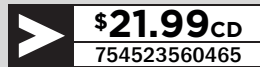

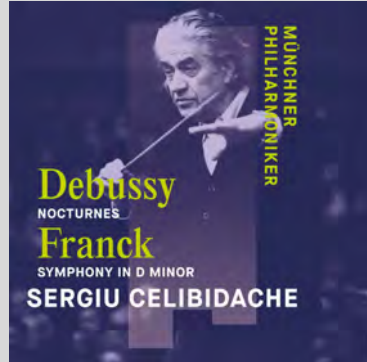

There is something magical about hearing a well-loved piece of music interpreted in a way that rekindles the joy and exhilaration of hearing it for the first time. In his approach to the the music of Scott Joplin, composer and pianist Royce Martin has positioned himself at the fore of a new ragtime vanguard. Drawing inspiration from gospel, jazz, classical, and even hip-hop, Martin reimagines Joplin's music in a variety of moods, from poignant, heartfelt, and introspective; to playful and humorous; to brimming with joyful, youthful exuberance. Martin's virtuosic "rag-bop" interpretations never lose sight of Joplin's melodic genius or the rhythmic drive that animates the best ragtime. In addition to 12 piano solos featured on the Clear Vinyl LP, the deluxe CD edition of the album includes several audio drama vignettes depicting imagined scenes from Joplin's life and beyond, and the original rap song "Rags to Riches," which incorporates Joplin's "The Entertainer." Recorded in the Scott Joplin House State Historic Site, St. Louis, Missouri. 16 tracks. 69 minutes. (Vinyl contains 12 tracks / 51 minutes.) Includes liner notes by the artist.

This release from the archive of the Munich Philharmonic honours two iconic works from the repertoire of French symphonic music of the late 19th century: César Franck's Symphony in D minor and Claude Debussy's Nocturnes. Franck's only symphony testifies to grandeur and French elegance, while Debussy's Nocturnes capture the special atmosphere of the night with all its twilight colours and movements. In the remastered concert recordings from 1991 and 1983, legendary conductor Sergiu Celibidache interprets the two masterpieces with all their drama and finesse.

Release Information:

"This is as fine a recorded account ... as I've heard for some time, both in terms of Lahav Shani's conception of the music and its realisation on the orchestra. It's a performance that grows movement by movement, stable of pulse, yet flexible and free-flowing within the boundaries of the larger whole." Gramophone was full of praise for the Rotterdam Philharmonic Orchestra's recording, released in 2023, of Bruckner's epic Symphony No 7. Now the Dutch orchestra and its chief conductor have recorded Bruckner's Symphony No 5. As Lahav Shani told Gramophone in an interview devoted to Bruckner: "His music has a sense not only of looking back and encompassing the history of music, but also very much looking forward and seeing the future ... One can talk about Bruckner's relationship with religion, with God, and with spirituality – and perhaps this has the most influence on the atmosphere of the music – but there are also beautiful melodic lines and a sense of cantabile and continuation ... I never try to impose a specific interpretation ... I much prefer to let the music flow and develop and change ... There is no right or wrong. Bruckner is not here for us to ask if he meant this or if he meant something else. He wrote music that is so much beyond these things, music that conveys such deep human emotion."

Some guys have all the luck. XASTHUR founder Scott Conner sure ain't one of them. The always open wound of his life suppurates in a constant flow of sonic blood into and out of his latest album “Disharmonic Variations”. The thirteen bitter, painful, dirt-stained, and sometimes even hopeful tracks sure ain't pretty “Goldberg Variations” either. Rather the title “Disharmonic Variations” serves as both the program and the message. Music is not just what Scott does. He does not lead a picture book life. There is only music. Scott does not write and record just 8 songs a year. He makes music 24/7 on his own time and in his own way. Scott does it analogue, in the hard old-fashioned way, with his gear and instruments piled up in the room where he stays at the time. In this musical flow of consciousness, this diary of an artist, all considerations of style are a luxury that Scott does not have. His current form of expression on “Disharmonic Variations” tends towards the acidic taste of American dark folk with one detour into ambient sound. There is no guarantee for the direction that XASTHUR will take next. Whatever happens depends on what Scott feels. XASTHUR were originally conceived by vocalist and multi-instrumentalist Scott Conner in the year 1995. Although started in the sunny state of California, USA, the project started out in the vein of bleak black metal of the Nordic second wave. In 2010, Scott announced the end of XASTHUR and returned with an acoustic dark folk project under the banner of NOCTURNAL POISONING. In 2015, the American artist circled back to the name XASTHUR, but insisted that his black metal days were over. On the previous release “Inevitably Dark” (2023), XASTHUR have partly lifted the self-imposed ban on black metal, simply because Conner felt like it and therefore did it. With “Disharmonic Variations”, XASTHUR deliver their next ‘take it or leave it’ recording. To Scott Conner it does not matter what other people think about his music. Curse him, praise him – he still only does what he wills and that remains his true artistic achievement.

FRENCH CHANSON/POP ROCK

It's been 6 years since we last heard from Adrienne Pauly. 6 years is both long and short, the time it took for her songs to mature and mature enough to be released, to be offered to us. This 3rd album is a personal work, in which Adrienne confides in us with poetry, and draws us into her universe, at once immediately identifiable and yet so very different. It's an album that features long-time companions Gaby Concato (Melissa Mars, Jacques Dutronc, Vanessa Paradis) and Axel Concato (PY JA MA), as well as the soul of the Stranglers, Jean-Jacques Burnel. This album marks the return of fantasy to French chanson from an artist who is always off the beaten track. The actress/singer enjoyed her first musical success in 2006 with her debut album, supported by the singles 'La fille du prisunic' and above all 'J'veux un mec'. These earned her a nomination that same year at the Victoires de la Musique awards in the "Album Revelation of the Year" and "Artist of the Year" categories.

Release Information:

Intense, passionate and impeccable in its musical disciplines, the Berlin-based Artemis Quartet “consistently finds a balance between projecting musical structure and conveying immediacy.” Confirming that verdict from the New York Times is this 23CD collection, encompassing all the recordings the ensemble made between 1996 and 2018. The Artemis Quartet began life in 1989 and developed a particular reputation in the central Austro-German repertoire. If Beethoven justly asserts a powerful presence, the scope of this collection extends as far as Eastern Europe and South America and well into the 20th century. Over the period of nearly a quarter of a century documented in this box, there were changes in the Artemis Quartet’s lineup, but as founding cellist Eckart Runge explains, this “brought new inspiration – an opportunity to broaden horizons and introduce fresh ideas.” The ensemble suffered a tragic loss with the untimely death of violist Friedemann Weigle in 2015. Just days earlier, the Artemis had completed a recording of Dvořák’s lyrical and poignant ‘American’ Quartet; it is now released for the very first time. This landmark box is completed by a comprehensive booklet which includes reminiscences from members of the Artemis Quartet and from sound engineers who collaborated with them.

This 23 CD box contains all the recordings made by the Berlin-based Artemis Quartet, between 1996 and 2018. It contains the entirety of the Artemis Quartet’s Warner Classics catalogue (originally recorded for Virgin Classics and then Erato), including a previously unreleased 2015 recording of Dvořák’s ‘American’ Quartet. (A total of 20 CDs). In addition, there are radio co-productions from 1996, 1997 and 2000 which have been licensed to Warner Classics for this collection.

Three CD deluxe digipack containing all of the singles issued by Punk legends The Vibrators between 1976-2017. Also includes as a bonus two rare solo 45s by vocalist Knox. Many of the bands later singles have never received a domestic release in the UK and are now expensive and sought after on the Punk collectors' market. Each single is illustrated in the 28-page booklet which also features detailed liner notes. The band retired from touring in 2022 after nearly 50 years but still record tracks for themed compilations and still feature original members Knox and Eddie.

flurry of activity happening on multiple fronts for the Monkees throughout 1986, especially the gruelling demands of their touring schedule, the fact that Davy Jones managed to record a full album amid the chaos is somewhat staggering. "Incredible!" features several songs that could well have reached the Billboard charts, had things played out differently. However, Jones decided to hang on to the album and it ended up being self-released on cassette on his own mail order label. The minimalistic promotion and treatment of the original release belie the considerable studio and artist firepower behind these recordings. This deluxe repackaging allows this chapter in Jones' fascinating journey to finally more fulsomely shine.

Repressing. 25 CD box set from the iconic singer/songwriter. "Sunshine on my shoulders makes me happy," goes one of John Denver's most well-known songs. "Sunshine" touches on many of the themes most important to the singer-songwriter: nature, love, beauty. Throughout the course of a career sadly cut short when he perished in a plane crash in 1997 aged just 53, Denver revisited these themes over and over again, using his pure, crystalline tone to bring comfort and spread a message of peace. With his boyish good looks, gentle voice and enthusiasm for music and nature, he was one of the preeminent pop voices of the 1970s, incorporating folk and country influences into his popular material. He was selling millions of albums to a devoted fan base. He was quick to recognize talent: he covered songs by Jerry Jeff Walker (including Mr Bojangles), James Taylor and John Prine, and forged a partnership with writer Joe Henry. Included in this "RCA Albums Collection" are his many gold and platinum-selling LPs including "Poems, Prayers and Promises"

Definitive four CD Collection by R&B legends B. T. Express. With fantastic sleeve notes by journalist Lois Wilson. B. T. Express signed with production company Roadshow Records then a deal was struck with Scepter, initially they recorded as the Madison Street Express - they rehearsed on Brooklyn's Madison street - but the label insisted they change their name and B. T. Express was born - BT short for Brothers Trucking but the group didn't like it so changed it to Brooklyn Transit. Their 1974 debut album 'Do It ('Til You're Satisfied)' was

(with the hits Take Me Home, Country Roads and Sunshine on My Shoulders), "Rocky Mountain High" and "Windsong" (with Annie's Song and I'm Sorry) as well as later forays into country and pop, all of which contain hidden gems worthy of deeper investigation. The most complete Denver package. It contains 24 original albums released between 1969 and 1986, plus Denver's rare privately pressed 1966 LP, "John Denver Sings". Each individual album is packaged in a replica wallet from the album's original cover art.

Three CDs. Digitally remastered and expanded edition of this 2001 album by Renaissance. Includes two bonus CDs of 'In The Land Of The Rising Sun - Live In Japan 2001' with an illustrated booklet. The album saw a reunion of the band with Annie Haslam, Michael Dunford and Terence Sullivan coming together to record this album at Astra Studios in Kent. The sessions also featured an appearance by keyboard player John Tout on 'Pearls of Wisdom', 'Dear Landseer' and 'Dolphins Prayer', the latter two songs also featuring guest Roy Wood (who also appeared on 'Life in Brazil'). The band was further augmented by keyboard player Mickey Simmonds. Following the release of the album, in March 2001, Renaissance travelled to Japan to perform three concerts with a band which featured Annie Haslam, Michael Dunford, Terence Sullivan along with Rave Tesar (piano and additional keyboards), Mickey Simmonds (keyboards) and David Keyes (bass guitar). A concert in Tokyo on 16th March was recorded and later issued as the double CD set 'In the Land of the Rising Sun - Live in Japan 2001'. This new edition of 'Tuscany' features both the classic studio album and 'In the Land of the Rising Sun.'

Five CD set. The first ever career covering round up of one of the UK's most underrated vocalists. 95-track 5CD clamshell box set containing Barry's five studio albums for Polydor Records, a disc of non LP recordings released by Polydor plus a discs of late 70s tracks for other labels including nine previously unreleased cuts. Well over half the featured tracks are appearing here on CD for the first time. 'Eloise' hit No. 1 across the globe, including the Top spot in the UK, Australia, New Zealand, Belgium, France, Italy, Holland, Norway, Spain and Germany plus the Top 5 in most other record buying territories. Germany remained a major market for Barry and he chalked up hits with the likes of 'Love Is Love' (No. 4), 'The Hunt' (No. 22), 'Colour Of My Love' (No. 23), 'Magical Spiel' (No. 22), 'Kitsch' (No. 10) and 'Sanctus, Sanctus Hallelujah' (No. 42), all of which are featured in this collection. Released with the full support of his Estate, the release has been overseen by St. Etienne's Bob Stanley, a long time fan, who has provided in-depth liner notes.

An exclusive 45th anniversary CD release of Paste Magazine's #1 synth-pop album of all time 'No. 1 In Heaven' by Sparks. Released in 1979, the Giorgio Moroder-produced 'No. 1 In Heaven' became the blueprint album for all electronic music to come. The same year, Ron and Russell Mael wrote, produced, and recorded the album 'Is There More To Life Than Dancing?' for LA-based singer Noel. Together these albums showcase the Maels' electronic adventurousness and trailblazing foresight into the next decade. Bands such as Joy Division, Duran Duran, Vince Clarke (Depeche Mode, Yazoo, Erasure), etc. Have cited 'No. 1 In Heaven' as influential to their own work.

Four CD set. The most definitive and complete set of the Yardbirds' BBC appearances to date. Over 89 tracks, of which 30 previously unreleased. With an introduction by Chris Welch. A spined book of track by track, in-depth sessions notes by BBC historian Ashley Wood. Interviews of Jim McCarty and Paul Samwell-Smith by Chris Welch. Sound quality restored and improved, fully remastered. Total playing time: approx. 250 mins. Mono recordings. Celebrating the 60th anniversary of the first documented live appearance by the Yardbirds, this 4CD set features 3 discs' worth of material from Jeff Beck's time on lead guitar with The Yardbirds, while the 4th disc documents the period when Jimmy Page held the lead guitar spot in the band. Over the past 25 years, there have been several issues of Yardbirds BBC material by Repertoire Records, but 30 of the tracks included here have not been heard since broadcast, and almost all the other tracks represent either a massive upgrade in quality or at least some improvement on previous releases. With track by track, in-depth sessions notes with detailed broadcast information by BBC historian Ashley Wood, edited by Chris Welch. Stand by for a detailed and brilliantly researched story of the band and their music, compiled by Ashley Wood, and hear how the Yardbirds' 'Train Kept A Rollin' thanks to all those who rescued and salvaged original BBC archive material, including miraculous performances of classics like 'Jeff's Boogie', 'White Summer' and 'Dazed And Confused.'

a few weeks later, on BBC's The Old Grey Whistle Test. Later BBC sessions included two In Concert in April 1973 and November 1974. The caliber Greenslade's members ensured that the group would be innovative, groundbreaking and dynamic in their musical approach, and would also be notable due to the absence of a guitarist within their ranks. Originally issued in February 1973, Greenslade was a fine debut album and featured such future classic compositions as 'Feathered Friends', 'Melange', 'Drowning Man' and 'Sundance'. Considered by many to be at their finest on stage, this release is a great opportunity to trace the band's evolution through the BBC's airwaves. In 2000, Greenslade and Reeves, teamed up with vocalist/keyboardist John Young, and recorded a new Greenslade studio album: Large Afternoon. Drummer John Trotter joined in time for a subsequent tour, during which the live album Greenslade 2001 - Live: The Full Edition was recorded.

Band close out Side A. Side B finds it's groove with two of the decades' best from Alexander O'Neal with 'Fake' from his Jam & Lewis produced 'Hearsay' album and Aretha Franklin's 'Freeway Of Love' from her superb album 'Who's Zoomin' Who', whilst the rest of this side features some of the slickest dance-floor fusions from Sheila E., Oliver Cheatham, The S.O.S. Band, and early 80s Britfunk from Freeez with the sublime 'Southern Freeez'. LP2 kicks off with a run of tracks that build on a foundation of funky R&B in conjunction with electronic beats and hooks - including 'Let It All Blow' from the Dazz Band, Sly Fox with the huge hit 'Let's Go All The Way' and Rockwell with guest vocals from Michael Jackson on 'Somebody's Watching Me'. Funk pioneers Sly & Robbie & Shinehead scored their biggest crossover hit with 'Boops (Here To Go)', and UK Funk achieved major chart success for Level 42, and Shakatak. The final side celebrates some of the decades' new R&B superstars - Bobby Brown, and Jody Watley both achieved global success, Natalie Cole enjoyed a renaissance with 'Pink Cadillac' amongst other hits, and Keith Sweat, Pebbles, René & Angela and Vesta Williams are all featured with their signature floor-fillers. A Limited edition pressing, and an essential addition to any collection.

| Intense, passionate and impeccable in it's musical disciplines, the Berlin-based Artemis Quartet consistently finds a balance between projecting musical structure and conveying immediacy. Confirming that verdict from the New York Times is this 23CD collection, encompassing all the recordings the ensemble made between 1996 and 2018. The Artemis Quartet began life in 1989 and developed a particular reputation in the central Austro-German repertoire. If Beethoven justly asserts a powerful presence, the scope of this collection extends as far as Eastern Europe and South America and well into the 20th century. Over the period of nearly a quarter of a century documented in this box, there were changes in the Artemis Quartet's lineup, but as founding cellist Eckart Runge explains, this brought new inspiration - an opportunity to broaden horizons and introduce fresh ideas. The ensemble suffered a tragic loss with the untimely death of violist Friedemann Weigle in 2015. Just days earlier, the Artemis had completed a recording of Dvořák's lyrical and poignant 'American' Quartet; it is now released for the very first time. This landmark box is completed by a comprehensive booklet which includes reminiscences from members of the Artemis Quartet and from sound engineers who collaborated with them. | | | | | | |

| Behind the new multinational band Atlantis Drive is the German guitarist Markus Pfeffer (Barnabas Sky, Lazarus Dream). With the aim of celebrating and reviving the melodic rock sound of the 80s, he embarks on a musical journey together with vocal legend Mark Boals (Ring Of Fire, Shining Black, ex-Yngwie Malmsteen's Rising Force), French keyboardist Jorris Guilbaud (Devoid, Heart Line) and drummer Markus Kullmann (Glenn Hughes, Sinner, Voodoo Circle). Beyond short-lived trends, Atlantis Drive stylistically celebrates the spirit of the 80s with thick keyboards full of hooklines, groovy guitar riffs, filigree solos, catchy choruses and bombastic vocal arrangements. Mark Boals hasn't been heard in such a melodic context for a long time and those who know him mainly from neoclassical bands and projects will be very positively surprised by the incredibly catchy hooklines and choruses that he conjures out of the hat with Atlantis Drive. In terms of content, the lyrics, which are really worth listening to, cover a wide range of topics, ranging from nostalgic retrospectives (Way Back When), belief in oneself (Faith), one's own finiteness (Time, Curtain Falls) and betrayal (Medusa Smile) to the missing of our musical heroes in the eight-and-a-half-minute final epic Heroes. Both Mozart and Strauss wrote exquisitely for the soprano voice and Sabine Deviellhe, with pianist Mathieu Pordoy, has assembled a beautifully balanced programme of their songs. Among them is Strauss's sublime 'morgen', which brings a guest appearance by violinist Vilde Frang. When Deviellhe and Pordoy performed Mozart and Strauss at London's Wigmore Hall, The Spectator wrote of a heart-stopping soprano who made the songs sound dewy-fresh. Her voice picked up and outlined each word; long lines sounded spontaneous but wholly considered. The clarity and the lightly worn self-awareness of Deviellhe's singing made for a seductive combination. | | | | | | |

Tenacity, talent, a deep passion for all types of music and great technical prowess have brought him to the forefront of the European and international jazz scene. Critics speak of him as a true revelation, in France as a blessing. The enthusiastic, triumphant tone used by the press to describe the characteristics of Giuliani's playing stems directly from the particular sound he creates. With nonchalance, he draws from his instruments a fluid, sometimes dazzling phrasing that naturally brings him closer to the great saxophonists of jazz history. E Hayes,Louis__Artform Revisited Savant 633842221823 $16.98 120 Jazz
NEA Jazz Master Louis Hayes certainly personifies the term living history. Born in Detroit, Hayes packed up his drum set and caught a train east, arriving in New York City in 1956 to join the Horace Silver Quintet. In 1959 he joined the Cannonball Adderley band, finding himself, in his early 20s, at the nerve center of the jazz world. He would visit John Coltrane in his apartment and was to make several justly famous recordings with him. Over the next 60 years Hayes amassed an impressive body of work, playing and recording with Oscar Peterson, Dexter Gordon, Grant Green, Kenny Burrell, Cedar Walton, Sonny Rollins, Woody Shaw and countless others. His latest recording on Savant, Artform Revisited, may fondly recall some of Hayes' old friends, but it also stands on the summit of today's post-bop sessions. Surrounded by his recording band of choice, Hayes' vibrant and colorful drumming supports a carefully chosen set list. Two new compositions by Hayes are featured along with some Charlie Parker tunes, the John Lewis version of Milestones and the beautiful but seldom-heard Bobby Troup ballad, You're Looking at Me. Through it all, Hayes proves himself to not just a great drummer, but also a gifted and charismatic leader, inspiring his players to give their best and delivering performances born of his vast experience and exhibiting the mutual respect of all those concerned.

E Kautz,Alex__Where We Begin Sunnyside 016728173322 $16.98 120 Jazz
As drummer Alex Kautz sees it, there are two parts to his musical brain: the Brazilian side, developed while growing up in São Paulo, and the jazz side, which came later, opening his ears to a wide world of musical possibilities. Those two approaches developed separately for Kautz and were initially fueled by different inspirations. Upon moving to New York City in 2007, though, he found a musical community that encouraged both, soon pushing him to new heights. New York makes you find your uniqueness as a musician, Kautz explains. You really need to find a voice to fit. There are so many people playing so well and so many artists with their own ideas. Kautz's approach to drumming now manifests his popular and traditional Brazilian influences and his jazz experience-steeped in foundational greats like Roy Haynes, Elvin Jones, and Tony Williams-as well as the intrepid melding of those worlds found in the music of Airto Moreira. His work as a side musician reflects his varied interests, and since embedding himself in the New York scene, Kautz has landed gigs drumming alongside artists including Tim Ries, Magos Herrera, Nilson Matta, Chico Pinheiro, Lenny Andrade, Fabio Gouvea, Steve Wilson and Michael Rodrigues among others. On Where We Begin, the drummer's debut recording as a bandleader, Kautz has assembled a band that includes saxophonist John Ellis, pianist Helio Alves, bassist Joe Martin, and his frequent collaborator Chico Pinheiro on guitar. Vocalist Magos Herrera-with whom Kautz has worked extensively-serves as co-producer and contributes vocals on two tracks. Together, the ensemble explores the musical common ground between New York's jazz and Brazilian musical communities. Sometimes it goes more jazz and sometimes more Brazilian, he says of the record. Without changing anyone's sound, we found a way to play within the different influences of different cultures. He attributes this to each of these veteran musicians' openness and adds, Within the jazz language, everything can come together. The ensemble proves themselves to be a well-oiled syncopation machine from the thrilling twists and turns of opener Chorinho, by keyboardist Lyle Mays. It's fast, fluid unison melody is delivered with laser focus by Pinheiro's guitar and Ellis' clarinet. Not far behind them, Alves delivers funky stabs on his electric piano, bridging the lead voices and the energetic, bouncy pulse issued by Martin and Kautz. A pair of solos from Pinheiro and Alves briskly navigate the high-speed hairpin turns of this exhilarating opening statement. More importantly, though, Chorinho serves as a thesis for Where We Begin: It's a Brazilian thing mixed with something else, Kautz explains. This is the idea for the project, to be in and out of jazz and Brazilian all the time. As Kautz's debut recording as a leader, the title of Where We Begin can be taken literally. But the album far exceeds that limitation. Across eight tracks, Kautz and company paint a colorful picture of a bridge between contemporary jazz and Brazilian pop and folk styles. On Where We Begin, Kautz presents a musical voice developed over his lifelong musical journey and promises there's much more to come. -Liner Note by Nick Millevoi

E Kokoko__Butu Transgressive 5400863155896 $14.98 30 Electronic
Pioneers of Kinshasa's sonic revolution, Kokoko! Have captivated global audiences with their striking sonics and energetic performances since 2017. Their accolades include best live band award by AIF, NPR Tiny Desk and Boiler Room slots, appearances at festivals including All Points East, SXSW, Green Man and Pitchfork Festival, and a placement on the Grand Theft Auto and FIFA soundtracks. Their critically acclaimed debut album Fongola achieved global praise, with DJ Mag labelling it quite unlike anything else you'll hear, while The Guardian called the group a commanding new voice. The Congolese city of Kinshasa's after-dark buzz was the inspiration behind their sophomore album, BUTU, which means 'the night' in Lingala, and the experimental record dives deep into the heart of the chaotic place, celebrating the joyful and creative spirit of it's inhabitants. With vocalist Makara Bianco at the helm and production from Xavier Thomas, AKA Débruit, this follow-up to Fongola finds the group channelling a more electronic, upbeat sound. BUTU is a replication of the frenetic feel of that dynamic nightlife - equipment being pushed to it's limit, via saturated and distorted speakers, or the sonic push and pull of sounds after dark.

Their thunderous seventh studio album Decimator has all the old-school trademarks the band is praised for: crushing guitar riffs, barbwire vocals and a more powerful songwriting than ever before. It's the perfect combination of classic 80s metal and caustic thrash sensibilities, dragged kicking and screaming into the modern age. On 5th of July 2024 Decimator will be released as limited orange vinyl, as black vinyl and Jewel Case-CD. Be prepared for this sonic armageddon and crank it up to the max!

E Les Siecles__Les Siecles Au Theatre Des Champs-Elysees Harmonia Mundi 3149020950814 $23.98 30 Classical Vocals
To celebrate their 20th anniversary in style, Les Siècles and François-Xavier Roth have chosen to dazzle us with the distinctive colors of late nineteenth and early twentieth century Paris. This concert, recorded in the legendary surroundings of the Théâtre des Champs-Élysées, explores shimmering orchestral works by Debussy, Lalo, Dukas and Roussel.

E Lynch,George__Kill All Control Deadline Music 889466591723 $11.98 300 Rock
A muscular reissue of the 2011 album from guitar-slaying giant, George Lynch! This heavy and aggressive slab of melodic metal features guest vocals from Bulletboys frontman Marq Torien, Brides Of Destruction singer London LeGrand and others! Digitally remastered and packaged in all new artwork with bonus tracks!

E Marriner,Neville__Marriner: Complete Warner Classics Recordings Warner Classics 5054197762765 $274.98 50 Orchestral&Symphonic
The man is simply a legend, wrote The Guardian on the occasion of Sir Neville Marriner's 90th birthday in 2014. After his death in 2016 it celebrated a life of music-making of the highest quality that gave pleasure to many. Over his long career, Marriner built a substantial and admired discography, becoming one of the most-recorded and best-selling conductors of all time. He is associated above all with the Academy of St Martin in the Fields, the chamber orchestra he founded with a group of colleagues in 1958. Prominent in this richly varied collection, the Academy consistently embodies a fresh and stylish spirit that proved transformational in Baroque and Classical repertoire and illuminated music from the 19th and 20th centuries. Marriner's distinction and influence as a conductor is further demonstrated by recordings he made with the Radio-Sinfonieorchester Stuttgart, Staatskapelle Dresden, London Symphony Orchestra, Northern Sinfonia, Los Angeles Chamber Orchestra and Minnesota Orchestra.

E Martin, Royce__Memories On Morgan Street: Scott Joplin Reimagined Rivermont 620953684029 $20.98 50 Jazz
There is something magical about hearing a well-loved piece of music interpreted in a way that rekindles the joy and exhilaration of hearing it for the first time. In his approach to the music of Scott Joplin, composer and pianist Royce Martin has positioned himself at the fore of a new ragtime vanguard. Drawing inspiration from gospel, jazz, classical, and even hip-hop, Martin re-imagines Joplin's music in a variety of moods, from poignant, heartfelt, and introspective; to playful and humorous; to brimming with joyful, youthful exuberance. Martin's virtuosic rag-bop interpretations never lose sight of Joplin's melodic genius or the rhythmic drive that animates the best ragtime. In addition to 12 piano solos, this deluxe 2-CD edition of the album includes several audio drama vignettes depicting imagined scenes from Joplin's life and beyond, and the original rap song Rags to Riches, which incorporates Joplin's The Entertainer. Recorded in the Scott Joplin House State Historic Site, St. Louis, Missouri. 16 tracks. 69 minutes. Includes liner notes by the artist.

E Moore, Vinnie__Double Exposure Cleopatra 889466581922 $14.98 300 Rock
The fiery 2022 album from guitar phenom known for his blazing work with classic rock gods UFO, Vinnie Moore! This mostly instrumental album spotlights Moore's incredible gift for melody and composition and includes supporting acts such as keyboardist Mike DiMeo (Riot), bassist Peter Griffin (Generation Axe), drummer Richie Monica (Tantric), and more!

D Munchner Philharmoniker__Franck: Symphony In D Minor Debussy: Trois Munchner Philharmoniker 754523560465 $21.99 50 Classical Vocals
This release from the archive of the Munich Philharmonic honours two iconic works from the repertoire of French symphonic music of the late 19th century: César Franck's Symphony in D minor and Claude Debussy's Nocturnes. Franck's only symphony testifies to grandeur and French elegance, while Debussy's Nocturnes capture the special atmosphere of the night with all its twilight colours and movements. In the remastered concert recordings from 1991 and 1983, legendary conductor Sergiu Celibidache interprets the two masterpieces with all their drama and finesse.

E Orlinski, Jakub Jozef__Gluck: Orfeo Et Euridice Erato 5054197897535 $19.98 125 Orchestral & Symphonic
Orfeo in Gluck's opera Orfeo & Euridice has become a signature role for Jakub Józef Orli ski on stages around the world. Now the countertenor embodies the mythical Greek bard in a recording that for him is the realisation of a dream. Made in his native Warsaw, it is conducted by the dynamic Stefan Plewniak and the instrumentalists and chorus are drawn from his ensemble Il Giardino d'Amore. The roles of Orfeo's wife Euridice and the god Amore are taken by two further rising stars of the opera and concert stage: the sopranos Elsa Dreisig and Fatma Said. Orlinski has acted as producer, casting director, and, with Stefan Plewniak, joint artistic director of the recording. One of my great dreams as a student was to sing the role of Orfeo, says Orlinski, and now I've been lucky enough to perform Orfeo & Euridice in different settings... Working on those different versions I achieved my very own interpretation. I knew that I would love to create my own personal version of the piece, to record my dream role, expressing myself in the way I wanted... I had a clear vision of what I wanted to do with it and how. The most important thing for me as a musician is to have great collaborators, and I couldn't imagine a better team. Everyone was so willing to make the most of every single take during our long recording sessions. I am really grateful that I can work with people with so much passion... And now I invite you to follow Orfeo on his journey and listen to what the power of love can do.

E Pahud, Emmanuel__Mozart Stories Warner Classics 5054197893520 $18.98 125 Classical Vocals
Mozart is the reason why I became a musician, says flautist Emmanuel Pahud, who - like Mozart - was born on January 27th. He first became captivated by the composer's music when he was just five years old. In the words of the Baltimore Sun he plays it with an astonishing array of subtly moulded sounds, superb breath control, flawless articulation and, above all, consistently eloquent phrasing. With pianist Éric Le Sage, Pahud performs several Sonatas, which Mozart originally composed for violin and piano.

E Pappano, Antonio__Complete Symphonic Concertante & Warner Classics 5054197793073 $99.98 125 Classical Vocals
The collaborative efforts, the mutual emulation and inspiration of Sir Antonio Pappano and the Accademia Nazionale di Santa Cecilia in Rome have spanned 18 years, led to one of the world's greatest and most versatile virtuoso ensembles and to acclaimed live and studio recordings showcasing an eclectic selection of symphonic and choral music. Their repertoire features already legendary performances of Verdi's Requiem and Quattro pezzi sacri. In addition, their recording of Bruckner's 8th Symphony features here for the very first time! This box brings together all the recordings that the British conductor Sir Antonio Pappano (b.1959) made with the Orchestra dell'Accademia Nazionale di Santa Cecilia in the years from 2005 to 2022 for Warner Classics.

E Pauly, Adrienne__Et Comment Tu Trouves Que Je Me Trouve Kuroneko 3700398729749 $20.98 15 Int'l & World Music
It's been 6 years since we last heard from Adrienne Pauly. 6 years is both long and short, the time it took for her songs to mature and mature enough to be released, to be offered to us. This 3rd album is a personal work, in which Adrienne confides in us with poetry, and draws us into her universe, at once immediately identifiable and yet so very different. It's an album that features long-time companions Gaby Concato (Melissa Mars, Jacques Dutronc, Vanessa Paradis) and Axel Concato (PY JA MA), as well as the soul of the Stranglers, Jean-Jacques Burnel. This album marks the return of fantasy to French chanson from an artist who is always off the beaten track. The actress/singer enjoyed her first musical success in 2006 with her debut album, supported by the singles 'La fille du prisunic' and above all 'J'veux un mec'. These earned her a nomination that same year at the Victoires de la Musique awards in the Album Revelation of the Year and Artist of the Year categories.

D Pletnev, Mikhail__Rachmaninoff: Piano Concertos & Paganini Rhapsody Euroarts 880242473479 $24.98 50 Classical Vocals
Mikhail Pletnev and the newly formed Rachmaninoff International Orchestra (RIO) performed under the baton of Kent Nagano all four Rachmaninoff piano concertos and the Rhapsody on a Theme of Paganini in October 2023.

D Pluhar, Christina__Wonder Women Erato 5054197959165 $19.98 100 Orchestral & Symphonic
The new opus Wonder Women by L'Arpeggiata and Christina Pluhar is dedicated to women. On the one hand, it is a homage to all the wonderful female composers of the 17th century, but also to all the talented female musicians of all times who too often had to hide their talent behind their husbands or give up their careers too early. On the other hand, Christina Pluhar also draws her inspiration from the traditional music of South America and Italy and looked for songs that tell stories about extraordinary, strong, courageous but also sad women. First and foremost is the wonderful Mexican song La Bruja (The Witch), which symbolizes the freedom of all women at all times and in all cultures. Celebrate women in all their facets and with all their talents together with Luciana Mancini, Céline Scheen, Benedetta Mazzucato, Vincenzo Capezzuto, Christina Pluhar and L'Arpeggiata!

E Pontier, Aurelien__Vienna: Joyful Apocalypse Warner Classics 5054197633492 $18.98 50 Classical Vocals
A veritable musical metaphor for the suicide of Europe that was the Great War, both apotheosis and apocalypse. We also hear evocations of Schubert, Liszt, Mahler and Kreisler, all imbued with a kind of nostalgia that belongs only to this mythical city. - Aurélien Pontier Dedicated to the last years of Imperial Vienna, which gave rise to an artistic effervescence unique in European history. The program opens with a piano transcription of Strauss's Die Fledermaus and ends with Ravel's La Valse.

D Rotin, Jean-Michel__Une Histoire De Musquie : History Groov Kuroneko 3045052301047 $23.98 8 Int'l & World Music
Discovered through the group Emery, he is an iconic artist on the Afro-Caribbean scene. His success can be heard as far afield as Africa. He is the author and composer of the famous Lé ou Lov, known to all, as well as many essential hits on the zouk planet. A style, a voice, an unusual look for the man who is regarded as the custodian of Zouk RNB. He is also behind the launch of artists such as Kaysha, Alexandre Junrel, Rockemza... History Groov' retraces Jean Michel Rotin's incredible discography! We're expecting a book, a new album and an autobiography book at the end of the album.

| E | Sabaton__Heroes 10Th Anniversary | Nuclear Blast | 4065629728823 | $14.98 | 400 | Rock |
| Sabaton's breakthrough album Heroes was originally released in 2014. Musically the album struck the metal scene like a fighter aircraft from the clear sky. After serving some ultra-catchy, more traditional Sabaton epics, this Falun-quintet dives into more unprecedented territory with songs such as powerful The Ballad Of Bull, Western-movie themed To Hell And Back and guitar-driven Resist And Bite - the latter one being some of the most up-to-date performances on the endlessly vibrant album. As a whole, Heroes serves compelling mixture of epic metal anthems, carried out by ultra-powerful guitar riffs, pounding drums, catchy choruses, rough-meets-melody kind of vocals and incomparable solos - not forgetting the totally new level of intensity and bombastic sound quality, thanks to a world-famous producer and Sabaton's long-time guardian angel Peter Tägtgren. Heroes definitely introduced Sabaton more varied and dynamically wider than ever before, but at the same time, the fresh-sounding record still possess every imaginable element that you may expect from these heroic northmen. | | | | | | |
| E | Sawallisch,Wolfgang__Complete Symphonic Lieder & Choral Recordings | Warner Classics | 5054197832178 | $199.98 | 125 | Classical Vocals |
| For five decades Wolfgang Sawallisch (1923-2013) held a central position in the musical world. That centrality was reflected in a series of top orchestral and operatic posts and in his interpretations, free of self-regarding eccentricities. His modest but highly effective conducting technique also made him the ideal recording artist. Sawallisch was a Bavarian born in Munich, city of orchestras and a great opera company, which he headed for 21 years. He started his career as an outstanding pianist and remained a sought-after accompanist to great Lieder singers and instrumentalists. Volume 1 of a complete conspectus of his Warner Classics recordings (made for Electrola and EMI Classics between 1954 to 1997) includes wonderful Lieder and song collaborations, as well as famous concerto accompaniments for eminent soloists and a heartwarming traversal of Schubert's secular vocal and sacred choral music with Bavarian Radio colleagues. But the main focus among the 65 discs is on his symphonic achievements: Beethoven, Schumann, Mendelssohn, Brahms, Bruckner and Dvořák - the latter's Eighth Symphony was his first published recording, from 1954. Richard Strauss, an early influence, is strongly represented. This 65CD-box brings together all the non-operatic recordings that the German conductor and pianist Wolfgang Sawallisch (1923-2013) made in the years from 1954 to 1997 for EMI Classics and Electrola (now Warner Classics). | | | | | | |
| E | Shani,Lahav__Bruckner: Symphony No.5 | Warner Classics | 5054197792014 | $18.98 | 50 | Classical Vocals |
| This is as fine a recorded account... as I've heard for some time, both in terms of Lahav Shani's conception of the music and it's realisation on the orchestra. It's a performance that grows movement by movement, stable of pulse, yet flexible and free-flowing within the boundaries of the larger whole. Gramophone was full of praise for the Rotterdam Philharmonic Orchestra's recording, released in 2023, of Bruckner's epic Symphony No 7. Now the Dutch orchestra and it's chief conductor have recorded Bruckner's Symphony No 5. As Lahav Shani told Gramophone in an interview devoted to Bruckner: His music has a sense not only of looking back and encompassing the history of music, but also very much looking forward and seeing the future... One can talk about Bruckner's relationship with religion, with God, and with spirituality - and perhaps this has the most influence on the atmosphere of the music - but there are also beautiful melodic lines and a sense of cantabile and continuation... I never try to impose a specific interpretation... I much prefer to let the music flow and develop and change... There is no right or wrong. Bruckner is not here for us to ask if he meant this or if he meant something else. He wrote music that is so much beyond these things, music that conveys such deep human emotion. | | | | | | |

| E | Tharaud,Alexandre__Four Hands | Erato | 5054197933523 | $18.98 | 175 | Orchestral & Symphonic |
| This was something I'd had in mind for a long time... says pianist Alexandre Tharaud, to put together an album for the sheer pleasure of it, in collaboration with dear friends and paying tribute to the wonders of the piano duet repertoire. The aptly named 4 Hands offers 18 tracks, each just a few minutes in length, each featuring Tharaud sharing a piano keyboard with a different partner. The repertoire ranges wide - from Bach to Glass by way of such composers as Schubert, Tchaikovsky, Grieg, Fauré, Satie, Debussy, Ravel, Rachmaninov, Ravel and Piazzolla. 15 of Tharaud's fellow performers are celebrated pianists - among them the late Nicholas Angelich, Mariam Batsashvili, Bertrand Chamayou, David Fray, Vikingur Ólafsson and Beatrice Rana. The other three, all stars in their musical fields, are shown in a new, pianistic light: cellist Gautier Capuçon, countertenor Philippe Jaroussky and singer-songwriter Juliette. The piano duet is one of life's miracles, continues Tharaud. First and foremost, it is the most intimate way of playing chamber music... It was a joy to record this album... If hearing these pieces prompts people to buy some sheet music and enjoy playing duets together - just as we did in the recording studio - then I will have achieved my aim. | | | | | | |

| Universe was founded in Sweden in 1982. After leaving the band Moon, lead guitarist Michael Kling was one of the founding members, bassist Hasse Hagman, who played together with drummer Anders Wetterström and guitarist Per Nilsson in Joey Tempest's first band, all came from the band Twilight. Keyboarder Fredrik Kriström and singer Kjell Wallen completed the band. The band disbanded at the beginning of 1988, the band members appeared here and there in different musical contexts. In 2002, all members met for the first time in 14 years. At first UNIVERSE lacked a vocalist, but suddenly one day Andreas Eklund (ex-House Of Shakira) was there. His narrative lyrics and tasteful melodies opened the door to another musical dimension. In 2018 they return with Rock Is Alive. Now finally the 3rd album and the band is eager to play the new songs and the old classics at the concerts. Artist Origin: Sweden Tracklist: 1. I Am, 2. To Serve And Protect, 3. | E | Xasthur__Disharmonic Variations | Prophecy | 884388872028 | $33.98 | 40 | Rock |
| Some guys have all the luck. Xasthur founder Scott Conner sure ain't one of them. The always open wound of his life suppurates in a constant flow of sonic blood into and out of his latest album Disharmonic Variations. The thirteen bitter, painful, dirt-stained, and sometimes even hopeful tracks sure ain't pretty Goldberg Variations either. Rather the title Disharmonic Variations serves as both the program and the message. Music is not just what Scott does. He does not lead a picture book life. There is only music. Scott does not write and record just 8 songs a year. He makes music 24/7 on his own time and in his own way. Scott does it analogue, in the hard old-fashioned way, with his gear and instruments piled up in the room where he stays at the time. In this musical flow of consciousness, this diary of an artist, all considerations of style are a luxury that Scott does not have. His current form of expression on Disharmonic Variations tends towards the acidic taste of American dark folk with one detour into ambient sound. There is no guarantee for the direction that Xasthur will take next. Whatever happens depends on what Scott feels. Xasthur were originally conceived by vocalist and multi-instrumentalist Scott Conner in the year 1995. Although started in the sunny state of California, USA, the project started out in the vein of bleak black metal of the Nordic second wave. In 2010, Scott announced the end of Xasthur and returned with an acoustic dark folk project under the banner of NOCTURNAL POISONING. In 2015, the American artist circled back to the name Xasthur, but insisted that his black metal days were over. On the previous release Inevitably Dark (2023), Xasthur have partly lifted the self-imposed ban on black metal, simply because Conner felt like it and therefore did it. With Disharmonic Variations, Xasthur deliver their next 'take it or leave it' recording. To Scott Conner it does not matter what other people think about his music. Curse him, praise him - he still only does what he wills and that remains his true artistic achievement. | | | | | | |

| E | Chamayou,Bertrand__Cage2 | Erato | 5021732253521 | $34.98 | 50 | Classical Vocals |
| CAGE2 is the title of Bertrand Chamayou's new album - he calls it the twin brother of his most recent Letter(s) to Erik Satie - both recorded at the Miraval studios. CAGE2 is also the title of a performance Bertrand Chamayou conceived with dancer and choreographer Elodie Sicard, featuring 12 pieces composed by John Cage for prepared piano, in the period between 1940 and 1945. John Cage wrote all the pieces of this album for dance solos: for the American dancer Syvilla Fort, for dancers and choreographers such as Valérie Bettis, Wilson Williams, Pearl Primus, Jean Erdman, but also for the terrific Merce Cunningham. Bertrand has also delivered brilliant booklet notes on Cage, the genesis of the prepared piano and the pieces themselves. | | | | | | |
| D | Desiderio,Erik__Last Epoch - O.S.T. | Laced Records | 5063176027818 | $54.98 | | Soundtrack |
| This epic loot sees the epoch-making score for time-hopping action RPG Last Epoch blessing heavyweight wax. 28 tracks chosen by composer Erik Desiderio have been specially mastered for vinyl and will be pressed onto heavyweight discs. These slip into a deluxe double gatefold sleeve with artwork by the team at Eleventh Hour Games. Desiderio had to cast his mind through time to soundtrack each of the game's four different epochs of Eterra, with the music of this release focusing mainly on the brighter Divine Era and the darker, apocalyptic Ruined Era. Most eras of the game have a natural, acoustic sound to them with more traditional instrumentation, while the Ruined Era focuses on warped synthetic and acoustic sounds. Over the course of the game's Early Access period, the composer was able to gather fan feedback, which in turn helped shape the final score. Some less well-known instruments and techniques colour the music. The sound of the lute helped capture the beauty of the world, while the scratchy, intense tagelharpa embodied the conflict of a war-torn land. In the Ruined Era, fretless bass guitar and expressive Ebow serve to create a sense of unease, with melodic material returning from earlier eras. Choral lyrics were sung in Old Norse, in particular on the Last Epoch Theme with it's stirring refrain Fyoern Owled (trans. Ancient Era). Vocalists include Ffion Elisa, Colm McGuinness, Mason Lieberman and Matt Lambert. | | | | | | |

| Pioneers of Kinshasa's sonic revolution, Kokoko! Have captivated global audiences with their striking sonics and energetic performances since 2017. Their accolades include best live band award by AIF, NPR Tiny Desk and Boiler Room slots, appearances at festivals including All Points East, SXSW, Green Man and Pitchfork Festival, and a placement on the Grand Theft Auto and FIFA soundtracks. Their critically acclaimed debut album Fongola achieved global praise, with DJ Mag labelling it quite unlike anything else you'll hear, while The Guardian called the group a commanding new voice. The Congolese city of Kinshasa's after-dark buzz was the inspiration behind their sophomore album, BUTU, which means 'the night' in Lingala, and the experimental record dives deep into the heart of the chaotic place, celebrating the joyful and creative spirit of it's inhabitants. With vocalist Makara Bianco at the helm and production from Xavier Thomas, AKA Débruit, this follow-up to Fongola finds the group channelling a more electronic, upbeat sound. BUTU is a replication of the frenetic feel of that dynamic nightlife - equipment being pushed to it's limit, via saturated and distorted speakers, or the sonic push and pull of sounds after dark. | | | | | | |

| CLEAR VINYL 180g PRESSING. (Pressed by Optimal in Germany for superb fidelity.) There is something magical about hearing a well-loved piece of music interpreted in a way that rekindles the joy and exhilaration of hearing it for the first time. In his approach to the the music of Scott Joplin, composer and pianist Royce Martin has positioned himself at the fore of a new ragtime vanguard. Drawing inspiration from gospel, jazz, classical, and even hip-hop, Martin re-imagines Joplin's music in a variety of moods, from poignant, heartfelt, and introspective; to playful and humorous; to brimming with joyful, youthful exuberance. Martin's virtuosic rag-bop interpretations never lose sight of Joplin's melodic genius or the rhythmic drive that animates the best ragtime. Recorded in the Scott Joplin House State Historic Site, St. Louis, Missouri. 12 tracks. 51 minutes. Includes liner notes by the artist. | | | | | | |

Departure was critically lauded and is the best known album from the series, with especially high praise being reserved for Battlecry.The music of the Samurai Champloo anime series was created by a group of producers: Japanese hip-hop producer Tsutchie of the rap group Shakkazombie, American hip-hop producer & emcee Fat Jon of the rap group Five Deez, Japanese hip-hop producer Nujabes, and Japanese DJ & production duo Force Of Nature. The music genre is primarily instrumental hip-hop. | | | | | | |
| E | Pauly,Adrienne__Et Comment Tu Trouves Que Je Me Trouve | Kuroneko | 3700398729756 | $35.98 | 15 | Int'l & World Music |
| It's been 6 years since we last heard from Adrienne Pauly. 6 years is both long and short, the time it took for her songs to mature and mature enough to be released, to be offered to us. This 3rd album is a personal work, in which Adrienne confides in us with poetry, and draws us into her universe, at once immediately identifiable and yet so very different. It's an album that features long-time companions Gaby Concato (Melissa Mars, Jacques Dutronc, Vanessa Paradis) and Axel Concato (PY JA MA), as well as the soul of the Stranglers, Jean-Jacques Burnel. This album marks the return of fantasy to French chanson from an artist who is always off the beaten track. The actress/singer enjoyed her first musical success in 2006 with her debut album, supported by the singles 'La fille du prisunic' and above all 'J'veux un mec'. These earned her a nomination that same year at the Victoires de la Musique awards in the Album Revelation of the Year and Artist of the Year categories. | | | | | | |

| E | Sabatons__Heroes 10Th Anniversary - Trans Violet | Nuclear Blast | 727361333805 | $35.98 | 200 | Rock |
| Sabaton's breakthrough album Heroes was originally released in 2014. Musically the album struck the metal scene like a fighter aircraft from the clear sky. After serving some ultra-catchy, more traditional Sabaton epics, this Falun-quintet dives into more unprecedented territory with songs such as powerful The Ballad Of Bull, Western-movie themed To Hell And Back and guitar-driven Resist And Bite - the latter one being some of the most up-to-date performances on the endlessly vibrant album. As a whole, Heroes serves compelling mixture of epic metal anthems, carried out by ultra-powerful guitar riffs, pounding drums, catchy choruses, rough-meets-melody kind of vocals and incomparable solos - not forgetting the totally new level of intensity and bombastic sound quality, thanks to a world-famous producer and Sabaton's long-time guardian angel Peter Tägtgren. Heroes definitely introduced Sabaton more varied and dynamically wider than ever before, but at the same time, the fresh-sounding record still possess every imaginable element that you may expect from these heroic northmen. Double LP, Gatefold, contains bonus tracks, Trans Violet | | | | | | |

| Sun Ra Arkestra, Live in Japan!Recorded at Shinjuku Pit Inn on August 8, 1988, this recording has undergone fresh remastering from the master tape, marking the first reissue in 36 years!!In the 1980s, Sun Ra Arkestra actively engaged in a global tour.After concluding their tours of the United States and Europe that began in the spring of 1988, they made their first visit to Japan on July 30. At this time, Sun Ra was 74 years old. After completing five performances across Japan, the tour's final show took place on August 8th at Shinjuku Pit Inn.During this Japanese performance, Sun Ra Arkestra delivered a remarkable performance, showcasing big band jazz, including standard tunes. The concert was characterized by intricate arrangements, individual virtuosity of each player, and a telepathic unity within the band. The performance was truly memorable, reminiscent of their peak era, as it demonstrated the mysterious space music through the sound vibrations of Sun Ra, the 'mythical scientist of sound': Sun Ra Arkestra:Sun Ra: piano, synthesizer, vocalsAhmed Abdullah: trumpetTyrone Hill: tromboneMarshall Allen: alto sax, flute, percussionDanny Ray Thompson: baritone sax, percussionEloe Omoe [Leroy Taylor]: alto sax, bass clarinet, contra-alto clarinet, percussionJune Tyson: violin, vocalsBruce Edwards: electric guitarRollo Radford: electric bassSamarai Celestial [Eric Walker]: drumsEarl 'Buster' Smith: drumsTracklist:Side A1. | D | Taisong__Satsuma Kid | Lifeness Recordings | 4582725173567 | $48.98 | | J-Pop |
| Southern Kyushu is the long-awaited analog version of the latest work by Taisong, a traveling rapper representing Kagoshima. The title is 'satsuma Kid'. Contains 10 songs carefully selected from a total of 18 songs. Satsuma is Kagoshima/Satsuma Peninsula in that era. Yasutake, who was born in this area, paid respect to those movies and novels, and this work is a work that represents Kagoshima, and is filled with confidence, determination, and humor. This work marks a turning point in his career as an artist, and while he was forced to suspend his live performances, which is his most attractive feature, after he was found with a polyp in his throat, this work was created with his family and friends, and is filled with SOUL. A full-fledged album. Unlike the previous work, the producers have chosen a wide range of people to fully support Yasutake. Just like the CD album, it begins with a chat with the solitary guitarist SOU, sings about traveling with PENTAXX. B. F, and then an encounter with Japan's best singer JUNNOS. The title of the album is with Mr. OWLBEATS, a beat craftsman representing local Kagoshima, and the song with Hiato, also from Kagoshima Hioki, boldly samples that hardcore band. The song with ally MAHBIE invites Hyuga singer Mr. hou and is led by a gentle and divine voice that will move your heart. With Saga's CogaAtsushi, he sings about trials as a rapper, writes about the present and future with his children, and sings about how the days will continue. The 18th song soulfully sings a coelacanth and the encounter between a centennial tree and an old folk house as a new home for a new family, with the spiritual sound of Mr. Michita, who fully produced the previous album, and the new lifestyle of Taison. This work closes with the opening. Rapper Taison is probably one of the only rappers who expresses the real words of his family, friends, and encounters and experiences from his travels into his music as kotodama. Born in Hioki, a town where the sun sets in Kagoshima, Kyushu, this album is a heartwarming work that can be recommended as an album that can be listened to with family, friends, and colleagues in the current era of commercial music. The artwork for this work is the masterpiece 'One More Cup of Coffee' by Naoto Yamakawa, a manga artist known for his distinctive drawing style. E Xasthur__Disharmonic Variations Prophecy 884388872035 $30.98 50 Rock
Some guys have all the luck. Xasthur founder Scott Conner sure ain't one of them. The always open wound of his life suppurates in a constant flow of sonic blood into and out of his latest album Disharmonic Variations. The thirteen bitter, painful, dirt-stained, and sometimes even hopeful tracks sure ain't pretty Goldberg Variations either. Rather the title Disharmonic Variations serves as both the program and the message. Music is not just what Scott does. He does not lead a picture book life. There is only music. Scott does not write and record just 8 songs a year. He makes music 24/7 on his own time and in his own way. Scott does it analogue, in the hard old-fashioned way, with his gear and instruments piled up in the room where he stays at the time. In this musical flow of consciousness, this diary of an artist, all considerations of style are a luxury that Scott does not have. His current form of expression on Disharmonic Variations tends towards the acidic taste of American dark folk with one detour into ambient sound. There is no guarantee for the direction that Xasthur will take next. Whatever happens depends on what Scott feels. Xasthur were originally conceived by vocalist and multi-instrumentalist Scott Conner in the year 1995. Although started in the sunny state of California, USA, the project started out in the vein of bleak black metal of the Nordic second wave. In 2010, Scott announced the end of Xasthur and returned with an acoustic dark folk project under the banner of NOCTURNAL POISONING. In 2015, the American artist circled back to the name Xasthur, but insisted that his black metal days were over. On the previous release Inevitably Dark (2023), Xasthur have partly lifted the self-imposed ban on black metal, simply because Conner felt like it and therefore did it. With Disharmonic Variations, Xasthur deliver their next 'take it or leave it' recording. To Scott Conner it does not matter what other people think about his music. Curse him, praise him - he still only does what he wills and that remains his true artistic achievement.

E Slayer__Repentless Killogy Nuclear Blast 727361419608 $19.98 100 Rock
Revenge, murder, bloodshed, and retribution, the Slayer Repentless Killogy is a perfectly packaged story reflecting these values that most look down upon. This is the story of Wyatt who used to run with the wrong crowd. Wyatt is a former Neo Nazi associated with a gang known as The Hand Brotherhood whose signature mark is a bloody handprint left after a murder had taken place. Wyatt left his gang after he fell in love with Gina, a woman who saved his life after a brush with death from those who wanted revenge on him and his gang. Wyatt and Gina go into hiding to start a family and escape his tarnished past. The Hand Brotherhood are not going to let this happen. The Repentless Killogy Short Film is the combination of music videos from Slayer's last full-length release Repentless, threaded through a film narrative that ends with Slayer performing a sold-out show at Los Angeles' iconic Forum. The 2-CD & vinyl formats The Repentless Killogy (Live at The Forum in Inglewood, CA) contain the entirety of the concert, consisting of 21 tracks

|---|------------------------------------------------------------|------------|--------------|---------|--|------|

Marking 35 Years Of Autopsy's Seminal 1989 Debut Of Highly Influential Death Metal. Presented On Limited Red/Black Gore Marble Vinyl, Including 4-Page Booklet. Surgeons Cover Artwork Edition. One of the early death metal acts, & no stranger to controversy over the years, Autopsy formed in 1987 in San Francisco, & released 4 albums on Peaceville Records before disbanding in 1995. Autopsy subsequently re-emerged after an almost 15-year hiatus with the 'the Tomb Within' EP, leading to a string of high-calibre releases, showing none of the fire had been extinguished, & continuing a longstanding & lasting legacy. The band features legendary drummer Chris Reifert, who began his recording career with US metal greats, Death, before taking on the unusual duty of handling drums & vocals for Autopsy, alongside longstanding riff-masters Eric Cutler & Danny Coralles. Autopsy has influenced a whole generation of extreme metal bands, from Entombed & Dismember to Darkthrone. 'severed Survival' is rightly hailed as one of death metal's finest releases; a completely rotten & uncompromising sound full of dirty, sludgy, death & doom metal mixed with repulsive tales of death & disease, festering ears & minds for 35 years. This special 35th anniversary limited pressing of Autopsy's seminal debut is presented on red/black gore marble vinyl, including four-page booklet with a new in-depth interview with the band conducted by Dennis Dread. The 'severed Survival' anniversary is marked by two versions; one featuring the original controversial hooks cover artwork (Kent Mathieu) which was initially banned & also a version containing the replacement surgeons cover (Kev Walker).
